 —Coalport Standard.
 —The organization of an engine company as a necessary adjunct to the Patton Fire Department is being agitated. A number of old-time firemen have signified their willingness to join and the project will probably be pushed to a successful conclusion.

—Marie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Suminski, of Clearfield, died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tulley, of this place, on Friday morning, aged five years and two months. The cause of death was mumps and she had been ill but a few days. The interment was at Carrolltown on Monday morning at ten o'clock.

—A fight took place among the employees of the Walter Main circus while the show was being loaded on the cars at Hastings Monday night, where it exhibited that day, and some lively shooting resulted before the excitement was over. One of the showmen was shot twice, but as he was taken away on the train and the circus people refused to tell anything about the affair, it is not known how seriously he was hurt.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

What has been transpiring at the regular June Term.

The June term of Court convened at Ebensburg on Monday with Judge O'Connor on the bench. A number of persons pleaded guilty under the recent practice of the court and got off with light sentences. The record in the cases reads: "Defendant waives the findings of a true bill by the grand jury and pleads guilty."

The Johnstown saloonkeepers made their first move in Court in their effort to have their bars kept open later than 10 o'clock, as is the rule at present in Cambria county. It is in the form of a petition of a committee appointed by the Knights of Fidelity, representing the Johnstown liquor dealers, asking the Court to set a later hour than 10 o'clock for closing the bars and citing the fact that in Altoona and Harrisburg saloons remain open much longer than they do in Johnstown, leaving it to the Court to fix such an hour as he thought best. Judge O'Connor granted a rule returnable at next term on any citizen or body of citizens of Cambria county to show cause why the prayer of the petitioners should not be granted.

The petition states that both the hotel men and the public suffer by the present 10 o'clock rule, while the "speak-easy" business is promoted thereby. The explanation given for this fact alleged is that there are many late trains stopping at Johnstown, that the city is cosmopolitan in its nature, and that the early closing of the saloons has a tendency to induce persons to visit club rooms and other places where liquor is sold without license.

The Court is also asked to "express his disapproval" of the system of credit declared to be in vogue in Johnstown saloons, as being detrimental to the public welfare. In the support of the petition it is also pointed out that no other city in the state so large as Johnstown has a 10 o'clock closing rule.

The petition is sworn to by several gentlemen, and further signed by 76 citizens, including all, or nearly all, the hotel keepers of Johnstown, and all of whom are connected with the liquor business.

In re the rule on the heirs in partition proceedings in the estate of James Yost, deceased, late of Carroll township, none of the parties in interest having accepted the real estate at the valuation fixed by the inquest, the Court ordered that real estate be sold and directed that an order of sale be issued to Jacob Yost, executor.

Sheriff Davis disposed of the following properties at the Court house: The interest of Morgan J. Cromer in 14 acres of ground in Patton. Sold to Henry Swope for $30.

The interest of Swan Swanson in a piece of ground in Carroll township. Sold to Patton Building and Loan association for $250.

Judge Kooser, of Somerset, is assisting Judge O'Connor and heard the cross prosecution between Ang. Lottick and John and Henrietta Diston and Henry and Augustus Notnagle. All of the parties are from Patton and the last named quartette were sent to jail in default of bail after a recent hearing before Squire Mellon. Lottick charged Henry Notnagle, his wife, daughter and son-in-law with having invited him to their home, where they tried to get him drunk, and then robbing him of $25 in cash and a revolver.

Notnagle made a counter charge of assault and battery against Lottick. The jury was out all night and brought in a verdict finding Notnagle et al not guilty and imposing the costs on Lottick.

Petition of M. J. Hainley, guardian of the minor children of D. M. Kratzer, deceased, late of Clearfield township, for a yearly allowance for said ward. Granted.

Petition of G. W. Lloyd et al for a rule on D. E. Nottley to file in Court a deed for a tract of land in Susquehanna township.

Petitions of citizens of Barr township for the appointment of viewers to lay out a public road from Nicktown to Carrolltown. J. L. Elder, H. J. Krumenacker and John L. Evans appointed.

Petition of J. W. Martin, administrator of D. M. Kratzer, deceased, late of Clearfield township, for his discharge. Granted.

THE MAN WHO DOUBTS

EVERY year, with the first robin, comes the man who doubts. He "don't believe" he can get a ready-to-wear suit that will fit him; he "don't believe" our advertisements; he don't believe anything or anybody—and yet the chances are ten to one he goes out with one of our Spring Suits on his back.

Why? Because there is proof in our stock to convince the most confirmed unbeliever. There's style here. There's beauty. There's care in make. There's artistic tailoring. There's proper finishing. There's good material. There's a guarantee. And, best of all, the prices are there, proving themselves, in every case, below the figures of other stores.

We want the man who doubts to come in and see some of the novelties we are showing in
