NEWS OF TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO

Taken From The Courier of Thursday, February 23, 1895

Antitoxin Used in Patton
 Dr. S. W. Worrell, of this place, performed the use of the wonderful new diphtheria remedy antitoxine, on the children of John Williams at McCormicks mine one day last week with gratifying results. The discovery of antitoxine as a new agent for the prevention and cure of diphtheria was announced by Prof. Emil Behring, of Halle, about four years ago. Although received at first with more or less incredulity, the new remedy has borne successfully the test of actual use, and it is now recognized by high authorities as one of the beneficent and interesting discoveries in modern pathology. Horses are now exclusively employed to furnish the blood serum in which the antitoxine is developed and contained.

Banquet at Cresson
 On Friday evening the Ebensburg lodge of Masons held a grand banquet at the Anderson house at Cresson which was to be the finest ever held in this section. Johnstown, South Fork, Wilmore, Portage, Lilly, Gallitain, Patton and Hastings were represented. The banquet table was charmingly arranged and the menu elaborate. Ed James of Ebensburg was master of ceremonies and among those who responded were Alvin Evans, George A. Kinkead, Henry Taylor, William Mitchell and county superintendent J. W. Leech. The following people from this place attended: R. McPherson and wife; John Somerville and wife; John Ashcroft and daughter, Maggie; W. C. Baum and wife; Dr. J. J. Weida and wife; L. S. Bell; Dr. S. W. Worrell accompanied by his two sisters Emma and Minnie of Clearfield.

A Sad Accident
 On Tuesday an accident occurred in the family of Marko Suma in which a two-year-old daughter lost her life. Mrs. Suma was washing and had taken a boiler full of water off the stove and set it on the floor, and the little girl fell backwards into it. She was scalded to bad that the flesh dropped off. She died in about eight hours after the accident.

A Sudden Death
 The Courier very much regrets to learn of the death of Mr. John William Burke, of Patton, which took place on Saturday afternoon at 3:30. Mr. Burke was taken suddenly ill on Saturday night, February 17th, but not thinking his disease a dangerous one, consequently did not call a physician until Tuesday noon, when Dr. Murray was summoned and after a most careful examination diagnosed his case as developing appendicitis, which later showed symptoms of diffused peritonitis, the prognosis of which is very grave indeed, and on Friday after everything known to medical science had been practically tried with seemingly no improvement, his only hope left was by art of surgical science, and Drs. Rice, of Hastings, Murray and Noonan, of Patton, met in consultation, and after explaining the serious condition which existed to the family, they concluded to take the only chance left and consented to an operation. This revealed the fact that he had gangrenous appendicitis which had ruptured, letting the contents of his bowels into the peritoneal cavity, this of itself being enough to have caused him to perish in a very few hours. However he lived about fifteen hours after the operation and was conscious to the last moment, death being due to shock resulting from perforation of the vermiform appendix and from the reabsorption of septic matter into the circulation of the blood.

Marriage Licenses
 The following marriage licenses were issued by the Clerk of the Orphans' Court for the week ending Thursday, February 21, 1895:

A CARLOAD OF FREIGHT EVERY SEVEN SECONDS FOR AN ENTIRE YEAR

That presents a vivid picture of what it means to handle the freight business of one of the great railroads of this country.

During the year 1915 the New York Central Railroad handled 4,507, 760 carloads of freight, an equivalent of one every seven seconds.

These are placed in line would make a train 24,150 miles long—a transportation ring around the world with 9,000 miles left over to form a circle around the United States as a setting.

This will convey some idea of the immensity and efficiency of modern transportation by rail, which has revolutionized the commerce and civilization of the world within less than a century.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement is made in an advertisement elsewhere in this paper that the merchants of Johnstown are again waiting in a Combined Spring Opening.
