SENATE

After the passage of a large number of private pension bills and listening to a carefully prepared speech on the advantages of Republican tariff legisation by Mr. Pritchard, of North Car-lina, the Senate Wednesday resumed oneideration of the international consideration of the international American bank bill. An amendment was accepted by the committee and adopted extending the privileges of the measure to all citizens of the United States, instead of restricting them to those mentioned in the bill. When the Senate adjourned consideration of the bill had not been concluded.
