SCOTT'S EMULSION

is a food medicine for the baby that is thin and not well nourished and for the mother whose milk does not nourish the baby.

It is equally good for the boy or girl who is thin and pale and not well nourished by their food; also for the anemic or consumptive adult that is losing flesh and strength.

In fact, for all conditions of wasting, it is the food medicine that will nourish and build up the body and give new life and energy when all other means fail.

Should be taken in summer as well as winter.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

FOUR DIRECTORS MAKE NEW RULES.

The following will be of interest to many readers.

For the first time in the history of Cambria county, the Directors of the Poor and House of Employment have adopted rules and regulations governing the action of the Directors and the physicians and deputies employed by Board.

All relief heretofore rendered to paupers, whether for medical attendance or otherwise, must be furnished at the Almshouse, except in such cases as the Directors may deem it proper and convenient to authorize that the pauper be maintained elsewhere.

No payment will be made for other medical attendance or relief furnished any outdoor, except in extreme cases when delay would endanger life, or when it would be impossible to remove the patient to the Almshouse, or when aid shall have been rendered by special order of the Directors or approved by them.

After an application for relief is made it will be investigated by one of the Directors, and in cases where he finds it necessary to send the pauper to the Almshouse, he may depute some one provided nothing but the traveling expenses actually incurred shall be paid.

Undertakers will be allowed $13.50 for adults, and $10.50 for children for burials including coffin. Every pauper child will be placed in a good family as soon as possible, to be regularly adopted after the fitness of the selection has been demonstrated.

SAVED A CHILD.

Conductor's Brave Feat in Plucking a Child From Track.

From Clinton Democrat. Samuel Sorochecker, a Philadelphia and Reading railroad conductor, is the hero of a thrilling rescue that took place on the Reading tracks at Williamsport Saturday night.

Conductor Sorochecker also saw the girl's peril, and springing from the door leading through the cab he ran along the sideboard of the engine and swung himself from the supporting bar far out over the cowcatcher.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

A Prominent Virginia Editor Had Almost Given up, but Was Brought Back to Perfect Health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Read His Editorial.

From the Times, Hillsdale, Va.

I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured.

I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it.

After taking a few doses, I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man to-day and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. Moore. Sold by Patton Pharmacy C. W. Hodgkins.

Loaves Good to Eat.

All native African races eat loaves. With many it takes, and has to take, the place of the British workman's beef and mutton. In a good many villages and cities loaves are an article of commerce. The Swindones are particularly fond of them.

Before they are eaten they are toasted. The wings and legs having first been torn off, the long, soft body and the crisp head form the delicacy.

I determined not to let my European prejudices influence me, but to give I thought how John the Baptist had enjoyed them plus wild honey.

The one I was eating was rather nice. I agreed with my Arab servant that, should the meat supply fall short, a dish of loaves would be a very good substitute.

By the time I was eating the second loaves it seemed to me the absurd why one should have a sort of lurking pity for John the Baptist's daily menu unless it be for its monotony, and I felt convinced that I should get tired of honey sooner than I should of loaves.—Current Literature.

The Song of the Yukon River.

"There is something peculiar about the Yukon river that I have never heard of in connection with any other stream," said Captain Gray, who has been running boats on the big Alaska artery. "From the mouth of the Yukon up as far as there is any navigable water the stream is constantly singing. No matter where you are, there is a sound like that made by escaping steam. At first I used to think that maybe it came from the boiler or engines. But when we were tied up at night, with everything cold, the sound was the same. I have puzzled my brain to find an explanation of the phenomenon, but without avail. The singing goes on day and night.

"When you get up stream some distance, you can also hear the rocks rolling over the bed of the river, and this produces a most peculiar sound."—Portland Telegram.

Franks of Explosions.

Gunpowder explosions have one remarkable feature. The bodies of persons killed in such an accident are always found without clothing, but frequently one foot will have the shoe on. This is true of horses also. If one of the feet be in the air and another on the ground, the shoe will be found torn from the foot that was on the ground and not from the other.

When men are killed in powder explosions, the foot that happens to be found wearing the shoe, while the other foot will be bare.

Making It Clear.

A newly appointed French mayor inaugurated his regime by a notice to the following effect:

"On the feast of our patron saint the fire brigade will be reviewed in the afternoon if it rains in the morning and in the morning if it rains in the afternoon."

He—Look here, Matilda, I'm not quite such an idiot as I look!

She (soothingly)—No, dear; I'm sure you're not!

Reading a Book.

A writer in the New York Medical Journal says that the curved pages of the ordinary book are injurious to the eye of the reader. The curvature necessitates a constant change of the focus of the eye as it reads from one side to another, and the ciliary muscles are under a constant strain. Moreover, the light falls unequally upon both sides of the page, further interfering with a continued clear field of vision. It is suggested that the difficulty might be obviated if the lines should be printed parallel to the binding instead of at right angles to it.

Go!.

The game of golf was put down by an act of parliament in Scotland in 1552 as a nuisance. Then fines were inflicted on people who were found guilty of playing the game, for it interfered with the practice of archery, as ten preferred wielding the club to pulling the bow.
