FOREST FIRES
The Commissioner of Forestry has referred to the Attorney General thirty-one cases of careless or malicious setting of forest fires, with a recommendation that prosecutions be brought in every case where the evidence warrants it. Ten other cases are being prepared by the Chief Forest Fire Warden, and will be submitted to the Attorney General within a few days. These cases represent over ten per cent of the total number of forest fires this spring, a record never before equalled in this State. Prosecutions have been ordered for cases in Blair, Lackawanna, Lehigh and Monroe counties, and others are expected in Potter, McKean, Westmoreland and Lycoming counties. In addition, a civil suit for damages resulting from a forest fire in Forest county will be followed by criminal action if the verdict in the civil suit is favorable, and a case in Indiana county has been worked up by one of the Game Wardens, and will be tried in the September term of court.

It will be the policy of the Department of Forestry hereafter to ask for criminal prosecution in every forest fire case where reasonable evidence can be secured, regardless of whether the fire was started, maliciously or whether it was the result of mere carelessness. The act of 1915 puts carelessness and incendiarism on the same plane, and the forest officers mean to do all they can to see that it is enforced.

FIRE COMPANY HAS NEW UNIFORMS

Patton Can Boast of a Good Fire Company

The Patton Firemen made their appearance on our streets last Saturday evening in the new uniforms recently purchased from George Evans & Company of Philadelphia through their competent salesman for their district, Mr. Bell is a very good salesman as can be proven by his wonderful taste in this line. The firemen certainly look handsome in their new uniforms and Patton can well be proud of their firemen for we consider them the best company in this part of the county.

Too much credit cannot be given William R. Rees, who has been untiring in his work of making one of the best drilled companies in the whole state. As a drill master he is without many peers and at the head of his company with his pure white he is about as handsome a master as can be found in this part of the state.

When the company goes to Cresson or to Clearfield late in the month they will surely make their presence known and we hope they win all the prizes they go out after.
