

Patton Courier.

PATTON PUBLISHING CO., Proprietors.
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1896.

NEWSPAPER LAW DECISIONS.
1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have notified the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them unsealed, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
5. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publishers is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The Bicycle Girl.
"Mother, may I go out to wheel?"
"Yes, my darling daughter,
I suppose, of course, you won't wear skirts,
Although I think you oughter."
—Ind. Journal.

The offspring now to have a wheel
Will beg or borrow, buy or steal.
He rides along in bicycle pants,
And so do his sisters, his cousins and his
—Min. Journal.

Old Grime is dead, that good old man,
He never had a chance
To see a woman ride her wheel
Dressed in her bloomer pants.

POINTERS TO THE POINT.
Moses Perkins Gives the Readers Something to Think About.
"Oh! I don't care what she thinks." I overheard the above remark one evening last week while crossing the street near the postoffice. It was made by a young man who had sworn in the presence of a lady and was rippled by a companion for doing so. This is a common remark among boys and young men, and, while I am sorry to admit it, it is too common among older men.

Some men seem to think that a woman is only to wait on man; she must bear the rough usage as well as the man and make no complaint. In fact they must be the stronger of the sexes instead of the weaker. I differ with that style of man. God made woman to be companion to man and the highest civilization is found in those countries when this thought is put in practical use. I wish that men would respect their wives as they do a wife of another man, but as a rule they do not do so. They forget that when they first became acquainted with the woman they promised to love, honor and protect, they thought they never could or would speak a harsh word.

Remember, my masculine readers, that a woman is human and needs comfort, protection and care, together with kind words and love, and she will then be the happiest woman on earth, and you should be the happiest man when you are in her company.
Learn to respect woman. Men will not think the less of you for it, rather you will then merit the respect of every true gentleman. MOSES PERKINS.

At the Palmer House.
Following is a list of some of the people who registered at the Palmer house since last Wednesday morning: J. F. Drury, Johnstown; W. H. Phillips, Pgh.; John W. Lias, Wm'spt'; W. H. Bollen, Jr., and Thomas R. Torrence, Pgh.; F. E. McElfresh, wife and child, Penrith, W. Va.; Geo. W. Black, Pgh.; W. H. Wooster, Osceola; H. W. Condron, Cresson; Jos. A. DeLong, Chicago; M. Morris and J. N. Thomas, Plymouth; H. C. Yambert, Spangler; E. Barr, N. Y.; E. Ruth Clark, Hastings; S. B. King and family, Spangler; E. D. Welwood, Johnstown; R. W. Hanna, Altoona; W. C. Lingle, Philadelphia; H. L. Weaver, Freeport; E. J. Joyce, Baltimore; E. E. Batchelder, Phila.; L. M. Patterson, Lock Haven; J. A. Smith, Gallitina.

Might Have Been Worse.
The Spangler Sentinel says that what might have been a serious accident occurred at the crossing near the Walnut Run Supply store Monday. Simon Lantzy, of Garmanstown, and Ex-Sheriff Gray, of Carrolltown, were driving along, each in his own buggy, when a freight train approached the crossing. They attempted to cross the track, but Lantzy's horse stopped just after getting over when Mr. Gray's horse frightened by the approaching train plunged forward into Lantzy's buggy, demolishing it completely. Mr. Gray's horse was also injured, but the occupants of the buggies escaped unharmed. It is said the train gave no warning of its approach.

Birth Day Party.
A very enjoyable party was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Noonan on last Wednesday evening in honor of their daughter, Gertrude, being her fifteenth birthday. Music and singing was indulged in, after which refreshments of all kinds were served. Gertrude was the recipient of many handsome presents. Among the number present were Misses Virgie Dale, Eula Patrick, May Burk, Nettie Wallace, Annie Kinkead, Celia Mellon, Jennie Crain, Ada Mellon, Fannie Mellon, Emma Mellon, Mrs. M. M. Crain, Messrs. James Sheehan, W. A. Mellon, Garfield Wilkins, Jack Scheid, Dave Barr, Walter Mellon, Harry Mellon and Frank Kinkead.

Think They are Dead.
One reason why people never pay any particular attention to signs and advertisements daubed on old fences, stables and bridges is because they do not know whether they are reading the advertisement of some firm that is still in business or one that has been dead for years. What ought to be the obituaries of many a has-been firm that tried to do a sign-board business, are painted all over the bridges and old stables of this country. When people read advertisements in a newspaper that is up to date they know the advertiser is alive and doing business.—Ex.

Struck by Lightning.
About 8 o'clock last Wednesday evening the barn of Edward Nagle, on the Nagle farm, two miles from Ashville, was struck by lightning during the electrical storm which passed over that vicinity and was totally consumed. Mr. Nagle succeeded in getting his two horses, their harness and a wagon out of the building, but all else was burned, including about one hundred and twenty bushels of wheat, seven tons of hay, some straw, and various farming utensils. Mr. Nagle's loss is about $1,000, with no insurance.

Fire at Hastings.
On Sunday evening Hastings was visited by a fire. The double frame dwelling belonging to H. C. Woodby, which stood on Coleman street, and was occupied by Wm. Gun and Ashley Lloyd was destroyed including all its contents. Nothing of any account was saved. Both families lost nearly all their household goods. The origin of the fire is unknown. Timely arrival of assistance saved other buildings in that vicinity. The loss and insurance was not learned.

Firemen's Ball.
The Carrolltown Fire company will hold a grand ball in Shambaugh's hall on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. The music will be furnished by Herron's orchestra. The company is determined to make this event surpass all former entertainments. While taking in the fair take in the ball, and you will carry home with you some bright recollections. Go in and they will insure a pleasant evening. Best of order will be maintained.

Will Make Her Mark.
Ed. A. Mellon has displayed in the show window of the postoffice a crayon portrait of Chas. D. Wharton, deceased, whose home was near St. Augustine, which is the hand-work of Miss Anna Wilt, of that place. It is an elegant likeness and Miss Wilt will surely make her mark as a crayon artist. It compares favorably with some of the finest portraits in the market.

Bark For Sale.
About 800 cords of hemlock bark is offered for sale at Patton, Pa. For information regarding the same write to or inquire of Patton Publishing Co., Patton, Pa.—66¢

Burglars at Ebensburg.
On Friday night burglars made a raid on the Pennsylvania Railroad station at Ebensburg. Entrances to the office was obtained by prying open a rear door, and, once inside, a hole was drilled in the safe and the door blown open, probably with dynamite. All that was taken was two or three dollars in small change. Some of the burglars' tools were left at the scene of the robbery.

Stomach and bowel complaints are best relieved by the timely use of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure. Insist on having this preparation. Don't take any other. C. W. Hodgkins.

The State Elections.
This fall will be the last general contests before the presidential campaign of 1896. "The Pittsburg Post" will continue to give full and accurate political information, together with all the latest news of the world, in an eight, ten, and twelve page paper, for one cent a copy. All Democrats should read it. Order from your news-dealer or write "The Post," Pittsburg, Pa.

There is no doubt, no failure, when you take DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure. It is pleasant, acts promptly, no bad after effects. C. W. Hodgkins.

New Jersey Grape Juice Sent to Europe.
Mr. Speer, of New Jersey, has a reputation extending over the world as being a reliable producer of Oporto Grape Juice and Port Wine. His Oporto Juice and Port Wine are ordered by families in Dresden, London and Paris for their superior medicinal virtues, and blood making quality, owing to the iron contained in the soil in which the vines grow.
