Among the many new subscribers to the COURIER in Hastings is Patrick Donahue, who recently moved here from Reynoldsville. Mr. Donahue enjoys the distinction of being a comrad of President McKinley during the war of the rebellion, both being members of Co. E, 23rd Regt. Ohio volunteers. He enlisted on June 13, 1864. Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes was also a member of this company. Both McKinley and Hayes enlisted as privates and marched side by side with Mr. Donahue. The latter is a miner by occupation.

Agitation has already begun to pave at least one street in Hastings during the coming summer. And why not? The town is big enough and progressive enough to have it done instanter.

The majority of the people here are tired of walking around in mud holes nine months out of the twelve. With the future material prosperity of the town assured, it is something that ought to be done before many moons have waxed and waned.

The greatest danger from colds and influenza is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. It will cure a cold or an attack of influenza in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Gunn's Pharmacy, Hastings, and C. W. Hodgkins, Patton.

The plays presented by the Conway, Mack and Edwards Comedy Co. at the Hastings opera house Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of last week were high grade productions.

Owing to the severe cold weather, the attendance was light.

NEW WASHINGTON

There is much sadness in our town owing to the death of two of our young men. Bert Mahaffey was buried Thursday afternoon. His cousin, James Cummings, died Friday morning, funeral Sabbath afternoon. Both being ill such a short time the news came as a shock to everybody. The sorrowing families have the sympathy of all.

George Gallaher and family, of Pittsburg, who have been spending a few days in this place, returned home Monday.

Abram Haywood, formerly of this place, is now engaged in coal mining in British Columbia near where the recent big mine explosion occurred entailing the loss of so many lives. Mr. Haywood is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. John Daft, of Hastings.

If you want to drive dull care away, call at the pool and billiard hall of C. L. Beckwith on Hastings street. You will be cordially welcomed and guaranteed a good time. All kinds of tobacco and cigars for sale.

If you want to read the best paper in Cambria county for a year, hand a dollar to Chas. G. Fagan for the COURIER. The Hastings edition is a permanent and special feature.

C. C. Richner has ordered a complete new set of furniture for his barber shop. Mr. Richner is one of the most progressive and up-to-date tonsorial artists in this section.

The family of J. P. Fongholser, who have been confined to the past month by sickness, are slowly improving.

It will pay you to see Jas. Commons & Son before buying furniture.

WESTOVER

The diamond drill crew suspended operations last week after finding all the coal they expected to, and now there are more than two hundred and fifty men at work. Some are building tram road, laying track, building houses, tipple, etc., others are surveying, driving maies, placing ties, building powder houses, blacksmith shops, stables, boarding houses; in fact, almost any kind of work mentionable. New machinery of all kinds is arriving daily. The tannery is also being enlarged to double its present capacity.

Machinery being put in for the purpose of unhairing and fleshing hides and many other improvements. A new telephone line is being run through town, and more than fifty new dwelling houses have been erected with good prospects for more, and the shipping of hundreds of tons of coal daily is a certainty, if there is the least bit of reliance to be placed in a dream.

Prof. J. J. Coffey, of Powelltown, Centre county, spent Sunday last with friends at this place. He taught our grammar school here for several terms, and is considered one of the best men that ever wielded the ruler in a school room, being a man of exemplary habits and as an instructor and friend, the professor stands without a peer. Come again Prof., we are always glad to see you.

The general store of A. B. McHenry was sold out last week by the Sheriff. The goods were fortunately returned to the family, being bought by Miss Maud and Cecil, son and daughter of A. B. McHenry, who will conduct the business successfully hereafter.

Mrs. E. Rainey and three children have been confined to their home for several weeks with typhoid fever. We are glad to learn that they are at present improving, but say they are not yet out of danger.

Mrs. Armstrong Woods fell against a buggy shaft several days ago and broke both bones of her left arm. By being careful and carrying the injured member in a sling she is able to walk around.

Sunday while James Adleman and wife were coming from Glen Campbell in a sleigh they got in a drift and upset, breaking one of Mr. A's ribs and injuring him slightly otherwise.

Grandmother Wholley is poorly with the grippe. Being 83 years of age her chances for recovery are considered a little doubtful.

Mrs. Charles King was able last week to walk a few steps, the first after a serious sickness covering a period of several months.

Miss Olive W. Beckey has returned to her home after an extended visit with friends at Alum Bank, Bedford county.

The snow storms were so heavy last week that business was practically suspended during the fore part of the week.

Constable's W. E. and P. E. Moore were victims of the grippe last week. Election is over, and everybody happy, with a few exceptions.

Vincent Moore at present is seriously ill.

A Convincing Answer.

"I lobbied into Mr. Blackmon's drug store one evening," says Wesley Nelson, of Hamilton, Ga., "and he asked me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with which I had suffered for a long time. I told him I had no faith in any medicine as they all failed. He said: 'well if Chamberlain's Pain Balm does not help you, you need not pay for it.' I took a bottle of it home and used it according to the directions and in one week I was cured, and have not since been troubled with rheumatism." For sale by Gunn's Pharmacy, Hastings, and C. W. Hodgkins, Patton.

Every good dresser has his garments tailored-to-measure. Because this service is valuable tailors often put a fancy price upon it.

Occasionally you'll find a man who thinks his clothes won't be quite the proper thing unless he pays this fancy price.

I used to think so myself, but I've learned differently, and I am now selling tailoring made by the house that showed me the difference between good tailoring at a fancy price and good tailoring at a common-sense price. That house is The Royal Tailors of Chicago.

All garments made strictly to measure. From any goods my customers may select. I have several hundred of the season's newest patterns in suitings and overcoatings. Satisfaction every line or no sale.
