A TRAPPED BURGLAR

THE NICELY PREPARED BAIT WAS EAGERLY TAKEN.

It cost the burglar $500 or $500, and it cost the burglar four years' time. "Of course," said the retired burglar, "a man in my business is always on the lookout for traps and most of them can circumvent without much trouble.

An Ordinance Relating to Dogs and Bitches Running at Large, requiring same to have Collar and Number, and imposing a Tax on Owners of the same, requiring Bitches while in Season to be shut up, &c.

SECTION 1. That from and after the first Monday of June, 1899, all dogs and bitches running at large in the Borough of Patton shall be required to be registered and to wear a collar and tag with the number of the dog engraved on the tag, the collar to be furnished by the owner of the dog and the tag and number to be furnished by the Town Council, which number and tag to be furnished to the owner of the dog by the Secretary of the Town Council on payment of the tax hereinafter mentioned.

SECTION 2. Any dog or bitch found running at large in the Borough without being registered and having collar and number shall be captured by the Chief of Police or High Constable and impounded, of which notice shall be given by at least six written or printed notices describing said dog posted in as many conspicuous places in said Borough, for at least twenty-four hours after impounding said dog; if the owner of said dog impounded shall come within said time and redeem said dog by paying the tax imposed and a fine of not less than fifty cents nor more than two dollars with costs of arrest he shall be released, if said dog or bitch shall not be redeemed, it shall be the duty of the Chief of Police or High Constable to forthwith kill the same.

The Honey-moon. An early Anglo-Saxon custom, strictly followed by newly married couples, was that of drinking nuptial honey for 30 days after marriage. From this custom comes the word honeymoon or honeymoon.

WHAT SHALL WE DO?

A serious and dangerous disease prevails in this country, dangerous because so deceptive. It comes on so slowly yet surely that it is often firmly seated before we are aware of it. The name of this disease, which may be divided into three stages is, First, Kidney trouble, indicated by pain in the back, rheumatism, lamboago, frequent desire to urinate, often with a burning sensation, the flow of urine being copious or scant with strong odor.

As a proof of the wonderful virtues of this great remedy, Swamp-Root, a sample bottle and book of valuable information will be sent absolutely free by mail on application to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 45.

SECTION 1. That from and after the first Monday of June, 1899, all dogs and bitches running at large in the Borough of Patton shall be required to be registered and to wear a collar and tag with the number of the dog engraved on the tag, the collar to be furnished by the owner of the dog and the tag and number to be furnished by the Town Council, which number and tag to be furnished to the owner of the dog by the Secretary of the Town Council on payment of the tax hereinafter mentioned.

SECTION 3. It shall be the duty of the owner of all dogs and bitches in the Borough of Patton on or before the 1st Monday of June, 1899, and annually thereafter to have such dog or bitch registered by the Secretary of the Town Council to pay a tax of fifty cents for each dog and one dollar for each bitch so owned and registered, the same to be paid to the Secretary for the use of the Borough; it shall be the duty of the Secretary to give the dog so registered a number and the name of the owner of the same in a book to be kept for that purpose which number shall be worn by the dog and which shall be evidence of such registration.

SECTION 4. That no female dog or bitch, while in season, shall be permitted to run at large in the Borough; it shall be the duty of the owner or owners of the same to keep such female dogs shut up in some secure place while in this condition.

FIRST TO GROW ORANGES.

Jeunite introduced them into the Pelican State. The orange of Louisiana is an exceptionally fine variety of that fruit and commands a good price in the market. The orange was first introduced into colonial Louisiana by the Jesuits, having been first grown by the members of the society on their grounds, which formerly comprised that part of the city of New Orleans which constitutes the lower part of the first district, down to Common street.

The sweetness, delicacy and juiciness of the Louisiana orange, the best of which are regarded in the markets outside of Louisiana as superior to even the oranges of Cuba, to which island the fruit is indigenous, render the Louisiana oranges highly prized in the north and west of the United States, so much so that the supply is not by any means equal to the demand—New Orleans, Pictorial.

TAYLORS AND SMYTHS.

They were the Commonest Trades in the Thirteenth Century. The manufacture of leather in the thirteenth century seems to have been important, showing that leather jerkins and breeches were commonly worn. We have 19 skynners, 40 barkers, 6 saddle-makers and 8 glovers.

SECTION 5. It shall be the duty of the Chief of Police to seize and shut up in some secure place each and every female dog running at large while in season in said Borough, and shall be his duty to notify the owner of the same, who may if they pay a fine of two dollars and costs of arrest, to the Burgess for the use of the Borough, within six hours from the time of receiving said notice duly given, redeem said female dog or bitch, otherwise the Chief of Police or High Constable shall forthwith kill and bury the same.

My introduction to this prince of the Pacific was on this wise. My brother and I were trolling for yellowtail off the island of Santa Catalina. Suddenly out of the summer sea a flying fish—the humming bird of ocean—flashed athwart our bows and then, not a dozen yards distant, the waters parted and a huge tuna, in its resplendent livery of blue and silver, scooped with indescribable strength and rapidity upon its quarry, catching it, mirabile dictu, in midair. In a fraction of a second the deed was done. The ocean, recording the splash of the leviathan, rippled applause, and our questions pattered like hail upon the somewhat hard understanding of our boatman, a son of Alasca.

Two Points of View. "My children," said the poor man sadly, "are crying for bread." "Which shows," replied the rich man coldly, "how much you have to be thankful for. Now, mine are crying for bouillons."—Brooklyn Life.
