In many of the census returns from the Southern States men of means and leisure are entered in the occupation column as "gentlemen," and in one instance as "rich."

Messrs. J. A. Lord, of Hastings, and A. K. Huber, of Patton, who had the contract for the new barn at the almshouse, completed their job on Tuesday.

There are 1873 perches of stone in the walls and people who have seen the work say it is a fine specimen of masonry. The Poor Directors are highly pleased with the promptness of Messrs. Lord & Huber, in doing the work and with the character of the work done.

The Perry County Democrat says that while Mrs. Alfred Kell was cleaning the garage at the home of her father, Joseph Hart, in Saxville, township, west of Mansville, on Thursday, her little 1-year-old baby, who was crawling about on the floor, crawled to a garage window and fell out.

The child fell a distance of thirty-five feet and struck the ground with great force. It was unconscious when picked up and for several days was not expected to live, but it has now about recovered and is able to stand up.

No bones were broken. That it was not instantly killed is almost miraculous. FROM STATE TO STATE. How a Clever Dodger Managed to Escape Arrest for a Year.

Where the States of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York come together on an island in the Delaware river, a block of granite, known as the "Tri-State Monument," has been located and is the object of much interest.

Many years ago, when only a huge boulder marked the spot, a neighborhood character called "Red" conceived the idea of building a cabin around the stone. He had a reason for this.

He frequently robbed houses and stole from the farmers of the neighborhood. He built a rude log cabin with the stone in its center. When the New Jersey Constable came to arrest the man, he found the cabin empty.

The man who was arrested was the part of the room in New York or Pennsylvania, and the New Jersey Constable could not take him without a requisition. He escaped the Constables from the other two States in like manner.

Finally Constables from all three States came together. He lay on the stone, with his legs in New York and Pennsylvania and his head in New Jersey. The Constables did not know what to do in this new situation, and in the midst of excitement he fell over into one of the States and was made a prisoner.

COW CAUSES FATAL WRECK. Four Killed and One Fatally Injured in Center County Disaster. One of the worst wrecks in the history of Center County occurred on the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad, two miles east of Howard, Sunday afternoon.

A BRAKEMAN CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Altoona, Young Man meets a Horrible Fate at Spangler. William McEwen, a young man of Altoona, employed as a brakeman on the Pittsburg Division on the P. R. R., was fatally injured at Spangler Friday morning at 5:30 o'clock.

When he met his death McEwen was a member of Conductor James Godfrey's crew, which left Altoona Friday with a train for the Cambria and Clearfield Division. At Spangler McEwen stepped between two cars to cut out the air for air brakes. The train parted at the point he had entered and then ran together again.

The train struck the wheels and four cars passed over him. Both legs were crushed. He was taken to the Altoona Hospital, where examination showed his injuries to be fatal, amputation being useless, as he was too weak to stand the shock.

McEwen was 20 years old and was a native of Irwona, Clearfield county, where his body was taken Monday for interment. He is survived by his father and two sisters, Mrs. W. E. Hoffman, of Tyrona, and Miss Winsie, of Irwona.

RUBBERING FOR A CHURCH. Young Women Use a Novel Method of Raising Money. The young women of the Christian Endeavor Society of Freehold, Perth Amboy, and other New York towns have been working a novel scheme recently for raising money.

It is called "rubbering for the church," and consists in the collection and sale to junk dealers of old rubber shoes, garden and fire hose, and other articles of rubber. They get six cents a pound for old rubber shoes and one and a-half cents for the hose, etc.

The young women first district their city, in order to divide the work, and then they visit every residence in the place, telling the housewife that they will call again on a certain day, when they were to be handed out all the old rubber shoes, etc., in the house.

On the day named the Endeavorers start out, each district committee with a big market wagon, and gather in the contributions. Many of the young women—some of them wearing dresses and jewelry worth three times as much as their whole collections of old rubber—will bring—have little express wagons, which they pull along the pavement from house to house, and when filled empty them into the larger wagon.

The proceeds run all the way from $10 to $100. The old shoes go back to the manufacturers and are worked over into new goods. Tea at all prices, Mellon's. Citizens Condemnations.

The population of the earth doubles itself in 250 years. About 200 ton of refuse are swept off the London streets daily. There are 200,000 more manufacturing establishments in this country than there were in 1890.

Nebraska has never raised so large a crop of lamb as this year. Texas has its largest crop for eight years. During the month of Sept. 257 cases of yellow fever were reported in Havana, with a mortality of 25 per cent.

The Hebrew population of London has more than doubled during the last 20 years. It is now estimated at between 100,000 and 120,000. Between tattle hawkers and harvesters it is said that there has been 30,000 weavers from Ireland employed in Scotland during the past month.

TRAIN'S SPEED SAVES LIVES. P. R. R. Car Bound by an Explosion, Falls Back on the Tracks. Many lives were saved early Monday morning by the high rate of speed at which the Pennsylvania Limited was traveling.

The explosion lifted the car completely off the rails, almost destroyed the smoking compartment, tore a large hole in the ballast of the track, and twisted the rails all out of shape. Remarkably enough, the car dropped back upon the track, and the entire train safely passed over the torn and twisted rails.

Railroad men say that had not the train been traveling as fast as it was, the cars inevitably must have been derailed and a terrible accident resulted. Beyond a severe shaking up in their berths, the passengers in the Pittsburg coach suffered no injury.

Many Hiding Places. About six weeks ago Margaret and Nancy Spier, two maiden women of Bonburg, Centre county, died within four days of each other. It was known that they were wealthy and with both disposed of a large estate.

Public sale of the personal property was held recently and when the appraisers were making the appraisal of the household effects they were surprised to find money in many queer places. Bills were sewed underneath table covers and carpets; paper money and gold was found in old tin cans in the attic; in old stockings in wardrobes and elsewhere.
