

A Rainy Day. "O naughty rain, please go away,"
A little girl was heard to say One very dull and rainy day, Please, won't you go away?"

"But, little girl," a voice replied,
"Dry weather's what we can't abide;
We'd always like this rain supplied.
It's lovely out to-day!

We really do dislike the sun.
As trops and ducks have always done;
And therefore, being two to one, We'll ask the rain to stay!"

The little girl, surprised, looked out And saw the ducks and frogges rout, And in the puddles splash about. And watched them at their play!

The rain continued all the day.
The fregs and ducks stayed out to play.
A little girl was heard to say.
"I'm so glad it rained to day!"
