That Cough Hangs On

You have used all sorts of cough remedies but it does not yield; it is too deep seated. It may wear itself out in time, but it is more liable to produce la grippe, pneumonia or a serious throat affection. You need something that will give you strength and build up the body.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

will do this when everything else fails. There is no doubt about it. It nourishes, strengthens, builds up and makes the body strong and healthy, not only to throw off this hard cough, but to fortify the system against further attacks. If you are run down or emaciated you should certainly take this nourishing food medicine.

THE political pot of Patton Borough will soon commence to simmer.

U. S. SENATOR GORMAN said in a speech that the war with Spain would probably make 50,000 new pensioners and that within three years the annual pension payments would reach $165,000,000.

THE opponents of the seating of Representative-elect Roberts, of Utah, because of his being a polygamist, are hard at work. Their latest move is to try to get the assistance of the wife of every man who will have a vote in the next Congress, in their fight against Roberts.

GENERAL EAGAN'S only hope to escape dismissal from the army, in accordance with the finding of guilty on both counts by the court martial, lies in Presidential clemency. Although no official announcement has been made of the finding of the court martial, and none is expected until the President has acted upon it, the opinion is unanimous that it was guilty, simply because it could be nothing else upon the evidence presented.

With years of experience in the shoe business we find that for style, fit, neatness, comfort, wear and price, there is no shoe house in the U. S. can in any way be compared with Winch Bros., of Boston, Mass., for ladies' fine shoes.

MILLEN'S WHITE SHOE STORE. For La Grippe. Thomas Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash Ave., corner Jackson St., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommend Chamberlain's cough Remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia.

Coughing injures and inflames sore lungs. One Minute cough cure loosens the cold, always coughing and heals quickly. The best cough cure for children. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.

Moses Perkins, Jr., Against. EDITOR COURIER:—Here I am again and I may possibly be with you off and on until Quay is elected—hard to tell, circumstances may alter cases, you know. I have been told, well in fact I have heard it myself, that there are some people in Patton who have taken exceptions to what I had to say in last week's issue of the COURIER. Can't help it, boys, yes girls, because I know that you know and everybody else knows that you ought to know enough to know that any person would know that the "shoe fits" and you are giving yourself dead away. I don't know whether to blame myself or someone else, but I do know that better order was maintained at a certain house of worship in Patton last Sunday night than there was the Sunday previous. Well, if you are going to make up your minds (and I guess you will be compelled to hereafter) to be have in a more gentlemanly and lady-like manner, why not stop that "catching-on" business on the outside. If you go to lots of other towns or cities, you would be arrested for attempting such a thing especially on the church premises. Why not accompany your lady friend to the theatre, church, ball, etc., and remain her escort till her home is reached. Of course if a girl will allow such "doings" she has my regrets too. I am only giving this as a matter of opinion, but size the matter up sometime and see whether you would care to have your sister "caught-on-to" by her "Friend" while coming home from any public meeting.

THE funeral of the late H. D. Hasson Friday afternoon from the home of his brother, Milo, was largely attended, in spite of the intense cold, says the Phillipsburg Ledger. Rev. Tompkinson officiated, assisted by Rev. Baldwin, of Clearfield. J. E. Gearhart and wife, parents of Mrs. Hasson, John and Edna Gearhart, her brother and sister, and her uncle, Mr. George S. Gearhart, of Clearfield, were here to attend the last sad ceremonies. Mr. Hasson is widely known here having been born in Chester Hill and spending most of his life, until the last few years, in Phillipsburg. He learned the drug business in Phillipsburg, graduated in Philadelphia and has followed his profession in various places in this region, locating a couple of years ago in Patton. He was a general favorite with a large circle of acquaintances who will mourn his early death. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Sophia Gearhart, of Clearfield, his father, J. W. Hasson, one sister, Mrs. C. C. Holter, of Patton, and three brothers, J. N., A. M. and P. P. Hasson, all of this place.

AN exchange says: The latest and most novel use for old newspapers that has come to our notice occurred yesterday when a gentleman stepped into this office and purchased 100 or more to feed his hens. He tears the paper into shreds and soaks it in sour milk until the whole mass becomes a pulp, when he feeds it to his hens, and he exclaims it adds greatly to their egg producing qualities. The newspaper has gradually extended its field of usefulness. From food for thought, it has expanded until within its sphere is already included food for goats and hens.

THE greatest danger of la grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Patton Pharmacy, C. W. Hodgkins.

THE members and friends of the Baptist church desire to announce to the general public that they are making elaborate preparations for Washington's birthday, February 22nd next, when a program of elaborate excellence will be presented, consisting of solos, quartettes, etc., vocal and instrumental, rendered by Patton's best talent. The whole will conclude with one of Pastor Knicker's most happy lecture efforts, "Getting On in the World."

A painstaking statistician has figured out "The American Girl's Chances of Marriage," and will present his conclusions in the March issue of The Ladies' Home Journal. He has discovered that in some states a girl's opportunities are much greater than in others, and in America they are greater than in many countries of the Old World.

It makes no difference how cheap you can buy groceries elsewhere, I can still save you some money, quality of goods considered. THE CASH GROCERY. CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson.

Unfortunate Mary Wellstonecraft. Conspicuous among the brilliant and beautiful women of her time was the lovely and every way unfortunate Mary Wellstonecraft Godwin, the first agitator of the question of "women's rights." No woman, with the exception of Mrs. de Stael, made so great an impression on the public mind. Her new and startling doctrines were seized with an avidity scarcely credible at this day, and her famous book, "The Vindication of the Rights of Women," was the theme of the most universal praise and abuse.

Thomas Paine, the author of "The Rights of Man," was one of her familiar acquaintances, but their intercourse was an argument, their views neither on this subject nor any other coinciding. In these arguments Paine either lost his temper or became sulky, and the woman champion won an easy victory. Until her marriage with Mr. Godwin she was the friend of Mrs. Siddons, and with the majority of her admirers, declined to sanction this union, for she had married some years before an American called Imlay, to whom she had been a most devoted wife. The man, however, took advantage of the fact that the marriage was only a civil one, performed in Paris, and deserted her. She then married Mr. Godwin, but this act placed her in a position no charity could explain away. Death, however, soon covered her faults with a pitiful oblivion. She left an infant daughter a few hours old, who after ward became the wife of Percy Bysshe Shelley.—Exchange.

These Black Eyes. "The small son of the people," says the Philadelphia Record, "and his little sister were inside the great West Philadelphia church for the first time. 'Um—my!' but it's a neat place, he whispered. 'I bet people not belong here comes every time day can.' Her breath came to her in little gasps. Her soiled little finger pressed on his with thrilled intensity. Her eyes feasted on the splendid organ. 'Heaven must be next door,' she said. 'They hardly moved through the service, and never once let go each other's hands, for it was as a strange land. At last the sweet voiced procession of choir boys came down the aisle. At its head was a slim young seraph, with a face as fair and pure as the linen he wore. Paint, dark circles beneath his eyes completed the ethereal effect. 'Is dem angels?' the little girl began, but stopped short, surprised at the look on her brother's face. 'Dat kid in front's Bill Griggs, wot I licked last week for swiping 'nigs from ole Mrs. Maguire's apple stand. He ain't got over dem black eyes I giv 'im yet.' 'Come on, let's git out.' His face was stern and set as they went. She furtively wiped a tear."

Field and the Street Arabs. McClure's Magazine relates the following anecdote of Eugene Field, whose fondness for children was his dominant trait. Never was a man more devoted to his wife. Nevertheless on the day that made her his he was guilty of keeping her waiting for him at the church. The bridal party had assembled and were rapidly becoming uneasy. At length, after an anxious delay, some one went out in search of the missing bridegroom. He was found on the street a short distance away, down on his knees in the mud, absorbed in settling a dispute between two small street arabs, which had arisen over a game of marbles. Listening with eager interest to the testimony vociferated at either ear by the belligerent parties and their friends and trying to evolve a peace compromise out of a very lively quarrel, he was abruptly reminded that just then he had something more important to attend to, and hastened penitently away to make his anxious bride Mrs. Field.

She Was Unduly Seated. Bishop Selwyn was a hard worker and never spared himself. He was one day seizing an hour's much needed sleep on the bench of a little roadside station in Derbyshire, en route for a confirmation. A lady of some social distinction and her daughter were on their way to the same rite, the daughter, a confirmed firmie. They went to the solitary porter and said they were afraid to pass the drunken man on the platform, to which the porter replied in tones of much solemnity, "If you please, my lady, it's the lord bishop!"—Mainly About People.

England's "Rose Regiment." The custom of wearing roses in their headgear by the Lancashire regiment on the anniversary of the battle of Minden originated in a curious manner. On the day of the battle, Aug. 1, 1759, the men passed through a field of roses, each man plucking a rose and placing it in his bonnet, wearing the flower during the fight. This commenced the custom which obtains at the present day of wearing roses on the anniversary of the battle.

The Sultan's Throne-room. The throne-room of the sultan at Constantinople is a gorgeous sight. The gliding is unequalled by any other building in Europe, and from the ceiling hangs a superb Venetian chandelier, the 200 lights of which make a gleam like that of a veritable sun. At each of the four corners of the room tall candelabra in bacarated glass are placed, and the throne is a huge seat covered with red velvet, and having arms and back of pure gold.

Rosebery's Definition of Memory. Here is a jolly lot of Lord Rosebery's "world one ever expect mots from Lord Rosebery"—told in our garden by a woman who heard him say it at a dinner. Some one asked him what memory was. "Memory," said Lord Rosebery, "is the feeling that steals over us when we listen to our friends' original stories."—Harper's Bazar.

WOMEN SHOULD KNOW IT.

Many women suffer untold agony and misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood. They have been led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for the many ills that beset womankind. Neuralgia, nervousness, headache, puffiness or dizziness under the eyes, rheumatism, a dragging pain or dull ache in the back, weakness or bearing-down sensation, profuse or scanty supply of urine with strong odor, frequent desire to pass it with scalding or burning sensation, sediment in it after standing in bottle or common glass for twenty-four hours, are signs of kidney and bladder trouble. The above symptoms are often attributed by the patient herself or by her physician to female weakness or womb trouble. Hence, so many fail to obtain relief, because they are treating, not the disease itself, but a reflection of the primary cause, which is kidney trouble. In fact, women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble and both need the same remedy.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is easy to get at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar. To prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Kindly mention the PATTON COURIER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton, N. Y.

Waitt, of South Gardner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit for the vendor. Chamberlain's cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have left me.
