Consumption

is robbed of its terrors by the fact that the best medical authorities state that it is a curable disease; and one of the happy things about it is, that its victims rarely ever lose hope.

You know there are all sorts of secret nostrums advertised to cure consumption. Some make absurd claims. We only say that if taken in time and the laws of health are properly observed, will heal the inflammation of the throat and lungs and nourish and strengthen the body so that it can throw off the disease.

We have thousands of testimonials where people claim they have been permanently cured of this malady.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

I had stomach trouble twenty years and gave up hope of being cured till I began to use Kodol dyspepsia cure. It has done me so much good I call it the savior of my life. Writes W. R. Wilkinson, Albany, Tenn. It digests what you eat. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.

Longest Span in the World.

The Phoenixville Bridge Company has won the contract to build the great steel bridge across the St. Lawrence River at Quebec. The contract price approximates $4,000,000. The Carnegie Company was an unsuccessful competitor for 37,000 tons of steel which will be in the bridge, besides thousands of tons of other material. The great Tay bridge in Scotland will be thrown in the shade by this one, one of the greatest structures in height, weight and length of span in the world. Including its approaches this bridge will be 4,000 feet long and will stretch 150 feet above the St. Lawrence. Its two end spans will each be 600 feet long, its middle span, the longest on earth or over it, will be 1,800 feet long. Some idea of its splendid span may be formed from the fact that it will carry a weight of 10,000 tons for 1,800 feet, 150 feet above the river.

Reduced rates in Wilkesbarre.

Tickets will not be good for passage on New York and Chicago Limited Express, and are good for continuous passage only in each direction.

W. S. Musser, Millheim, Pa., saved the life of his little girl by giving her one minute cough cure when she was dying from croup. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate relief. It quickly cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, grippe, asthma, and all throat and lung trouble. C. W. Hodgkins, Patton Pharmacy.

Ventilation.

There should be plenty of white space in an advertisement and that white space should be well distributed and clean looking. Don't let your advertisement look choked for breathing room. Ventilation in an advertisement suggests healthfulness and prosperity, a liberal mindedness that it will be a pleasure to meet in a business way. An advertisement that looks as though its owner was afraid some little quarter of an inch of space would be paid for without being utilized, puts the prospective customer in an unconscious attitude of dealing with a close-fisted merchant. Do not let your white space be filled with knickknacks or ornaments which printers are so prone to use. You would not clutter up your lawn with cast-iron dogs or deers; look at your advertising lawn in the same way.—Profitable Advertising.

Beech Creek Officers Elected.

Officers of the Beech Creek railroad were elected at a meeting of the New York Central railroad stockholders in Philadelphia as follows: President, M. E. Olmsted; directors, W. K. Vanderbilt, C. P. Depew, F. G. Baer, W. D. Kelly, James Kerr and Charles Miller.

He is Only a Printer.

"He is only a printer." Such was the sneering remark of a leader in a circle of aristocracy—the codfish quality—a few evenings ago at this place. Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. What was Prince Edward William and Prince Napoleon? Proud to call themselves printers. The Czar of Russia and Duke of Battenberg are printers, and the Emperor of China works in a printing office almost every day.

William Caxton, the father of English literature, was a practical printer.

What was G. P. Morris, N. P. Willis, James Gale, James Parker, Horace Greeley, Charles Dickens, James Buchanan, Simon Cameron and Schuyler Colfax? Printers, all, and practical ones. Also Bayard Taylor the poet. Mart Twain, Amos Cummings, Bret Harte, Opie Reid are plain printers, as were Artemus Ward, Petroleum V. Nasby and Sut Lovingood. Senator Plumb was a printer, and so is James S. Hogg, of Texas, and leader of science and philosophy, Benjamin Franklin, in his day made his boat that he was a printer; also the score or more now serving in the Congress of the United States, are only printers. In fact thousands of the most brilliant minds in the country, many graduates from all known colleges, are to be found printing in the publishing houses of large cities and towns. It is not every one that can be a printer—brains are absolutely necessary.—Liaison (O.) Patriot.

Reduced rates to Philadelphia.

On account of the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia, June 19, the Pennsylvania Railroad company will sell excursion tickets to Philadelphia from all stations on its line at rate of one fare for the round trip (minimum rate 50 cents). Tickets will be sold and good going June 15 to 19 inclusive; and returning to June 20, inclusive.

Reduced Rates to Washington.

For the Imperial Council, Order of the Mystic Shrine, at Washington, D. C., May 22-24, the Pennsylvania Railroad will sell tickets to the general public from all stations on its line to Washington and return, at rate of one fare for the round trip. Tickets to be sold and good going May 19-21, returning to May 23, inclusive.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Anyone who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's pain balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and the hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Patton Pharmacy C. W. Hodgkins.

Notice!

Notice is hereby given to parents and others that hereafter there shall be no loading or lounging in and about the halls of the Good Building. Either children or adults found loitering or loading in and about the same will be treated as trespassers, taken in custody by the police and otherwise dealt with as the law directs. Arrangements have been made to effectually carry out this regulation and costs to parents may be saved by keeping children from violating the same. Geo. S. Good, April 2, 1900.—1917

Identified.

A richly dressed woman entered the office of a trust company in Philadelphia the other day to rent a box. "Have you any one to identify you?" asked the attendant. "Certainly not," said the woman indignantly. "Everybody knows who I am." "That may be," was the reply, "but I don't know that you are the woman of that name."

Just then another woman, who had been transacting some business, raised her head, and a frigid nod passed between them. "Do you know this woman?" asked the bank official.

"I don't want to know her," snapped the woman. "She lives next door to me, and I instruct her footman to kick my dog, just because it chanced to be on her step. You needn't ask me to identify her, for I won't."

"I wouldn't let you identify me," retorted the applicant for a box. "I think you have acted horribly about your old dog, and you left the Dorcas society, telling everybody you wouldn't belong as long as I was a member. A nice Christian spirit!"

In the meantime the bank official, entirely satisfied that the identification was complete, handed over the key to the box, to the ill concealed chagrin of the other woman, who had identified her against her will.—New York Tribune.

Thought They Were Dogs.

Summer in Dawson City is delightful, and even the winters, say those who have staid there in that season, are glorious. Many are the stories told about the wonderful beauties of the trail over the ice and the White pass, where even women have gone, handling their dogs from day to day as the men handled theirs. Every man and woman there has a story, all interesting and some thrilling.

"I used to like to start out first in the morning," said a Detroit woman. "Once, as I hurried my dogs down the trail in the gray dawn, I saw three stray animals romping on the way. Now, if you catch up with a stray dog on the trail, he is yours; so, my heart fluttering with joy, I began whistling to the half wild creatures.

"At first they paid no attention to me, but kept romping and leaping frogging up and down the trail. I frowned up my team and put myself in front, the better to make my peace with the renegades.

"When we had come within 100 yards of them, they stopped playing, sat down and stared at us. I whistled again, and they all ran. How foolish I felt when it suddenly dawned on me that I had been trying to harness three wild wolves!"—New York Independent.

He Couldn't Solve It.

As a train is approaching a town in the Great Northern railway in Ireland an intelligent-looking young Irishman observed a lady standing up searching her pocket. She commenced to weep. "Have you been robbed?" he asked. "Oh, no," she replied. "I've lost my ticket, and they will accuse me of fraud."

Seeing her distressed state of mind, he said: "Oh, don't mind. Here, take my ticket, and I will give the guard a problem," while their fellow passengers awaited the scene at the station with interest.

When the train stopped, the guard collected all the tickets but one. "Where is your ticket?" he asked the young man.

"You have got my ticket," he replied. "No, I have not got it. I'll call the station master and see about it."

"There is your ticket," asked the station master when he appeared.

"He has my ticket. See if he has a ticket in his hand with a small piece off the corner?"

"Yes, you have, Dave. There it is."

"Well, see what 'it' is," said Pat, handing him the small piece, and it did. A look of surprise crept over the guard's face as he left the carriage, while Pat exhaled much amusement by exclaiming: "Begorra, I knew he could not solve it!"—London Tit-Bits.
