INTERESTING INDENTATIONS.

—W. H. Denlinger had business in Pittsburg this week.

—A new $35,000 opera house is to be built at Barnesboro.

—Miss Anna Moore, of Lock Haven, is visiting relatives in town.

—P. P. Young is president of the new borough council of Coalport.

—Miss Margaret Flynn was visiting relatives in Barnesboro last week.

—J. J. Donnelly is in eastern cities this week buying goods for the Bon Ton store.

—Jim Sheehan is home from Bucknell University at Lewisburg for a week's sojourn.

—"Punch" Leegle, the erstwhile prize fighter, is now employed as a policeman at Portage.

—Wednesday was the first day of spring—according to the calendar but not in Cambria county.

—People looking for pure liquors will be interested in the new advertisement of Ed A. Mellon in this issue.

—Mrs. Sandford Burkhardt has returned to her home in Johnstown after an extended visit with relatives here.

—Dr. J. A. Murray is home from Philadelphia, where he has been receiving treatment in the German hospital.

—Read the new advertisement of O. F. Wolf, the druggist, and see what he has to say about high grade stationery.

—An advertisement of unusual interest in this issue is the new one of the Keystone Clothing Co. on the fourth page.

—The Dickinson College Glee Club, which will appear at the M. E. church to-night, will be greeted by a crowded house.

—"The Fatal Wedding" at the Barnesboro opera house Saturday night. See advertisement in another column.

—Thomas J. Graham, who has been in a Philadelphia hospital for several weeks past, returned home Saturday evening.

—The fast basket ball team of St. Francis college at Loretto defeated the Johnstown high school five at Ebensburg Saturday afternoon by a score of 38 to 11.

—The Pennsylvania State Firemen's Association will meet at Gettysburg, this year on October 1st to 8th. T. N. Nagle will represent Patton at this gathering.

—William F. Mosser has about 5,000 acres of land at Westover, which he has put a wire fence around and will stock it with deer, pheasants and wild animals. He will also have fish dams stocked with trout, carp, pickerel and other fish.

—Judge Smith, after holding the matter under consideration and hearing testimony at the argument court at Clearfield on Monday, refused to grant a license to either of the two hotels at Hawk Run. He also turned down the application of the Hotel Bloom at Clearfield.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad has ordered the destruction of all its 30,000, 40,000 and 50,000 pounds capacity freight cars. They are of an old type and worn out. All 60,000 capacity cars have been ordered to the Altoona shops, where they will be equipped with air brakes to comply with the law.

—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, has decided upon an assessment of 20 cents a week for the local miners, to be used in case a strike is called April 1st. Some months ago the miners were assessed 10 cents a week for a strike fund, but the order was effective but one month.

—Nelson Crosscart, of Mahaffey, a brakeman on the C. & C. division, slipped from a car roof and fell under his train at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was run over and his back seriously injured, but the authorities of the Altoona hospital, where he was taken for treatment, are unable yet to say whether or not he received any internal injuries.

—The much mooted paving question which has been agitating the citizens of Loretto for many months was definitely settled last week by the borough council, which voted to pave the streets. The width of the sidewalks was placed at five feet and the street at 30. It was originally the intention to have a six-foot sidewalk, but owing to the many objections filed to this plan by property holders it was decided to change to five feet, as this will not require a change in any of the property lines.

—Rev. David J. Lawrence, the pastor of the Swedish Ev. Lutheran church, has tendered his resignation and will leave here as soon as his successor is procured. Mr. Lawrence has accepted the pastorate of a church near Stanton, Montgomery county, Iowa. He regrets to leave Patton, but the health of Mrs. Lawrence is such that he thinks a change of climate beneficial. Rev. Lawrence is a hard working energetic pastor and the church here has prospered greatly under his pastorate. The best wishes of a host of friends will follow both he and his estimable wife to their new home.
