

IRISHMEN'S NEW POLICY.

Formation of the Irish National Alliance of the World.

FEINIAN BROTHERHOOD FIRE REKINDLED.

No Further Trust in Legislation—Pledged to the Liberation of Ireland By Other Means.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Birth was given by the Irish National convention this afternoon to an organization which has for its avowed object the independence of Ireland and a republic by a policy of physical force.

The action of the Fenian Brotherhood, with its trust in legislation and its reliance upon parliaments and elections, is buried from sight, and in its place rises the Irish National Alliance of the World. Incidentally too, the Irish Parliamentary party across the Atlantic is repudiated and henceforward will be deprived of the abundant revenues that have been contributed from this country for its maintenance and support.

For the next two years to come at least New York will be the seat of operation of the new movement, William Lyman, a wealthy Irish-American of that city, having been selected as the first president of the alliance with authority to appoint a secretary of his own choice.

The plan of operation adopted provides for a central council with authority to issue charters for state organizations. Membership is limited to people of Irish birth or descent, and who shall pledge themselves to aid in the liberation of Ireland by any means consistent with the laws and usages of civilized nations. The plan closely resembles that of the Fenian Brotherhood.

This evening the convention adjourned sine die.

HAD THE CROWD YESTERDAY.

Rain Made the Sport a Little Stew, But the Fair Has Been a Success.

BROOKLYN, Pa., Sept. 26.—In spite of the heavy rain this morning the people turned out to the fair to-day and the crowd at the grounds this afternoon was estimated at from 5000 to 6000. The track was made very heavy and as a consequence the time of the race was away below what it should have been and would have been under more favorable circumstances. The association is now quite sure of coming out with out loss and the people have been well satisfied, all of which is most encouraging for a continuation of the fair on a liberal scale in years to come.

ONCELES ARE CHIRPING.

The Pennant Seem to Bear a Baltimore Label Again.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—This city is full of enthusiasm to-night over the apparent certainty of the Baltimoreans winning the pennant. The champions won easily from Philadelphia, score 10-1, and they have four games to play with New York to close the season. Should they win two of them the pennant will again come to Baltimore. Cleveland must play two scheduled games with Louisville and a postponed game with Chicago, and even though they win all three the pennant will come to this city if two of the games with New York are captured.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN OPENED.

BEDFORD, Sept. 27.—The Democracy of Bedford county opened the campaign here to-night with a large meeting of State and national issues were discussed by B. F. Meyers, Democratic candidate for State treasurer, and J. M. Reynolds, assistant secretary of interior. Special stress was laid by the former on his purpose to manage the treasury, if elected, in the interest of the people, and by the latter on the beneficial effect of the Wilson bill and the wisdom of Cleveland's course on currency question.

ONE SHOT AND ONE CHOPPED.

FERRY, OKLA., Sept. 27.—A fight occurred 20 miles east of here yesterday between John Foots, Jas. Slabough, Charley Slabough and Frank Carpenter. Foots and Jas. Slabough were contestants for the same property. Foots shot and instantly killed Jas. Slabough, and Charley Slabough cut Foots's head open with an ax, inflicting a fatal wound. Charley Slabough was jailed last night.

THOUGHT HIS MOTHER WAS A BURGLAR.

WILKESBARRE, Sept. 26.—Chas. Cooper, aged 18, of Harleigh, who shot and killed his mother Monday night, mistaking her for a burglar, was brought into criminal court to-day on a writ of habeas corpus. The evidence was produced showing that the shooting was purely an accident and the defendant was discharged.

HEATH FOR N. J. DEMOCRATS.

TRUSTON, N. J., Sept. 26.—The Democratic state convention which met here to-day nominated Chancellor A. T. McGilly for governor. The victory was an easy one and the convention ended in harmony, as seen from the outside, and with much enthusiasm.

A WATER FAMINE LAST.

Towns in the Anthracite Country in a Bad Fix.

STREET RAILWAY AND MINES QUIT.

The Game of Bill at Grampian Yesterday Was a Fair Fight.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 26.—The water famine prevailing here is a real calamity to-day when the city is cut off from water, there not being enough water obtainable to run the dynamo.

Several industries and collieries shut down on the same account. Over 10,000 men are idle on account of the drought.

Same Thing at Shamokin.

SHAMOKIN, Sept. 26.—Boaring creek ran dry to-day and this place is confronted with the worst kind of a water famine. Unless instant preparations are made to purify the sulphur water the mines will be compelled to shut down at a cost of thousands of dollars.

STEPPER SQUARED.

TUNNELTON, W. Va., Sept. 27.—Train No. 1, passenger, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, at this place early this morning sideslipped No. 4, a passenger train lying on the switch.

A sleeper, crowded with passengers, was totally demolished, and the engine of No. 1 wrecked.

United States Marshal Gordon, of Wheeling, W. Va., and ex-Secretary of State Wm. A. Ohley of Charleston, was with the sleeper, were terribly scalded by escaping steam. Both will probably die.

Miss Lulu Downie, librarian of the state, who was also a member of the party, is probably fatally injured.

Fifteen of the passengers were injured slightly, either by burns or from steam.

GEN. HARRISON AS AN AUTHOR.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 27.—Gen. Harrison is devoting himself daily to a series of literary articles which he contracted for while in the west last spring. The work is to take the shape of magazine articles which will have for their aim the enlightenment of women upon national questions and giving them a clearer conception of government affairs. They will be widespread to towns upon all national questions of general interest.

It now appears that Gen. Harrison gave all of his time between deer hunts while in the wilderness to the work and he is still busy and will be for some weeks with his secretary in getting the materials ready for a Philadelphia publishing house.

GRAMPIAN BEATS CURRWILLE.

GRAMPIAN, Sept. 27.—Currawille was compelled to lower her baseball colors to the home team this afternoon in one of the closest games played on the fair grounds this week. Miller, Daniels, Heidrick and Schwem, of DuBois, played with Grampian and their hitting was a feature of the game. "Pud" Schwem pitched an elegant game throughout, keeping the hits well scattered. The final score was 9 to 4, favor of Grampian.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Coach With 24 Passengers Rolls Down an Embankment.

NONE OF THEM SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Water Another and second Rice at Philadelphia En Route to the Ramey Colliery.

ALTOONA, Sept. 27.—Near Homer station, within three miles of this city, on the Altoona, Clearfield and Northern railroad, a serious and yet fortunate accident occurred this evening.

An engine and passenger coach were coming down the mountain from Woponock and had just crossed a high trestle, when a sharp curve was struck, and in some way the coach overturned, was torn loose from the engine and was thrown down a steep embankment. There was 24 passengers aboard and all were more or less bruised and cut but none seriously injured except B. M. Beck and Joseph McManany, both of near this city, who received ghastly scalp wounds and possibly fractures of the skull. The train was running slow at the time or the accident would have been much worse.

DELEGATES IN PHILADELPHIA.

Water Ainsley and Bernard Rice on Their Way to Sunday's Convention at Ramey.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 27.—Walter Ainsley and Bernard Rice, representing the DuBois miners, arrived here to-day on their way to the Clearfield region, where a mass meeting has been called to be held at Ramey next Sunday. On the Wednesday following a convention of delegates, representing the miners in the Central and Northern Pennsylvania coal regions, will be held in Philadelphia. The call is signed by William B. Wilson, and the object is stated to be the determining of what action shall be taken to protect and advance the interests of the miners.

ENGLISH POLITICS.

Irish Question Will Occupy Parliament's Attention for a Great Part.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The fall in English international politics will be broken soon. An informal council of the cabinet will be held about the middle of next month. Lord Rosebery, on October 10, will make a speech at Scarborough, and it is expected that he will then outline the liberal position. The marquis of Salisbury speaks at Watford on October 30, and H. H. Asquith, Sir George O. Trevelyan, G. N. Curzon, under foreign secretary, W. St. John Broderick, under secretary for war, and a number of others are announced to re-appear in the same arena before the end of October.

What the country chiefly awaits is an explicit disclosure of the government's projects for the coming session of parliament. Everything points not only to one but to two sessions devoted chiefly to Ireland. According to the Times, the land question will be settled in 1896, and this will be followed by an Irish local government measure in 1897, which will probably include the creation of a central council in Dublin.

Horace Carson Plunkett, who accompanied Gerard Bal'con on his recent tour of Ireland, and who is now recognized as the adviser of the chief secretary, has developed a scheme for the establishment of an Irish board of agriculture, which is certain to lead to the formation of other special Irish departments. The Westminster Gazette and other liberal organs admit that the unionists have begun their administration of Irish affairs with a settled determination to avoid coercion by adopting the lines followed by their liberal opponents.

"Irishmen," says the Gazette, "who in their haste call the parliamentary moment a failure, speak prematurely. The unionist program is carried out as it will be the work of the liberal and the Irish gradually to co-ordinate the Irish local bodies and endow them with fresh powers until the country wakes up to find home rule established with the consent of all parties.

The marquis of Salisbury has promised leading Irish unionists that he will visit London and the south of Ireland in July next if the business of the season will permit. Obviously the proposed tour is a part of the government's conciliatory policy.

THE B. & O. GOES INTO COURT.

Its Engineers Arrested on Their Engines at Washington and Ohio Railroad Company and Washington Borough Council are at Loggerheads, and on Friday United States Marshal Walker served notice on Burgess John F. Curran and the borough secretary John N. White, to appear before the United States circuit court on the first Monday of October, at Pittsburg, to answer the complaint made by the railroad company. The cause of this is that during the past few months the police force, under direction of the council, has been enforcing an ordinance against engineers whistling or blowing off steam within the borough limits. Several times men in charge of engines have been taken from their trains and taken before the burgess. In each case where the offense was proved, the violator of the ordinance was fined $20 and costs.

The railroad company now says it will test the validity of the arrests in all the courts, and the council has been so stirred up by the complaints of citizens against the unnecessary noise on the railroad that it has a very nervous and the ordinance is enforced strictly.

RAILROAD UP FOR SALE.

Altoona and Philadelphia Connecting Under the Hammer.

WAS BODILY BURNED IN AN EXPLOSION.

John Deorolph of Ridgway Struck Forty Feet by Gas.

BLOWN FORTY FEET.

John Deorolph Badly Injured at Ridgway by a Gas Explosion.

He was walking a new four inch line when it burst and blew him forty feet away tearing his shirt, hat and overalls into small pieces and leaving him naked and very badly bruised.

He was brought to town by men who were within a mile of the scene of the accident and sent to his aid. He will probably recover.

Deorolph was formerly with the Oil City Fuel Supply company. He was in the employ of the company about 40 years and is very well known to Superior-iorient Crawford and Paul Spindler at the mill offices here.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Pittsburg, Sept. 29.—A terrible accident occurred at Hudson creek, near Carnegie, on the Pittsburgh railroad Saturday morning. Andrew Reilly and Melvin Deserine were instantly killed and their bodies terribly mangled. Two horses were also killed.

The men belonged to Scriber & Smith's crew, which for some time past has been placing one-night stands in the small towns within a radius of 30 miles of Pittsburg and making their headquarters in this city. It is what is known as a wagon show. That is, the jumps made last night were over 10 or 12 miles, the aggregation drove from town to town, saving large sums that would be given to the railroad companies, besides the expense of having 25 or 30 men to care for the train and load the circus at the close of a night's performance.

Lyford's father, who is a member of the A. P. A., called on the order for assistance and 25 members responded. The A. P. A. has charge of the body and desire if any attempt is made to take it to the following:

A FAKE BRIDGE JUMP.

The NEW YORK SUN SAYS MRS. McARTHUR WAS THROWN OVERBOARD.

But if You See It In The Sun It Is Not Always So—Claims That the Affair Was an Amusing Fraud—A Singular Story From Gotham.

The story of the latest Brooklyn bridge jump is thus told by the New York Sun:

Mrs. McArthur's husband is an ex-prize fighter, and two of his intimate friends are Jack Smith, also an ex-prize fighter, and William Hartman, a Harlemite. Smith and Hartman got up the scheme, and it was suggested that Mrs. McArthur enact the role of the jumper. McArthur pleaded that his wife couldn't swim a stroke and was mortally afraid of the water, but Smith said that didn't matter, as all she'd have to do was to allow herself to get good and wet and then feign unconsciousness for a time. They'd fix up the rest of the scheme, he said.

Mrs. McArthur was approached on the matter, and after a good deal of hesitation she agreed to do her part. Then Smith and Hartman got John J. Halligan, a saloon keeper, interested in the scheme. They told Halligan, however, that Mrs. McArthur would really make the jump, and he agreed to pay all incidental expenses and to look Mrs. McArthur in a theatrical troupe after the papers had made her famous. In return he was to receive 75 per cent of Mrs. McArthur's salary as an actress. Later it was decided that there was more money and less risk in putting Mrs. McArthur in a museum as a freak, and accordingly an agreement was signed with a Droversy museum proprietor whereby Mrs. McArthur was to be exhibited at a weekly salary of $100, while Smith and Hartman were to pool their life savers at $25 a week each.

In order to fool Halligan, Mrs. McArthur was taken daily to a beachhouse on the Harlem river and allowed to flounder about in three or four feet of water, and one day, after seeing her go through this exercise, Halligan was so deeply impressed with her ability that he went out and bet $1000 that she would really jump from the bridge.

When the day for the jump came, Mrs. McArthur arrayed herself in a neat swimming costume, weighted her legs with bags of sand and drove down to the bridge with Hartman and Smith. They crossed to the Brooklyn side and then drove to a dock where Smith had arranged to have a boat in waiting. All three got in the boat and rowed out into midstream. At a signal from Smith some one, whose identity is still wrapped in mystery, but who, it is suspected, was Mr. McArthur, dropped a dummy from the bridge, and then Smith told Mrs. McArthur to fall into the river from the back of the boat. Mrs. McArthur, who had been getting very pale as the time for her act approached, looked at the water and said that she guessed she'd had enough.

"What?" gasped Smith. "Do you mean to spoil everything now?"

"I can't swim a stroke, and it's terribly cold," pleaded Mrs. McArthur.

"Jump right in, and we'll haul you out," said Hartman. "It'll be all over in a minute."
