Baker Daus Wedded.

Jacob Daus, proprietor of the Patton bakery, and Miss Mary Fochler, of Altoona, were united in marriage at the St. Mary's Catholic church of Patton Monday morning at 5:30 o'clock. After the ceremony was performed and a wedding breakfast was enjoyed at Mr. Daus' home, the happy couple departed on the morning train on the P. R. R. for Altoona, where they spent two days among friends and relatives, returning to Patton Tuesday evening. The Keystone Drum Corps and the "Calthumpian" band treated the bride and groom to a serenade shortly after their return to Patton, and report having been treated "out of sight" by the groom. The COURIER extends hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Daus and trusts that their wedded life may ever be full of sunshine.

Good News.

It will be good news to the many lady readers of the COURIER to be informed that Miss Clara Strawbridge, of Williamsport, late of New York, has concluded to locate in Patton, and will open a fashionable dress-making establishment at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. F. E. Morey, of the Patton Supply Co., on Lang avenue. Miss Strawbridge gave up a lucrative position in New York City on account of her health, mountain air agreeing very much better with her. She very respectfully asks the patronage of the public, and assures all customers satisfaction. She comes very highly recommended by her New York employers.

CHANGE OF TIME.

It is Rumored That a Change of Schedule Will be Made on the Beech Creek.

A rumor, which appears to have considerable foundation, is current to the effect that a decided change will be made in the time of the arrival and departure of the Beech Creek passenger trains Nos. 37 and 30, which arrive in Patton at 10:25 p. m. and depart at 5 o'clock a. m. respectively. It is stated that No. 37 will arrive in Patton at 9:00 p. m. and that No. 30 will depart at 6:30 a. m., making the same connections with the B. & P. railway at Clearfield and practically the same connections at Williamsport with the Philadelphia & Reading railway for the east.

If the change is made, which will no doubt take effect November 13th, it will be met with much favor by the traveling public as well as the railroad employees interested from the fact that the hours of arrival and departure of the trains would be more convenient in the transaction of business along the line as well as in Patton. The COURIER is speaking for all when it says that it would be a good move and everyone along the line will be glad to hear of the change.

Excitement at Ebensburg.

Friday evening a tramp, giving his home at Rochester N. Y., who had been employed at odd jobs around Ebensburg for several days, went into the store of James M. Thompson, a prominent merchant of that place, and asked the proprietor to change some money for him. While Thompson was making the change, the tramp produced a bottle of nitric acid and quicksilver and threw it in Thompson's face, evidently with the intention of blinding him and robbing the store. Thompson's face was severely burned, though his eyes, being protected by glasses, were not injured. The tramp himself was badly burned, and instead of carrying out his burglarious intentions, made a break for a doctor's office, where he was shortly afterward arrested and placed in jail. The tramp's real name could not be learned.

Meat Market Changes.

On Thursday of last week Frank Yeager, who has been conducting a meat market business in Patton for the past three years, leased the same to Martin Johnson, formerly a member of the firm of McCall & Johnson, proprietors of the People's Meat Market, who will look after the wants of the trade at this stand, located opposite the Commercial Hotel. Messrs. Wm. McCall and B. E. Deremer are now the proprietors of the People's Meat Market, Mr. Deremer having associated himself with Mr. McCall upon the retirement of Mr. Johnson. Mr. Deremer's home was in Wyoming county, Pa., and comes to Patton highly recommended as a thorough business man.

Accepted the Call.

At a special meeting held at the conclusion of the regular services at the Baptist church last Sunday evening, a unanimous call was extended to the Rev. Joseph A. Knecker, late pastor of the First Baptist church of Bloomsburg, Pa. The call was accepted by Mr. Knecker, who will begin his labor in Patton on the first Sunday in November. He will move his family to this place shortly.

Grand Opening Attraction.

Manager McNeil has secured for the opening attraction Mr. John E. Toole, in "Rip Van Winkle," which will be at the Hastings Opera House on Friday evening, November 4th. The cast will also include Miss Anna Crouch, the greatest acrobatic song and dance artist on the American stage. Regular prices will prevail and seats placed on sale Monday at noon.

Putting in Water Line.

W. B. Hughes, of Clearfield, has the contract for the laying of over a mile of six-inch water pipe for the Patton Water company in this place, and, with a large crew of men, commenced work Monday. The work will be completed in about ten days if the weather is favorable.

Marriage Banns Published.

The marriage banns of Michael Trinkle, of this place, and Miss Teresa Hoover, of Hastings, were published for the first time in the St. Mary's Catholic church of Patton last Sunday morning. The wedding will occur at the bride's parents at Hastings.

BIG TUNNEL COMPLETED.

Immense Contract by A. E. Patton, of Curwensville.

QUICKEST ON RECORD.

Was 2,317 Feet Long and Completed in Five Months.

A. E. Patton, of Curwensville, who has the contract for the construction of a large portion of the Allegheny and Western railroad, an extension of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg railway, running from Punxsutawney to New Castle, Pa., informed the COURIER representative, while in town Friday, that the work of constructing the large tunnel near Punxsutawney was completed Tuesday. The tunnel is 2,317 feet long and the time constructing it was exactly five months, which is considered the fastest record ever known in railroad tunneling.

In speaking of the work being done by Mr. Patton the DuBois Courier says: "This is the largest tunnel on the line of the Allegheny and Western railroad. The tunnel is in charge of Engineer R. L. McCulloch, an experienced tunnel engineer, who built for the Beech Creek railroad the two known as the Friendship and Hoyt tunnels.

"The construction of the tunnel is in charge of Bennett, Talbot & Smith, of Greensburg, Pa., who are men of large experience, all three being practical railroad builders, and in this work they are utilizing one of the most complete and thoroughly equipped tunneling plants to be had.

"To give an idea of the perfect method and superior organization of the work at this point, it will only be necessary to state that the tunnel was driven entirely by compressed air, the compressor plant, which is located at Fordham, consisting of one Ingersoll-Sergeant and three Laidlaw-Dunn-Gordon compressors, which supply 1,850 cubic feet of free air per minute. The air is conducted to the tunnel by a pipe line and supplied at a distance exceeding one mile. The bench and all heading material was handled and loaded on cars in the tunnel by specially constructed Barnhart's shovels, operated by compressed air, and Ingersoll-Sergeant drills were used for all mining.

"The material was removed from the shovels by two 12-ton Porter locomotives, one at either end. The tunnel is lighted by electricity and work was vigorously pushed day and night.

"It seems almost incredible that such a vast amount of work could have been accomplished in so short a time until one visits the works and notes the complete equipment and superior organization and discipline which has been established by Mr. Patton, when it would seem possible to accomplish almost anything in railroad construction with ease. The engineers called particular attention to the neatness of the work and especially to its perfect line and grade. The masonry is of as fine a quality as will be seen on any line and is the cause of much admiration."

To the Ladies.

Look up the large ad on the fifth page of the paper. The Keystone Clothing Co. is going to have a big display of wraps, coats and collarettes three days of next week. This line will come direct from New York City and be on exhibition for three days only. Only the finest goods and latest styles will be shown. Hand bills will be distributed by October 31st announcing the exact date. Look out for them.

AN EXTENSIVE PRIVATE PARK

Owned by Alexander Billmyer in Montour County.

THE QUOTATIONS.

Geo. S. Good, whose residence is at Lock Haven, and who has large business interests in Patton, this week enjoyed a visit at the home of Alexander Billmyer, near Washingtonville, Montour county, Pa., who is the possessor of one of the most extensive private parks in this country. Mr. Good is to be envied in having the honor of receiving an invitation to spend a few days at Mr. Billmyer's home as it is an ideal lodge for any person who is interested in wild animal sport and it behooves the writer to give a brief description of his unique possessions, which he has spent many years to make perfect.

Mr. Billmyer lives on a romantic and beautiful farm of 450 acres, which is well cultivated. He has always had a particular fondness for wild animals and from boyhood has been an experienced hunter and takes this method of gratifying himself by entertaining many of his friends at his pleasant home. His park comprises 33 acres (the same size of the Zoological Garden at Philadelphia). Its entrance is directly opposite his house. It is surrounded by a meshed wire fence, which is nine feet high. Seven acres of the enclosure is composed of an orchard, the products of which is devoured by the inmates of the park.

The remainder of the park is a forest of its primitive state, composed of oak, hickory and beech trees, which have occupied the grounds centuries. A running stream passes through the park, which supplies water for the ponds contained therein, which are filled with edible fish. The animals confined in the park are composed of deer, elk, wild turkey and squirrels. He has 32 head of deer, and they have been collected from this and other States for the purpose of increasing the size of the strain. There is one family in the herd which has produced a prodigy of 15 in four years.

Among the animals in Mr. Billmyer's park, perhaps none give more amusement and entertainment than the squirrels. They number about 3,000 and are all of the gray family. They will allow a red squirrel on the premises. Black, English, Gray, Fox and Traveling Squirrel have all been placed in the park, but scarcely a representative of any of them remain, they having been driven out by the graceful gray, who is monarch of the manor.

The wild turkeys, about 100 in number, are from this State, Maryland and the Virginia, and are constantly being added to from other states.

To feed this aggregation of wild animals requires annually 600 bushels of corn on the ear, 100 bushels of oats and 100 bushels of hickory nuts, the latter for the squirrel. Clover hay is also furnished to the deer and elk along with the pine brush devoured, while the creek affords water for both washing and drinking.

Mr. Billmyer also takes pride in having the finest kind of domestic stock on his farm. His dogs, too, are of the best hunting kinds, and his fowls embrace every variety of the purest blooded strains.

There are a handful of Republicans in Bedford and Blair counties who are opposed to the election of Joseph E. Thropp, the regular Republican nominee for Congress. The reasons they allege are purely personal. Some of them attempt to justify their conduct by alleging that Mr. Thropp bolted the regular nomination two years ago. This is either a mistake or wilful misrepresentation. The Republicans of this district had no candidate two years ago. The courts so declared and opened the way for a free-for-all race. That was the fault of the Congressional conference. Other objections are purely personal, founded on dislike, prejudice or disappointed ambition. Mr. Thropp is entitled to better treatment. He has a right to the loyal support of the leaders of his party as well as of the rank and file.

The Patton foot ball team defeated the Gallitain team on the home grounds Saturday by a score of 31 to 0. It was easily done. The visitors put up a nice game and took their defeat manly. A return game will be played at Gallitain Saturday, which will no doubt be more exciting.
