WORN BY NAVY OFFICERS.

When Commodore Dewey last winter was promoted from the rank of captain he had to visit the tailor for clothes suitable to his new rank and was obliged to buy a full-dress coat and a cap. The latter cost $15.

During the terrible storm at Samos some years ago, when the naval officers lost their belongings, a bill was introduced to remburse them, and it was figured a lieutenant's wearing apparel was worth $1,365, an ensign's $1,050, and a rear admiral's $2,000. An admiral's full-dress outfit, including the hat, is worth $765. The epaulets alone

TRADE REVIEW.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade reports as follows for last week. Business has been more affected by foreign affairs than many realize. London's apprehension of war first monetary pressure here. Then came confidence in London, with a flight of fluence American interests from New York to San Francisco, but electric wires have made the world small. So he wires moved a cargo of wheat from the Pacific coast, started $2,500,000 more gold from Australia to this country on London account, and the selling of American securities one day and buying the next. Wheat rose 3c from Friday to Monday, and then fell 45c to Friday. But such changes do not represent actual conditions, and with western receipts for the week 9.553.205 bushels, against for the week was, no business, against 6,996,487 lisst year, nobody can pretend that holding of stocks by western farmers is an important factor. The Atlantic exports, flour included, amount to 3,795,839 bushels, against 3,264,649 liest year, and Pacific exports 1708 bushels, against 1,780 bushels, against 1,780 bushels. 825,894 bushela against 1,225,508 last year, making 18,007,262 bushels in four weeks, against 19,418,847 last year, when weeks against 19,418,547 last year, when the foreign demand was far beyond all precedent. In four weeks the western receipts have been over 40,150,669 bushels, against 30,723,258 last year, and yet pricen are 25c lower. This clearly indicates much larger supplies and greater readiness to part with them than was seen a year ago, when nobody doubted the magnitude of the foreign demand. Corn refused to follow wheat, but slightly advanced. Cotton rose to 5 1-2c last week, but has fallen to 5 2-8c in spite of heavy frosts in part of the growing region. This expresses strongly the belief that no curtailinent of yield is possible that will affect the surplus more than the closing of eastern mills one month in three, and the reduction of consumpthree, and the reduction of consumption abroad. For European mills, as well as those of this country, have surplus stocks, produced from the high-priced cotton of last year, which they cannot profitably market. There has been some closing of mills at the been some closing of mills at the South, and also some reduction of wages. Wool dealers have reached the conclusion that, with the heavy stocks on hand, it is no longer a question of profit, but of avoiding losses and concessions that has brought a big in-crease in sales for the week, though for crease in sales for the week, though for four weeks the aggregate has been only 14.898,800 pounds, against 36.394.098 last week, 23.320,100 in 1896 and 26,538,-503 in 1892. Now Ohio holders are asking 26/3 cents less than a month ago. having 75 per cent of fine and 40 per cent of medium wool yet on hand, while 10.000 hales of wool are offered to foreign bidders, who may decide to ex-

The fron manufacture has still a good demand, late as it is, but the makers are depressing prices by bidding against each other, although in the average of all quotations the decline has been less than half of 1 per cent from the highest point. But the wire nail manufacturers have reduced prices 5 per cent and the rail manufacturers according to current reports, have decided not to advance prices, and there is a prospect that heavy demand for products will be further encouraged by the lacer quotations.

Failures for the seek have been 225 in the United States, against 29 last year, and 24 in Canada, against 26 last year. The iron manufacture has still a

From the Phillipines as one follows down the chains of islands snakes are found both abundant and venomous. In the wild lands of the western Pacific the reptiles are frequently objects of worship, and in some legends are credited with the creation of the world. Samoa seems to lie just on the boundary line of snakes in the Pacific. In the eastern islands of the archipelago no snakes are to be found; in Upolu a few are seen at rare intervals. In Savail only a few miles to the westward they are common and attain great size, in the case of some kind at least. None of them is venomous and the islanders neither fear them nor exhibit any of that repugnance to their presence which is commonly called instinctive. This indifference to the reptiles is snakes of the most brilliant red color. They are so common that a basketful may be easily picked up in any banana patch. The dancing girls of this town are in the habit of employing these gaudy snakes for personal adornment in their dances. They tie them about their necks, their ankles, and their wrists, festoon them in their headdresses, and tuck a few extra ones in their belt in readiness to replace such as escape in the dance. At their best these sivas danced by the Samoans are either dull or revolting shows of savagery. It can be easily imagined that they are made no more
