The Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph is now printed on paper of a delicate rose tint. The managers have adopted this tint, they deeming that it is the best adapted for an afternoon paper, and more restful to the eye when read by artificial light.

Mrs. Charles Thompson, wife of a farmer living near Rich View, Ill., is said to have given birth to a child with two heads, two breast bones, and four arms. Below the waist it is but one child. A dime museum offers the mother $500 a week to appear with the child.

The country newspaper publisher tells every day to make his paper interesting, mentally and mechanically—that's labor; once in a while a patron comes in and pays his subscription—that's capital; occasionally one moves off without paying and has the postmaster to send a card that the paper is refused—that's stealing.—Ex.

The county poorhouse is now lighted by electricity, connections having been made with the Ebensburg electric plant Friday evening. The new light is said to work very satisfactorily. The rooms occupied by the inmates of the place are not supplied with lights, but there is said to be sufficient illumination through the transoms from the corridors.

L. J. Kerr is confined this week to his bed at the Bloom hotel, Clearfield, Pa., by blood poisoning, caused by a squirrel biting the second finger of his right hand. The accident occurred over two weeks ago, but did not become serious until one day last week while he was attending the funeral of his grandfather, Mr. Burgoon, at Brookville, Pa. During his illness Jack Scheid is looking after his business interests here. He is expected home the latter part of this week.

The New York and Chicago limited train of the P. R. R. is made up of newly painted and remodelled coaches says the Freeman. The trains will be lighted with electricity from storage batteries, instead of the dynamo previously in use. Another new feature on the cars is that the vestibule entrance doors are flushed with the car body on the side. This arrangement gives more compactness to the car and increases room in the vestibules. The experiment of lighting the train from storage batteries will be watched with considerable interest.

And Still they Go down

You know our strokes are merciless and our cuts are deep, when we say our goods are cheap, we don't mean cheap goods. There is as much difference between the former and the latter as there is between an ardent lover and a lover of the ardent.
