Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

Good walks and streets are a sure preventative against damage suits.

Now that the weather is in shape why not see to it that the board walks in the various parts of town are properly repaired?

No use kicking; take your medicine like a man. There is very little, if not any, consolation in trying to figure out how it was done—life is so short.

The Military Court of inquiry to investigate the beef scandal will begin the taking of testimony this week. The list of witnesses is a long one, and it will probably be a month or so before the investigation is concluded.

IT DOES seem strange that the parties who are so largely interested in Patton financially do not endeavor to use their influence in regard to the erection of a new passenger station in Patton. We believe a little work by the property owners along that line would eventually bring the desired result. If there is a spot along the Pennsylvania or Beech Creek line that sadly needs a new depot it is right here in Patton.

THE regular Naval Appropriation bill, just passed by the House, carries $44,165,000, which is about eight and a half millions greater than the largest single appropriation ever made for the navy, and yet it is nearly four millions less than was asked for in the estimates of the Navy Department.

THE reorganization of the navy, generally spoken of as the "Navy Personnel Bill," has fared much better than the army reorganization bill. It has been passed by the House and Senate and is now before a conference committee, owing to several amendments added by the Senate, with the probability of becoming a law before the close of the present week.

SPEAKER REED is credited with having knocked out the Nicaragua Canal bill, when it was offered in a point of order, and shut out on a point of order, but the Senators who favor the canal have fixed up a little game that Mr. Reed will not find it easy to beat. They have had the bill added to the River and Harbor bill, by the Senate Committee on Commerce, as an amendment, which places it away beyond the points of order in the House. That the amended bill will pass the Senate is certain. Then the House can either vote to accept the Senate amendments, including the canal legislation or ask for a conference. In either event there seems no chance for Mr. Reed to kill the canal legislation without killing the entire River and Harbor bill, and he is too wise a man to attempt to do what he knows would be more apt to bring failure than success. The friends of the canal are more hopeful now than they have been at any time during the session that the necessary legislation will be secured, although there are many quaking knees in the House for fear that the canal amendment may result in killing the whole River and Harbor bill.

It makes no difference how cheap you can buy groceries elsewhere, I can still save you some money, quality of goods considered.

THE TWO HOUR TRAINS.
Between Philadelphia and New York via Philadelphia & Reading Railway.

For luxurious, swift and at the same time perfectly safe traveling at the above trains cannot be exceeded, a special notable feature is the entire absence of smoke, soot and cinders, the engines burning only hard coal. The introduction of these trains by the Philadelphia & Reading was a great boon to the business men of both cities, and the patronage by this class of passengers has steadily increased as well as that of other persons for pleasure or business purposes. It is a common practice by these travelers to leave home in Philadelphia after breakfast, and spending the day in New York return in time for 7 o'clock dinner.

Pullman cars are attached to all these trains, and the 7:30 a. m. to and 4 p. m. from New York also have Pullman Buffet parlor car. To specially accommodate the gentlemen the 8:30 a. m. to and 4:30 p. m. from New York, also have a parlor smoking car attached.

For time tables apply to any Philadelphia & Reading ticket agent, or address Edson J. Weeks, General Passenger Agent, Reading Terminal, Philadelphia.

For frost bites, burns, indolent sores, eczema, skin disease, and especially piles, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve stands first and best. Look out for dishonest people who try to imitate, and counterfeits it. It's their endorsement of a good article. Worthless goods are not imitated. Get DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, lagrippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose," or is "just as good" as One Minute cough cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat and bronchial troubles. Insist vigorously on having it if "something else" is offered you. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.

Vienna.
Here we have a proud, imperial city, rather disdainful of trade, aristocratic and easy going, conscious of a long past, its rulers still animated with the conviction that they are the successors of Charlemagne and Otto, looking on Berlin as parvenu, on London as merely commercial, on Paris as half crazy. Excepting in the domain of music, Vienna is not a home of art and culture, but it is a center of dignity and grace and a certain calm air of superiority, which, however, does not offend. It is content to look on while other places explore and write and toil and push and strain; it stands on its rank. It can never forget its 16 quarters and its claims to high estate.

Vienna is most interesting perhaps as the meeting place between east and west, where the fine gentleman rubs shoulders in the afternoon lounge along the Graben, and the busy, earnest, practical guardian of Europe's ancient order, the center of a great and most interesting empire, the city of leasers and of a pride so lofty that it does not know itself to be pride at all. Vienna is both a charming city and an important political center, as she will continue to be, no matter what the fate of the Austrian empire.—London Spectator.

M. de Fontenelle's Bright Speeches.
M. de Fontenelle, then in his ninety-seventh year, having just paid Mme. Helvetius a thousand pretty compliments, passed her on his way to the table, without seeming to notice her.

"See," said Mme. Helvetius, "what account I should take of your gallantry. You went by without looking at me." "Madame," said the old gentleman, "if I had looked at you I should not have passed by you."—Gentleman's Magazine.

Desperate.
"I want a horse and trap for a funeral. Can you let me have them?" inquired the young man in the loud check suit of the cautious liverman, whose stock occupies the same place in his affections that a wife and family should.

"Well, if you're careful," replied the cautious liverman slowly.

The turnout was at last ready, and while the young man in the loud check suit was arranging himself in his seat the proprietor patted the horse, an especial favorite, tried the buckles of the harness, shook the shafts and performed all the usual ceremonies due upon such an occasion. Then, as he handed up the reins, he said absently:

"He's very willing and quick. Be careful not to drive too fast." The young man regarded him in surprise for a moment, and then asserted:

"Well, I'm going to keep up with the funeral if it kills him!"—London Answers.

A Bride to Her.
A milk-miller of Richmond is known as a pioneer of plantation life in the south before the war. One story told by Mr. Miller will well bear repetition.

An old dandy named Absalom was the favorite attendant of a widower acquaintance of Miller, and as rumor had it that the widower intended taking unto himself a second wife Miller asked Absalom if it were true. Absalom scratched his woolly pate for a moment and replied that he reckoned it was.

"Well," said Miller, "will he take a bridal tour?"

This somewhat puzzled Absalom for an instant; then an inspiration struck him, and he said, "I dunno about a bridal, sah, but when de ole missus was 'live he used to take a paddle to her; so maybe he take a bridle to de new one!"—Exchange.

Got Her Snap Shots.
As President McKinley entered the station at Omaha the other day the crowd lined up as usual upon two sides of a passage that was roped off and protected by the police. Half way across the platform a woman with a kodak dodged the guard and sprang out before Mr. McKinley. The chief of police, who led the procession, ordered her away, but the president interfered and took off his hat so that she might get a better view of his face. Backing rapidly a few feet in advance, she got several good snap shots and then disappeared.

He Won Her.
"I learn," she said reproachfully, "that you were devoted to no less than five girls before you finally proposed to me. How do I know that you didn't make desperate love to all of them?"

"I did," he replied promptly.

"You did!" she exclaimed.

"Certainly," he returned. "You don't suppose for a minute I would be foolhardy enough to try for such a prize as you are without practicing a little at first, do you?"—Chicago Post.

Alaska's Sky Pillar.
The newly discovered peak in Alaska, which is said to be taller than Mount St. Elias, is away over on the American side of the boundary line and is thus indisputably ours. It will be somewhat rough on Elias to lose his long reputed pre-eminence, but as the great landmark of the international boundary line he may yet get some consolation.—New York Tribune.

FROM CAMP MCKENZIE.
Following is a Letter Written by a Member of Co. B, 8th P. V. L.
Camp McKenzie, Augusta, Ga., Feb. 13, 1899.

EDITOR COURIER.—South Carolina and Georgia are termed by the people as the sunny south, but they would most naturally think they were in the Klondike. Yesterday (Sunday) snow fell to the depth of nine inches, and the merry jingle of sleigh bells was heard in the city of Augusta for the first time in 50 years. There are only two sleighs in the city and they are owned by stock companies, and as soon as the snow was deep enough to afford a sleigh to glide over the surface the only two centers in Georgia were out and occupants were enjoying their first sleigh ride in the state. Negroes and children ran after the sleighs for squares yelling and laughing as though they were crazy.

We have not only snow and sleighing but ice. The Savannah river is frozen over and the ice is quite four inches thick. This is the first time in the history of the oldest residents of Augusta that this river has been frozen.

It seems very strange to see roses blooming and snow nine inches deep covering mother earth, but such is a positive fact here. The suffering of the soldiers is intense—wrapped up in a great coat with a rifle on his shoulder he can be seen a lone sentinel passing his post at the regular regulation pace, 120 steps to the minute. Time about 2:30 a. m. a soldier is endeavoring to run the guard line, but the ever alert sentinel commands in a strong voice, "halt! who goes there?" "Keep it mum pard, let 'em through the line and I will give you a 'pull'!" "Advance with cork drawn," comes from the sentinel and the guard runner is allowed to pass through the lines in peace. He congratulates himself on getting back to his tent without being arrested, and lays down on the floor to dream of the sunny south. When he awakes in the morning at the sound of bugle from headquarters, he is about to jump and report to roll call, but is detained to thaw his great coat from the canvas.

Oh yes; the army is a little heaven. I would advise anybody to join it. Every few days the cooks go on a strike or get drunk and we all play actors. This morning we had some-billy, better known as sail horse, for breakfast, but we are used to it. We could live on any old thing, but Eagan's beef.

The Eighth will be mustered out on the 2nd of March. Muster rolls, etc., are being prepared by regimental and company clerks. Shelter tents, stakes and main poles have been returned and now the boys are quite sane it is no dream, but just a candid fact, and everybody has had that some of the Eighth boys will join the army for $15.00 again and live on Eagan's emulsion beef.

Around the camp fire the boys are showing snoots to break themselves in by the time they are mustered out.

Headache for Forty Years.
For forty years I suffered from sick headache. A year ago I began using Celery King. The result was gratifying and surprising, my headaches leaving at once. REGARDLESS OF AGE.
The kidneys are responsible for more sickness, suffering, and deaths than any other organs of the body. A majority of the ill-afflicting people to-day is traceable to kidney trouble. It prevades all classes of society, in all climates, regardless of age, sex or condition.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are unmistakable, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, pain or dull ache in the back, a desire to urinate often day or night, profuse or scanty supply.

Uric acid, or brick-dust deposit in urine are signs of clogged kidneys, causing poisoned and germ-filled blood. Sometimes the heart acts badly, and tube (wasting of the kidneys) are found in the urine, which if neglected will result in Bright's Disease, the most dangerous form of kidney trouble.

All these symptoms and conditions are promptly removed under the influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. It has a world-wide reputation for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

No one need be long without it as it is so easy to get at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar. You can have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery, Swamp-Root, and a book telling all about it, both sent to you absolutely free by mail. Send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in the PATTON COURIER.

Before the discovery of One Minute cough cure, ministers were greatly disturbed by coughing congregations. No excuse for it now. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.

Dangers of the Grip.
The greatest danger of la grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventative of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Patton Pharmacy, C. W. Hodgkins.

"Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggist handed him a bottle of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.
