Mr. Donnelly left on Friday evening to attend the funeral, which took place on Saturday morning. The COURIER extends heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Reilly.

It was not a Johnstown minister who thus took leave of his congregation: "Brothers, and sisters, I come to say good-bye. I don't think God loves this church because none of you ever die. I don't think you love each other because I never marry any of you. I don't think you love me, because you have not paid my salary. Your donations are mouldy fruit and wormy apples and by their fruits ye shall know them. Brothers I am going to a better place. I have been called to be a chaplain of a penitentiary. Where I go ye cannot come, but I go to prepare a place for you, and may the Lord have mercy on your souls. Good-by." —Johnstown Democrat.

H. V. Jackson, our popular jeweler, has changed appearances greatly within the last few days. All due to the cropping of those long western locks that he has been carrying for a great number of months. —Hastings Correspondent to Spangler Sentinel.

The February number of Toilettes introduces us once more to King Carnival and his revels. Some very quaint old styles are illustrated from costumes worn on the stage of the Odeon Theatre, Paris, at the recent production of Schiller's "Don Carlos." These dresses were made by Longain, designed from old oil paintings and prints available from that period.

Fancy dress, however, forms but a minor feature of the current issue of Toilettes. Its Parisian drawings of "exclusive" designs by Felix, Randnitz, Lehouvier and Judith, as well as the millinery designs by Viret, Lewis, Poyanne and Marecot, Scymra, all bear the impress of master hands and minds, and bring the American public in direct touch with the best Parisian taste. We have never seen anything handsomer than the color plates published with February Toilettes.

Other features of interest are the many accessories to a lady's dress, such as muffs, collarettes, belts, jabots, fans, and all the countless little aids to beauty, which delight the eye. Of sleeves, too, Toilettes has the most bewildering variety, one still prettier than the other, so you are lost in wonderment how it was ever possible to fancy the late puffed effects, when so much nicer arrangement can be had in the new tight-fitting style.

All new dealers sell Toilettes, at 25 cents per copy, and pronounce it the best fashion book on their stands. Subscription price is $2.00 per year or $1.00 for 6 months. It is published at 126 West 23rd street, New York.
