Danger Signals!

Do you take cold with every change in the weather? Does your throat feel raw? And do sharp pains dart through your chest? Don't you know these are danger signals which point to pneumonia, bronchitis, or consumption itself? If you are ailing and have lost flesh lately, they are certainly danger signals. The question for you to decide is, "Have I the vitality to throw off these diseases?" Don't wait to try SCOTT'S EMULSION "as a last resort." There is no remedy equal to it for fortifying the system. Prevention is easy.

Scott's Emulsion

prevents consumption and heats of other diseases which attack the weak and those with poor blood. SCOTT'S EMULSION is the one standard remedy for inflamed throats and lungs, for colds, bronchitis and consumption. It is a food medicine of remarkable power. A food, because it nourishes the body; and a medicine, because it corrects diseased conditions.

INDICATIONS don't point very strongly towards the erection of a new passenger station in Patton if the new depot recently laid in the old depot is any criterion to go by. How sad! if such is the case. We need it badly.

THE U. S. Senate passed the River and Harbor bill, with the Nicaragua Canal amendment, with only three dissenting votes—Pettigrew, Rawlins and Teller, and friends of the canal in the House say that they have strength enough to prevent the amendment being voted out of the bill, and parliamentary skill enough to prevent its being juggled out.

CONGRESSMAN JOHNSON, of Indiana, who made another highly sensational speech, attacking not only the policy of the President, but his personal integrity, did not receive as much attention as the first speech along similar lines, the general impression being that Mr. Johnson is trying to get even with the President he helped elect, for some real or fancied personal grievance.

THE NEW Council of Patton borough need not want for plenty of work to do the coming spring and summer, such as fixing up board walks, repairing the streets in all sections of town, studying law in regards to damage suits, etc., etc., not saying anything about electing a policeman and street commissioner who will meet the approval of everybody. It is no easy task and they should not attempt to please everybody, but try to fill the offices with the best material possible. Some people will "kick" no matter what is done.

THE MANAGED HUSBAND IS WORTHLESS.

Helen Watterson Moody believes that the husband who can be managed is not worth managing, "and there is no better principal," she adds, in the March Ladies' Home Journal, "for both husband and wife to adopt in adjusting themselves to the new relation than that of trying to do each by the other what men are accustomed to call 'the square thing.' Many a woman understands 'managing' a husband better than she does doing the square thing by him, and many a man understands and practices doing the square thing by other men who would be affronted if he were to be told that, judged by his own business standards, he habitually dealt unfairly with his own wife."

"Stopped the Street Car." A well-known gentleman said to a street car conductor the other day. Please stop until I get off. My wife told me to be sure and get her a bottle of "Celery Wine." For a quick remedy and one that is perfectly safe for children let us recommend One Minute cough cure. It is excellent for croup, hoarseness, tickling in the throat and coughs. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. It is especially prized by mothers for their children, as it never fails to effect a speedy cure, and because they have found that there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. Sold by Patton Pharmacy, C. W. Hodgkins.

PAINFUL COMPLEXION.

It does not require an expert to detect the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow pearly-colored complexion indicates it.

A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull ache or pain in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or scalding in passing it, if after passing there is an unsatisfied feeling as if it must be at once repeated, or if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symptoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of the bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and sometimes requiring the drawing of the urine with instruments, or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is world-wide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer any length of time for want of it.

However, if you prefer to first test its wonderful merits, mention THE PATTON COURIER and write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle and a book telling all about, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Not one child dies where ten formerly died from croup. People have learned the value of One Minute cough cure, and use it for severe lung and throat troubles. It immediately stops coughing. It never fails. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.

FAMOUS SHEEP DOGS.

THESE CANINE WONDERS CAME FROM NEW ZEALAND.

A Batch of Stories, Illustrating the Rare Intelligence and Faithfulness of the Animals. Told by an Old Time Colorado Sheep Man.

"The most celebrated breed of shepherd dog ever known in the west," said Jud Bristol, the old time sheep man of Fort Collins, Colo., "were those bred from a pair of New Zealand dogs brought to Colorado in 1873. I had several of their pups on my ranges and could fill a volume with instances of their rare intelligence and faithfulness."

"I remember one pup in particular. He was only six months old when he became a hero, due to work on the range. At night, when the herd was brought up to the corral, we saw at once that a part of the herd was missing. There were 1,600 head in the bunch when they went out in the morning but when we put them through the shed we found that 200 were missing. The pup was also missing."

"Well, all hands turned out for the search. We hunted all the night and all of the next day, and did not find the lost sheep until about toward night. But there they were, all herded in a little draw, about five miles from home, and there was the faithful dog standing guard. The wolves were very plentiful in those days, and the dog had actually hidden the sheep from the animals in the draw. The poor fellow was nearly famished, as he had been for 36 hours without food or water. From that day he became a hero, but was so badly affected by hunger, exposure and thirst and subsequent overfeeding and petting that he did not long afterward."

"This same pup's mother was an especially fine animal. One night the herder brought in his flock and hurried to his cabin to cook himself some supper, for he was more than usually hungry. But he missed the dog, which usually followed him to the cabin of an evening to have her supper. The herder thought rather strange of it, but made no search for the dog that night. But when he went down to the corral the next morning he found the gate open and the faithful dog standing guard over the flocks. The herder, in his haste the night before, had forgotten to close the gate, and the dog, more faithful than her master, had remained at her post all night, though suffering from hunger and thirst."

"On another occasion this same dog was left to watch a flock of sheep near the herder's cabin while the herder got his supper. After the herder had eaten his supper he went out to where the sheep were and told the dog to put the sheep in the corral. This she refused to do, and although she had had no supper she started off over the prairie as fast as she could go. The herder put the sheep in the corral and went to bed. About midnight he was awakened by the loud barking of a dog down by the corral. He got up, dressed himself and found the dog with a band of about 50 sheep, which had strayed off during the previous day without the herder's knowledge; but the poor dog knew it, and also knew that they ought to be corralled, and she did it."

"Another good story of this same dog: One day she was sent out with a new herder to watch an outlying ranch some 15 miles distant. That night she came home, and by her actions told us that there was something wrong at the ranch. Well, we mounted our bronchos and went over to the ranch, and very soon found out what the matter was. The new herder was simply a tramp, who as soon as he had got a good feed had lit out and left the sheep uncared for save by his more faithful companion, the dog."

"One time we had a tenderfoot come to work for us, and the boys had filled him so full of hair raising stories that he never went out on the range without expecting to be either eaten by bears or scalped by Indians. One day he came running to the house, all out of breath, declaring that he had seen a bear. We laughed at him and sent him back to the range."

"A few days afterward he came in again, more scared than ever, and said it was a bear that time sure. Well, we took our guns and a foxhound and went out, and sure enough, over on a hill we saw a large black animal. It wasn't a bear, but we couldn't make out exactly what it was. We sent the hound and the shepherd dog that was tending the herd out on its trail, while we followed on foot. The dogs chased the animal over the hill out of sight. Soon the shepherd dog came trotting leisurely back and took her place with the herd again. Over in a gulch we found the hound standing over a dead animal, which upon examination we found to be a big black Mexican sheep. Now that shepherd dog, as soon as she found it was nothing but a sheep, had given up the chase and returned to her flock. She knew it was not game and of no account, while the hound had followed the trail and killed the sheep."—Denver Post.

Pope Leo XIII Before the Biograph.

Despite his dislike to be photographed, Pope Leo XIII has permitted himself to be pictured by the Biograph, and a number of the most interesting portraits will be found in the March Ladies' Home Journal. They show the venerable Pontiff in the grounds of the Vatican, passing along his favorite walks and drives, attended by his secretary, guards, or members of his household. The pictures are exceedingly interesting in showing the Pope as he lives at the Vatican, and his surroundings, and are doubly valuable because they are the first pictures that have been made of the Pope in a great many years.

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Should any sufferer profit by giving Pain Balm a trial it will please me." For sale by Patton Pharmacy, C. W. Hodgkins.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and was at last told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—Josh. Edgar, Germantown, Cal. For sale by Patton Pharmacy, C. W. Hodgkins.
