HOW SHALL THE CHILD LEARN?
The New York World says that the growing importance attached to the scientific study of the minds and habits of young children is illustrated by the fact that both the September Forum and the September Popular Science Monthly have leading articles on the subject.
The assumption at the bottom of the study is that the mind merely develops but undergoes no radical change from childhood to old age. Along the lines of this theory there is being gradually worked out a complete revolution in the education not only of children but adults.

It was the belief of the old philosophers that the human mind can grasp all important truths merely by reasoning logically. Modern science and all its results have followed the partial abandonment of this idea. They are based on the "kindergarten method," first fully set forth by Lord Bacon, who asserted that the way to knowledge is not through severe metaphysical thinking, but through looking, handling, comparing—through each mental process as those by which the young child begins its education. This object-teaching and object-learning assumes not the natural strength, but the natural infirmity of the mind, and adapts education to it.
As the minds of children are better understood it is hoped that it will become possible for the older people to see just what are the difficulties in the way of developing their own intellects as well as those of their children.

The Hindoo sage who sits on a black antelope skin and looks at the tip of his nose year after year while he is pondering on the infinite represents one theory of education—that of the omnipotence of reason. The chemist who handles a test tube and looks to see what color is produced by a reaction represents another—the kindergarten method of object-learning, by which a child in the cradle begins the study of the science of the universe. And in this difference of methods lies the difference between Oriental and Caucasian, between the old civilization of philosophy and the new civilization of science.

E. S. PRISON SYSTEMS.
An interesting comparative study of prison systems in the United States and abroad was presented in a paper read at the convention of the National Prison Association at Denver, recently, by General Brinkerhoff, the president of the association. General Brinkerhoff, who has lately made an examination of prison systems abroad, said his observation of European prisons brought him to the conclusion that whatever superiority they have over those in the United States is due to a superior administration rather than to a superior system. In short, it seems to him that the American system of dealing with the criminal classes, as a whole, is better than theirs, and that our greatest lack is in administration. In Europe everybody connected with prison administration is trained to his work as army and navy officers are trained here, and their term of office is just as secure. In Paris, at La Sante prison is what is known as the warden's school, where the chief wardens from the provincial prisons come annually, staying six months, during which time they receive instructions by lectures and classes in various branches of knowledge pertaining to their work. They are also taught the practical application of the Bertillon method of criminal identification. With such an administration in America, he said, the evils which now vex us would soon disappear, and America would lead the world in her prisons as she does in her benevolent institutions.

EBENSBURG.

EBENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 24, 1895.
Messrs. H. J. Buck, of Carroll township, and David Edwards, of Veters, shipped a car load of sheep to Philadelphia yesterday afternoon.

Jos. A. Gray, Wm. Schroth, of Carrolltown, and J. W. Conrad, of Dean, drove from Carrolltown to Beulah on Friday, returning the same evening.

Joe Wherry, a young boy about 14 years old, was arrested yesterday for breaking into the station here on Friday night of last week.
Forty Hours Devotion will be observed in the Catholic church on Thursday and Friday of this week, beginning at 8 o'clock on Thursday morning and continuing until Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

The Italian orchestra which has been traveling through the country and has visited Ebensburg several times was with us again yesterday.

A number of our young people held a dance at Fenwick hall on Wednesday night of last week which was an enjoyable affair. Refreshments were served and all report a good time.

L. A. Craver, of the Blair house, accompanied by his wife and daughter Miss Ida, spent Sunday in Wilmore, the guests of his aunt, Mrs. M. Wolfe.

On Thursday afternoon a man with a piano on a cart, the piano having a crank attachment by means of which he operated the instrument, caused our streets to ring with music thereby causing considerable attention, especially of the school children who were at that hour busy at work in the school room.

Mr. A. A. Snyder, Supt. poor farm, Winnishelk county, Ia., says: Last winter Mr. Robert Leach used two boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve and cured a large running sore on his leg. Had been under care of physicians for months without obtaining relief sure cure for piles. C. W. Hodgkins.

"The Only" for 1895.
The COURIER is pleased to announce its clubbing arrangements with The Pittsburg Post, the great home newspaper of Pennsylvania, and to persons who want the best daily or semi-weekly paper published in the city, we recommend The Post.

The Daily Post, a large eight-page paper, and The Courier one year each for $3.00. The price of The Post alone is $3.00. Send us your order at once and get seven papers a week for the price you formerly paid for one.

The Sunday Post, twenty pages every Sunday, containing as much reading as any of the monthly magazines, and The Courier one year each for only $2.25.

The Semi-weekly Post and The Courier one year each for only $1.50. Just think of it, The Post twice a week, and your county paper for the price of one. Write us for sample copies.

Diarrhea should be stopped promptly. It soon becomes chronic. DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure is effective, safe and certain. Hundreds of testimonials bear witness to the virtue of this great medicine. It can always be depended upon, its use saves time and money. C. W. Hodgkins.

New York World.
The Twice-a-week edition of the New York World has been converted into the Thrice-a-week. It furnishes 3 papers of 6 pages apiece, or eighteen pages every week, at the old price of One Dollar a year. This gives 156 papers a year for One Dollar and every paper has 6 pages eight columns wide or 48 columns in all. The Thrice-a-week World is not only much larger than any weekly or semi-weekly newspaper, but it furnishes the news with much greater frequency and promptness. In fact it combines all the crisp, fresh qualities of a daily with the attractive special features of a weekly. And $1.50 will get the Thrice-a-week World and the PATTON COURIER for one year. Think of it. Call at the COURIER office and leave your name.

Cholera morbus is a dangerous complaint, and often fatal in its results. To avoid this you should use DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure as soon as the first symptoms appear. C. W. Hodgkins.

A President on Brandy for Sickness.
The president of the Baltimore Medical college, who has tested Speer's wines and brandies says:
I am prepared to bear testimony to the value of Speer's Climax Brandy as a pure and valuable article in all cases of disease in which a reliable stimulant is required. I regard it superior to most French brandies.

HARVEY L. BYRD, M. D.
President and professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Woman and Children, Baltimore Medical college.
Easy to take, sure to cure, no pain, nothing to fear. DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Best for sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach and constipation. C. W. Hodgkins.

Will Buy Goods.
Miss Alice A. Ashcroft, the milliner, left on Saturday for the eastern cities where she will purchase her fall millinery. Her store will be closed until her return. Don't fail to see the new line when it arrives. Prices moderate.

DEAR THE LAW.
Up at Hampden Park, in Springfield, when the Massachusetts antipool law was rigidly enforced a few years ago, Uncle Ed Morse and other pool sellers cleverly evaded it by putting up for sale at "auction" cards having printed on them the picture of a horse. "How much am I offered for this picture of Prince Wilkes?" was the query. "Sold for $100 to Mr. X." Prince Wilkes sold for $100, what do I hear for this picture of Patron?" It was easy enough. All the change was that the auctioneer had to say a few more words.—Hartford Times.

Waived Responsibility.
Wiggles—If anybody inquires for me within ten minutes, will you tell them that I'll be right back?
Waggles—No; I'll tell 'em you said you would.—Somerville Journal.

Pretty Good Guess.
The New Orleans Picayune says that a teacher, in explaining to her pupils the difference between civilized and uncivilized races, insisted upon three things as requisite for civilization—food, clothing and shelter.
The next day she brought the subject up again by way of review.
"What are the three things necessary to a civilized man?" she asked.
Several of the children remembered food and clothing, but the third requisite seemed to have escaped their recollection entirely. Finally, after the question had been repeated two or three times, one little fellow lifted his hand and said:
"A wife."

Whether the teacher sent him to the head of the class we are not informed.

You can get the Patton COURIER and the New York Thrice-a-week World for only $1.50 per year.
