A church bell cracked in ringing at the village of Schleitheim, Schaffhausen, Germany a few days ago. When taken down it was found to be of the year 1492. Accordingly it is older than the Schaffhausen bell which inspired Schiller's poem.

On Monday F. V. Perry, of this place, purchased the Kuhn heirs coal land, situated in Beccaria township, about a mile south-west of this place. There are two hundred and twenty-one acres in the tract and the coal is of an excellent quality. - Coalport Standard.

An aged farmer of Allegheny township this exhorted his son: "Now don't fergit while you're in Ebensburg to git some of them 'lectric light plants we been so much about. We kin 'ja' as well raise 'em ourselves an, save kerosene. Bert Cresswell has 'em." - Mountaineer-Herald.

Claire Gussanilla, who has been employed by the G. S. Good Electric Light Company, of Patton, for many months past, departed Monday for Johnstown, where he will be employed on a construction crew by the Central District Printing & Telegraph Company. Here is good luck to you Claire.

There is really no home life in Korea, because woman are not recognized in the home. If a man meets his wife on the street he does not notice her, while she, if she sees him in time, slips out of sight if she can. It is not necessary to go to Korea to see the above state of affairs, because the same frequently happens right here in Patton.

The Berwind-White company is prospecting at Brisbin for the lower vein with fair prospects of finding what they are after. If this should be the case Houtzdale and Brisbin will enjoy a return of the prosperity that once existed there. As the tide is turning their way, five families having recently moved back from Windber. - Phillipsburg Ledger.

The Lock Haven Democrat says that Wilfred Strunk, of Beech Creek, was giggering in the Bald Eagle dam at Howard a few nights ago and captured two fish larger than any fresh fish ever seen in that town. One was a German carp which weighed fourteen pounds and six ounces; the other a leather carp which weighed fourteen pounds. In all he had eight sharp, the total weight of which was ninety pounds.

According to a story told by John Lowe, Assessor Somerville had quite a time in making bicycle assessments in the western part of town. By the new law compelling assessors to assess all wheels, also all dogs, it keeps them wide awake while on their rounds.

Harvey Bennett and wife, of Beech avenue, were called to Grantman, Pa., Monday on account of the death of Mrs. Bennett's father, John Gabrielson. The deceased was well known in Patton, having resided here several years. He was aged about sixty-five years. Further particulars could not be ascertained.

J. C. Harmon, of Penfield, was sentenced Tuesday last, at Clearfield to eight months in the county jail for man-slaughter. Harmon was a store-keeper at Penfield, and in his place of business brained Ezekiel Hewitt with a weight as the result of a quarrel about the delivery of goods. The judge in passing sentence, explained his leniency by expressing a doubt as to Harmon's intention to kill his customer.

Mrs. R. M. Kinkead returned Saturday evening from Lebanon, Pa., where she was attending the Grand Temple Session of the Ladies of the Golden Eadie as a representative from Patton. While in the above city she was a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Weida, formerly of this place. Mrs. Kinkead says the Doctor and family are getting along fine and they send their best wishes to their many friends in this place.

Charles Robinson, the Spruce Creek telegraph operator who riddled the body of John O'Neil with bullets, on the morning of January 17th because of his alleged improper relations with Robinson's wife, was acquitted at Huntington last week, the jury being out seven hours. The sympathy of the people was with the prisoner, but the verdict is a surprise, as a manslaughter verdict was expected. The jury believed that Robinson was temporarily insane from emotion.

A few days ago Ralph D. Olark, of New Bloomfield, Perry county, hired a horse and buggy from Liveryman Harvey Flickering and drove to Bloomfield Junction, two miles from town, where he hitched the horse and made a call on a young lady. Sometime during the evening the horse broke the hitching strap and came home without a driver. It went to the livery stable, which is situated near the little creek, south of town, and in wandering about the stable the doors being closed, the horse fell over the stone wall into the creek and was drowned. Its body was discovered the next morning in the creek with the buggy on top of it.

Engineer Wolfkill, of the Pennsylvania and Northwestern, had an experience last Monday that made his hair stand on end and his eyes stick out like saucers, as it were. He was coming to Punxsy with a train of empties with the exception of the third car from the engine which contained powder. The car was to be left at McGees, as the woods on both sides of the track between Sidney and Hillman are on fire. The car was forgotten however, until the train was in the midst of the roaring flames, when to the horror of the crew the car behind and in front of the car containing powder was seen to be on fire. It did not take the crew long to realize their danger. They dared not stop in the midst of the flames that were leaping all around them, but renewed speed was added to the train and as soon as a clear space was reached the fire on the cars was extinguished, but it was a close shave. - Punxsatwey News.
