This coronation was a success, despite the absence of "Outlaw" Reid's knee pants.

If Hastings didn't get that brewery Editor Kibier was after, it can console itself that it has a representative on the Prohibition county ticket, anyway.

"OLD MAN" QUAY is not very active on his feet at present, being laid up with a scalded leg, but it is noticed that his political activity is unimpaired.

The announcement that J. Pierpont Morgan has sailed home from Europe calls to mind the fact that this country managed to get along tolerably well during his absence.

DeBos has a new daily paper in the Evening Searchlight and when Bangert gets his plant moved there from Falls Creek will have four daily and four weekly newspapers, more than enough for even a progressive town like that. It will probably be another case of the "survival of the fittest."

An item of particular interest to railway mail clerks has been incorporated in the postal appropriation bill by the senate post office committee. It authorizes the payment of $1,000 to the families of railway clerks who are killed in the line of duty. Provision is made for the payment of the sum immediately after such casualties occur.

HAVING probably read or heard some of the comments on his recent infamous decision, Judge "Government by Injunction" Jackson, of West Virginia, took a tumble to himself on Tuesday and released the seven members of the United Mine Workers who were serving sixty and ninety days in jail for contempt of court. The prisoners filed a petition for release, alleging that they had not known they were violating the injunction when they did so and promising not to do so again.

USUALLY the men and women who live in a town are entitled to the patronage of the general public, says an exchange. Yet how prone the average human being is to fly into the embrace of the strangers who travel on their wits and who are constantly promising to do marvelous things, but never bring their promises to fruition. Men and women who are in business here and who have been here for years are going to give their customers proper treatment. They cannot afford to play any sort of a bunco game. It is different with the person who is here to-day and at the uttermost parts of the earth to-morrow. They can make any sort of promises, but when the moment of fulfillment arrives they are out of reach of their credulous victims. Patronize the men and women you know if you want to get the worth of your money.

HAS is the way a Western man announces his candidacy for an office. There is no "having been urged by my friends," "at the solicitation of a large number of citizens," etc., etc., but the plain, unvarnished truth and is worthy of emulation. The candidate mentioned deserves the nomination for his originality and truthfulness, if for nothing else. Listen to this statement of facts: "In announcing myself as a candidate for register of deeds for Kiowa county, subject to the decision of the Republican county convention in September, I do not do it at the earnest request of a large number of my friends, nor has there been a large delegation of the most prominent citizens of the county waited on me and drank my whiskey and smoked my cigars and urgently requested me to come before the convention as a candidate, believing that I was the only man who could be elected—none of this has happened. I have worked it up myself. In fact, it is a self-made boom. I am getting a little too old to farm and a little too ambitious to be thrown in the waste basket, and would like a couple of years' office rest, just to see how loafing around the county seat feels to an old man."

THE EBENBURG FAIR.

From the preparation being made by the officers and directors of the Ebenburg fair it is plainly to be seen that this year's exhibition will eclipse any exhibition the society ever held.

A large number of free exhibitions will be given in front of the grand stand daily. Notably among the number will be the performances of Prof. Staley's troupe of educated horses; acts on slack wire by Frank Carey; thrilling acts in mid air by Charles and George Adams on double trapeze; balloon ascensions by Prof. F. B. Robison, in addition to jugglers, leapers, comical clowns, trained dogs, etc.

Kendall's vaudeville shows (three in number) will be at the fair, as well as Prof. Harry Smith's Vaudeville Circus. Several illusion shows and numerous refined attractions have been secured. There will be band concerts daily and the exhibition hall unsurpassed for beauty and completeness of displays. Remember the dates of Ebenburg's big fair, August 26, 27, 28 and 29. Excursion rates on all railroads.
