

Patton Courier.

PATTON PUBLISHING CO., Proprietors.

THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1894.

NEWSPAPER LAW DECISIONS.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.
4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.
5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncollected for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it; otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

Tom and Ruth's Courtship.

An old-fashioned courtship
As ever you know,
No nonsense about it,
No unions add,
I'm know me from childhood,
I'd know him the same,
And so he just asked me
To alter my name.
And blushing, I answered
He mustly request,
"I'll do it if please you,
Whatever you think best,
I did not say to him,
As many would—No,
To let her take liberty
His patience would go.
No foolish negation
Attended our love,
He acted, I consented,
And his I am now,
And thus my companions,
Where love you best,
I asked the one question,
Say yes sir—or no.
No vain hesitation,
No summing them;
No asking probation
Of good honest men,
Yes, don't be forward,
No lady's hold;
But when love is pledged,
You cannot be cold.
And that was the manner
We courted and wed,
No whimsical dread,
But calm and collected,
Our hearts beat as one,
Of doubts and suspicions
Our spirits had none.
His friends are my neighbors,
And friends of his Ruth,
Were friends of my Thomas,
And known from our youth,
Thus knowing we loved them,
And they every soul,
Asked God that His blessing
Our lives might control.

The COURIER is glad to note that Dr. J. Harry McCormick, who has been confined to his bed for the past few days, is able to be around again.

Mrs. R. C. Bryson and little son, accompanied by her sister, Miss Smith, came over from Philadelphia last week and visited in Patton for a few days.
The Hastings Tribune of last week had the following: "Patton celebrated the Fourth of July with a big blow-out, which was a success in every particular."
An exchange says the country editor has enough to worry him these hard times without being bothered with letters from girls asking how to take grease out of an ascotian pleated skirt.

The contract for furnishing the lumber for the new school building was last week let to D. A. Luther, Jr., of Carrolltown. The order is a large one and there were many bidders, but Mr. Luther was the lowest.
The fire company building was somewhat twisted up last Friday caused by the severe wind storm. The lower front part of the building gave way, but was soon put in place again by the members of the company.

The Bellwood Bulletin has an advertisement in last week's issue which read as follows: "Whiskey can now be obtained at the Meadville house at 5 cents per glass; beer two glasses for a nickel." Hard time prices are.

A representative of a western railroad was in Bellwood this week hiring men to work on railroads. He wants engineers, firemen and brakemen and we understand that he succeeded fairly well in Bellwood, securing a number of men.—Bellwood Bulletin.

An Indiana minister inadvertently made an announcement like this: "There will be services this afternoon at 3 o'clock at St. Ann's in the East End; there will also be services at 4 o'clock at St. Mary's in the West End. Infants will be baptized at both ends."
The applications for positions as school teacher in the public schools of this county are more numerous this year than usual, no less than 208 having been examined up to Tuesday evening and the examinations not being nearly finished.—Ebensburg Mountaineer.

Mrs. Geo. W. Swank, of this place, whom we gave mention several weeks ago as being seriously ill with erysipelas, is now confined to her bed with entero colitis of the bowels. Dr. Murray, who was called in consultation on Sunday evening, reports her case as somewhat serious.
Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, of Huntingdon, W. Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christie, of Gallitzin, visited Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mellor last week. Mrs. Stewart's father, John C. McGuire, was the very first settler in this place. He built the old Marks grist mill and was the founder of several other land marks in Patton.

Miss Lottie M. Unger, of Reading, Pa., visited friends in Punxsutawney and this place during her two weeks' vacation commencing July 1st. The Reading Eagle says: "Miss Unger is a young and talented musician and is held in high esteem by the different denominations where she is employed as organist."
On Monday of last week Dr. Rice, of Hastings, assisted by Drs. Bennett and Worrell, performed a remarkable operation on Mr. Jas. Kingston, of Irvonia, for the relief of a necrosis of the ribs and breast bone. The operation was extremely severe, entailing the removal of a portion of one rib and a deep incision into the chest. The patient is doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Comerford, of Loretto, have returned home after having spent several days visiting their daughter, Mrs. D. A. Buck, of Fifth avenue. During their visit the COURIER representative had the pleasure of listening to a number of piano selections by Mrs. Comerford. She is a rare performer on that instrument having received her musical education from the best instructors in France and it was indeed a treat to be able to listen to an artist of such ability.

List of Unclaimed Letters.
The following letters remain in the postoffice at Patton for the week ending Saturday, July 14, 1894:
Messrs. Drennon & Co., Miss Ella Kritzer, Mrs. Wm. Manning, James N. Smith, Edward Greenaway, Wm. Powell, W. Parcell, R. D. McNamara, (2).
Persons calling for the above letters will please say they are advertised.
E. A. MELLON, P. M.
Fine Photograph.

The different views of Patton on the 4th of July, taken by Photographer Patsch, of Carrolltown, are very fine and better work could not have been done if a man had been procured from any large place. The pictures are on sale at the COURIER office.

Mill Hall Burned.
Mill Hall a thriving little town of Clinton county, was visited by one of the biggest fires in the history of the county Sunday. At 12:30 an alarm of fire was given and all the people of the borough turned out. The town has no water works nor an organized fire department, therefore the place was left in a bad way. The fire was first discovered in a stable. A few minutes after it had broken out the whole stable was enveloped in flames and the efforts to extinguish them were ineffectual. The fire soon spread from building to building. The Lock Haven fire company was telephoned for and soon appeared, but not in time to save much property. Forty-three buildings were consumed. The loss is estimated at about $50,000. There was about $16,000 insurance. Quite a number of people are left homeless.

Again there is considerable stealing done in and around Patton. This week two calves belonging to John B. Overberger were slain in his fields and the meat stolen leaving the hides lying on the ground. Wm. Kartheim also had two calves stolen in the same manner and two sheep were taken from the slaughter house of P. P. Young & Bro. All the meat, butter and other eatables belonging to Hugh Hagan and Mr. Kritzer were taken out of their spring houses and other parties have been visited by these thieves in the past two weeks. They have even dug up potatoes out of the ground for several people in Patton and on the farm of Mr. Strittmatter, who lives south of town. It is time these people were caught and made an example of.

The COURIER Remembered.
Again the COURIER representative is indebted to Mrs. Dosey Myers for a quantity of her delicious ice cream. Since having located in Patton Mrs. Myers has constantly endeavored to please her patrons by serving to them only the daintiest and most palatable home-made cream to be found anywhere and that she has been eminently successful is attested by her large and increasing patronage. Mrs. Myers has one of the most delightful locations to be found in Patton and the pleasant interior makes it a most inviting retreat in sultry weather, a fact that is duly appreciated by the public and one they have been quick to take advantage of.

Cambria People's Party.
The People's party of Cambria county, which met in convention at Gallitzin recently, consisted of but twenty-three delegates out of a possible 148, who nominated the following candidates: Alex. Lang, of South Fork, and James W. Kilduff, of Gallitzin, for assembly; J. S. Weeks, of South Fork, for sheriff; Ira Bloom, of Cambria township, for poorhouse director, and Jacob Buck, of Allegheny township, for jury commissioner.—Ebensburg Herald.

Joe. M. Howells died at his home in Gallitzin on last Tuesday evening, aged 41 years. Mr. Howells had been a resident of Gallitzin all his life, his parents having formerly lived there. He is survived by his wife and four children, his parents, and the following brothers and sisters: Fannie M., of Gallitzin; Mrs. James Lyman, Jas. B., Geo. H., Ada, and Elwood, of Altoona. He was a member of the Independent cornet band of that place and also the Sons of Veterans. Both societies turned out at his funeral.

Wagon Shed Burned.
A wagon shed on the farm of Thos. Miller near Chest Springs was burned to the ground on the night of the 4th. The family were at Chest Springs attending festivities of the day and knew nothing of the fire until their return. The shed was a large one and was used to store all the farm machinery. Mr. Miller lost, besides the building, a mowing machine, wagon, plows, harrows, etc. The fire is supposed to have been of an incendiary origin.—Carrolltown News.

Lucky Teachers.
In the recent teachers' coupon contest for trips offered by the Pittsburg Times two Cambria county teachers are among the lucky winners, Miss Kate Higson, of Johnstown, having received 21,793 votes and Miss Ella Barnett, of South Fork, 16,892. Among other Cambria county teachers who ran a large vote were Miss Annie M. Jones, Ebensburg, with 1,037; Miss Mary Kinkead, Johnstown, with 8,402 and Miss Allie Lloyd, Ebensburg, with 2,799.

Drowned at Renovo.
James Henry Chamberlain, aged 25 years, of Akron, O., was drowned while bathing in the river at Renovo Monday night about 9 o'clock. It is supposed he was taken with cramp, as he called for help, and before it was possible for help to reach him he sank for the last time. The body was recovered in less than half an hour after the accident occurred.—Lock Haven Express.

Thanks.
I wish to express thanks to the neighbors, friends and the Knights of Golden Eagles and Knights of Pythias for their kindness shown at the death and funeral of my husband.
