"The Devil's Turnip Patch." On the top of Bald Eagle mountain, just where the old turnpike breaks over the brow down into Black Hole valley, is a queer field of rock, which years ago was christened "The Devil's Turnip Patch." The rocks, which are of a reddish sandstone, have a striking peculiarity of all standing on end, thus forming a jagged, irregular surface, that won for it its queer name from the early settlers.

In bygone days, when the stages wheeled their way up from Northumberland to Williamsport, the four in hands traversed the old pike that skirts the turnip patch, and the strange garden of rocks was a constant source of wonderment to the traveler. Added to its interest as a natural curiosity is a hidden stream of water somewhere beneath the standing stones, the noisy flowing of which forms a romantic song beneath one's feet. Nobody knows where the source of this stream is, nor can anybody find where it empties itself into Black Hole valley. The rock field covers an area of two or three acres, with its widest part to the north, then narrowing down V shaped to the south, where the angle is lost in a fringe of stunted hemlocks and elders. Theorists have figured on the cause of this mountain freak, but the theory obtaining most credence is that it is a legacy of the glacial age, the rocks being a collection pushed into their present vertical position by the moving ice—Philadelphia Record.

Curious Mexican Laws. They have some very curious criminal laws in Mexico. For instance, it is twice as much of an offense to mutilate the face of a woman as that of a man. The law seems to be based on the idea that a woman's best possession is her beauty and that to mar it does her a great injury.

There is another curious law. If a person should be wounded in an encounter, the punishment to the offender is fixed by the number of days his victim has to stay in the hospital or under a doctor's care. A line is fixed at 40 days in the way of a general division. If the injured man occupies more than 40 days in his recovery, the penalty doubles up.

An Impudent Fraud. An impudent fraud was perpetrated upon a Manchester bank by one of its customers, who opened an account with some few hundreds of pounds. The man, after a few weeks, drew two checks, each within a pound or so of his balance, and, selecting a busy day, presented himself at one end of the counter, while an accomplice, when he saw that his friend's check had been cashed, immediately presented his own to a cashier at the other end. Both cashiers referred the checks to the ledger clerk, who, thinking the same cashier had asked him twice, said "right" to both checks. The thieves were never caught.

They Changed. At a dinner party the other day a well known and deservedly popular dramatist took a lady down to dinner, neither knowing who the other was. As a subject the theater was started, as it is so often under similar circumstances.

"I can't think why they have revived that piece at the King's," the lady said. "I never liked it, and it's so worn that I should have done better than that?" "Yes," the dramatist replied, "perhaps so. It was one of my first pieces, however, and I had not had much experience when I wrote it. Let's change the subject."

The lady was quite ready to do so and wished, no doubt, that she had known who her neighbor was. He presently said:

"Are you interested in the Fenton case?" speaking of a cause celebre that was in progress.

"Yes. I've read all the evidence," was the reply.

"He'll lose it, of course," the dramatist went on. "He never could have had the faintest chance from the first. It's a marvel to me how any lawyer could have been idiot enough to allow such a case to go into court!" "Well," answered the lady quietly, "my husband was the idiot. Let's change the subject."

THE COFFIELD POWER WASHER

Will turn out your washing with less labor, in less time, and in better condition than is possible in any other way.

The work is turned out in the very finest condition, regardless of whether the laundry is a good one or otherwise. It is not only a question of time and labor required to do the rubbing on the wash board, but it is the wear on the clothes that makes washing expensive when done in that old fashioned way. Many a washboard has had the metal corrugations worn entirely through in this process, and that the clothes were damaged in the same operation goes without saying.

Especially are the finer fabrics damaged in the other methods of washing, and by the saving of wear on the clothes the Power Washer pays for itself several times over each year.

Advertising

consists simply in presenting before the people the goods you have to sell in an intelligent manner, whether it is a house and lot or a pair of shoes. It is too late at this day to expatiate on the merits of advertising. That has been demonstrated so often that iteration is futile. Everybody now days knows that advertising pays. The main question is, what medium to use? Advertising experts long ago settled it by declaring that newspaper advertising was by far the most effective and brings better returns than any other extant. The merchants of this section long ago declared that better results were obtained by using the COURIER than by any other means. It is read every week by hundreds of families and goes into the homes of the majority of the people of Northern Cambria county. The rates are low, just and equitable—one price to all and the small advertiser gets just as good a rate as the large one.

If your business needs a tonic, come in and let us talk the matter over with you or send us word and we will have a representative call on you and explain everything about our plan. You may do business without advertising, but you are certain to do more by advertising. It is an investment that will repay you an hundred fold.

We will prepare your copy and take complete charge of your advertising campaign, however large or small, without extra cost.
