During the last five years the price of everything that has to do with the making of a newspaper has advanced. Type, ink, paper, labor, machineryall have gone upward in price, and indications are that the price of white paper will further advance owing to the scarcity of raw material. During all this advance in prices the printers have been compelled to maintain the same prices for their product. The price of subscription has remained the same, advertising rates have not advanced, and many of the standard forms of commercial job printing are still done at the same old prices. It is the only trade of which we have knowledge that has not been benefitted by the advance in prices.-Mansfield Advertiser.

-After being closed for nearly three weeks on account of the number of scarlet fever cases in the borough the public school was again opened last Monday with a large attendance. Of the eleven cases reported at the time the school was closed not a single case now exists in the borough and only one in the township, which is very mild, is reported. The strict quarantine maintained by Health Officer Dr. J. A. Lunch soon checked the spread of the disease and he is deserving of much praise for his diligence. — Cresson Record.

Advertising

consists simply in presenting before the people the goods you have to sell in an intelligent manner, whether it is a house and lot or a pair of shoes. It is too late at this day to expatiate on the merits of advertising. That has been demonstrated so often that iteration is futile. Everybody now days knows that advertising pays. The main question is, what medium to use? Advertising experts long ago settled it by declaring that newspaper advertising was by far the most effective and brings better returns than any other extant. The merchants of this section long ago declared that better results were obtained by using the Courier than by any other means. It is read every week by hundreds of families and goes into the homes of the majority of the people of Northern Cambria county. The rates are low, just and equitable—one price to all, and the small advertiser gets just as good a rate as the large one.

If your business needs a tonic, come in and let us talk the matter over with you or send us word and we will have a representative call on you and explain everything about our plan. You may do business without advertising, but you are certain to do more by advertising. It is an investment that will repay you an hundred fold.

We will prepare your copy and take complete charge of your advertising campaign, however large or small, without,

JUST A BIT OF LIFE.

A Pathette Incident of the Pawa-shops in the Metropolis.

Sneaking into a small shop in an ob-scure and poverty ridden locality, the man who "went broke" at the races was realizing on a superfluous article of jewelry. A woman so poor and pinched in feature, so marked with care and desperation that it made him feel sick to look at her, was holding something under her shawl and waiting nervously until he should have fined his transaction. "Wait on her. She seems to be in a hurry," he said to the man behind the counter, and at the word of permission a carpenter's plane was produced from the shelter of the shawl.

"How much do you want?" queried the unmoved pawnbroker monotonous

"Fifty cents," replied the woman with a gulping in her throat and an eager look in her eyes. She clutched the money tightly and ran into another creature, poor as herself, but bearing her troubles in duller fashion. She had a baby's cloak, never costly and much worn, on which she wanted to borrow money, the same sum as the other woman had asked for.

The man who had been offering a diamond felt uncomfortable. "There give me $50. The stone's worth fur times as much." And, seizing the noney, he hurried after the woman who had just left the shop. "I beg your pardon," he began, "but here's $5 I have no use for. Perhaps "No, no!" she cried, drawing further from him. "For your child," he said gently.

"My child is dead!" cried the woman with a queer sob, and fled into the labyrinth of alleys and byways that shelters so much wretchedness.-New

The Story of a Hoodoo Hat. Mr. John Cooper, one of Dooly couny's most prominent citizens, is in the city on his way to Augusta to attend the old veterans' reunion. When he got off the train, he looked up Captain Warren Moseley, one of the bravest of the boys who went out in the sixtles, and they immediately began swapping reminiscences about their army life in Virginia. Finally Mr. Cooper asked Captain Moseley if he remembered the Yankee hat. A reporter who was standing there heard the following story, which both men vouch for as being absolutely true:

On the first day of the battle of Win chester a Yankee was killed so near the line of battle that a soldier of the name of McLendon, Company I, Fourth Georgia, picked up the hat and put it on and wore it. He had not had it on his head for more than two hours when he was shot through the head, the bullet piercing the hat in almost the same hole that the bullet had entered that killed the Yankee.

Another soldier of the name of Wooten of Company H, Fourth Georgia, picked up the hat and put it on, and in less than an hour he, too, was killed. the bullet striking him in the head near the place where the other two bullets had entered.

The next day another soldier of the name of Kilpatrick of Company H, Fourth Georgia, was wearing the hat when he, too, was struck in the head and killed.

Although the hat was a fine one, it was left lying on the field, as there was no one who would wear it, as four men who had worn it were then cold and stiff, and each one had been shot through the hat in almost the sam
