THEY WERE THERE—WHO?

Local Patton authorities on Wednesday morning were notified that if they did not see that all nuisances were not kept within the borough limit, there would be trouble for some few girls. Farmers state they were aroused from their slumbers some time Wednesday morning by several Patton ladies saying they didn't know where they were. Naturally this created some excitement in the rural districts. Bells were rung, Police were called, and the girls were called several "names," but in the end they found out they were only around the corner from home. They are safe at home and may they stay there in peace, and also give the poor farmers peace.

HE'S GOING TO RETURN TO HIS WORK, HE SAYS

Arthur Jones is Now Well Man, Made So by Tanlac

Arthur Jones, harness maker, living at 118 E. 17th Street, Erie, Pa., made the following interesting statement regarding the remarkable benefits he received from Tanlac.

Mr. Jones said:

"I have suffered greatly from stomach trouble and catarrh of the head and throat. My condition grew so bad that I have found myself in no shape to work for several months. I had no appetite and whatever I ate caused gas to form on my stomach and a sickening feeling followed. My nerves were all out of sorts, and I was generally run down, so much so that I couldn't sleep much at night, but have remained awake for hours at a time I needed the sleep too, and my condition worried me no little.

"I saw Tanlac advertised in the papers and heard some friends talking about it. I got some of the medicine and have taken it for about two or three weeks. The first dose of Tanlac helped me and I have improved steadily ever since.

"I can now sleep good at night, I have a fine appetite and I suffer no more stomach trouble or catarrh. I am a well man, and I owe it all to Tanlac. I am going to return to my work in a few days. That is what Tanlac did for me."

Tanlac is now sold in Patton exclusively by the Gunn Drug Co., where the premier preparation can be had.—Adv.

The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian Church at 1 P. M. June 2 by the Rev. Kilne, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Spangler. Interment was made in the Fairview Cemetery at Patton.

FOREST FIRES

Acting under the new forest protection code, the Chief Forest Fire Warden is bringing to the attention of the Attorney General every case where there is the slightest chance of taking legal action against those who are suspected of having started forest fires this spring. It is often difficult to secure conclusive evidence in cases of this kind, but the Department of Forestry is anxious to have the prosecution brought in every case where there is a reasonable certainty that the guilty person has been found. That public sentiment is slowly turning against the man who is careless with fire in the woods is surely shown by the fact that many of the Department's cases are being voluntarily settled out of court by the offenders.

In one case a forest fire was started by sparks from the engine of a sawmill operating near McConnellsburg. The owner of the mill did not wait for a warrant to be served, but at once settled all costs and damages, and promised to give the time of himself and his crew whenever they are needed to extinguish a forest fire in the future. Another case was reported by Fire Warden George Heddings, of Milton. Several Bucknell students, built a camp fire in the mountain back of Milton to warm their lunches. The fire spread through the leaves to the surrounding forest, and was soon beyond their control. It was extinguished by the warden and a crew of fire fighters only after a hard battle. The students were identified beyond a doubt, and have since reimbursed the State for the cost of extinguishing the fire, and paid damages to the owner of the forest for the injured timber.

Brush burning on windy days is reported as having caused forest fires near Honey Grove, Bellefonte, and Emporium. In each case the fires were traced by the forest employees to those who burned the brush, and amicable settlements have been made out of court.

Close watch has been kept for fires started by sparks from engines on railroads and tramroads. In each case the railroad, like the private individual, is given a chance to settle out of court by paying costs and damages. At the suggestions of the Department of Forestry, many of the railroads are regularly overhauling their engines and equipping them with spark arresters, and in several cases, patrolmen are employed during the dangerous season.

HARRY GREENWOOD, JR.

Last Wednesday afternoon the body supposed to be that of Harry Greenwood, Jr., thirty-two years old was found in the woods near Barnesboro. Mr. Greenwood had left his home in Greenwich Tuesday morning, May 23, about 7:30 o'clock. His intention on leaving as expressed to his wife (nee Edna Reese) was that he was going to Barnesboro to see his father about work.

Mr. Greenwood was out of work at the time and thought perhaps his father could give him work in his barber shop at this place, after having served his apprenticeship in his father's shop.

The cause of his death is unknown owing to the fact that decomposition had set in so far that it was almost impossible to recognize the body, and the cause of death can not be ascertained.

Mr. Greenwood leaves a widow, three children, Robert, Jack and Charles and one step-son, Edwin to mourn his loss. He is also survived by his father and mother, Harry and Eva Greenwood of this place.

The funeral was held in the Undertaking parlors of McMillen & Killens of Barnesboro last Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by the Rev. A. Broadley-East. Interment was made in the North Barnesboro cemetery.
