ERATING STORIES.

They Were Good Enough to Tell, but Their Truth Was Doubted

The great were talking about sharing. "I den't preced to be ratch of a kater," said the man with his feet on the mantelpace. "The last time I indulged in the pastime, though, I had the good luck to slip into an airhole.

"You don't call that good luck, do you?" asked the man who had been trying to break into the conversation and tell a story himself.

Well, under ordinary circumstances I wouldn't call it good luck," riplied the man with his feet on the mintel, "but in this instance it led to my catcher part of my body went under the ice, but I was able to hold myself up by the arms.
