DALY AND HACKMAN. lew Story Told of the Late Monta

When Marcus Daly was in Washon last it is told that he performed mane act which very nearly night a brutal back driver into the lice court, and was a topic of consation at the hotel and other places which Daly frequented. The story escaped the vigilance of the local newser fraternity, and is here published for the first time. Daly was coming out of Chamberlain's one morning when he espied a negro hackman brutally belaboring a crippled old horse with a heavy whip in an almost futile effort to increase its speed from a walk to a slow trot, says the Washington Post. Daly hailed the driver, who quickly drew rein and approached the curb with the prospects of obtaining a fare. "Where do you want to so to, boss" inquired the negro. "I'll sible to the fire for a minute or two. want to go with you to the police court horse," replied the millionaire. "You could coax the nag along faster with a spring of pleasure, and is an economical spring of pleasure, and is an economical spring of pleasure, and is an economical spring of pleasure. Plane Drapery.

The piano, unless treated decoratively, is a stiff article of furniture. As standing the back to the wall deadens its tones, music lovers are inclined to reverse the instrument and place the back toward the centre of the room. As that is unsightly, some drapery is needed, which should be rich and heavy. A good way is to cover the back with a broad, double box-pleating of silk, drape over the top and one side a hanging of the same colored plush. Should silk alone be used it should be richly embroidered. A musical score and musical instruments artistically grouped would be very effective. The embroidery should be in monotone. If the plane is placed diagonally across one corner the stiffness is relieved by standing behind it a handsome screen, preferably one of dark, rich coloring and matching or contrasting with the wood of the instrument. Wheat Crop Report and A most Everything Else Show Marked Improvement-Good Week for Flour and Grain Exports.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: Improving wheat crop reports, a pig iron production seldom exceeded, strong cash prices for all iron and steel products that can be delivered, heavy grain exports at good prices, activity in minor industries and a money market that imposes no hardship upon business, comprise the bright side of the picture of the week. Threatening labor troubles seem more remote. Steel mills are still much behind their orders and contracts for Bessemer pig for July delivery indicate that the activity is not considered temporary. Yet the wide difference in quotations between immediate and distant dates suggests some tear that present high prices cannot be maintained. Boward Gregg, of San Francisco, who spent several years in Johannesburg, says that the Boer is not fighting for a hopelessly lost cause. By that, he continued, I do not mean that he will again occupy the position he did prior to the commencement of hosbe declared, in which greater or less freedom and independence to the Boers as a nation will be guaranteed. Certainly Edward VII.'s proclamation naming Milner as a paramount lord of the Transvaal would seem to point in this direction. If England doesn't compromise with the Boers they will make her tenure of the country a disagreeable and expensive thing. I believe they can keep up the guerilla system of warfare they have embarked on for years, and so long as any of them are left in the field bearing arms England will be forced to maintain a heavy military establishment in South Africa, so heavy indeed, that it will soon prove a heart-breaking strain to

OH! FOR STRENGTH! Weak Nerves, Tired, Exhausted

The Complaint of Thousands upon

Dr. Greene's Nervura Makes You Strong and Well.

It is the Great Restorative of Brain and Nerves.

Oh, those nerves of ours, how they do bother us! Weak, tired, and neryous is the complaint everywhere. We overwork dissipate, weaken our bodies, ruin our health, and finally break down. Sleeplessness and indigestion are early symptoms, for the nerves are too exhausted and irritable to permit rest, and the stomach too weak to digest food. It is nerve and brain exhaustion which makes the brain tired, and the arm nerveless, the limbs trembling, the muscles weak, and the whole body without strength, energy or ambition. It is loss of nerve and vital power which is slowly but surely sapping the very life itself, and unless help is sought from the right source, the end will be shattered nerves, insanity with softening of the brain, nervous prostration, heart failure, paralysis or premature death.

Beware of such symptoms! A well known druggist, Charles W. Eggleston, 329 Park Avenue, Worcester, Mass, suffered from nervous prostration and all its terrible symptoms. He writes the following letter telling what he knows is the best way to get well. "Some time ago I was taken with nervous prostration, I suffered terribly with my nerves and could get no sleep my stomach was in terrible condition from dyspepsia, and I could eat hardly "I used several medicines but without benefit. Being in the drug business myself, and having had many customers speak in the highest terms of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I determined to try it.
