The Creed of A Dodge Brothers Salesman

I BELIEVE in Dodge Brothers Motor Car because into its making have gone the finest thoughts of those two Master Men whose name it bears.

I believe in this car because I know that beneath the lustre of a matchless exterior is the expression of honesty and integrity in material form. I know that bound up in every polished gearing are those qualities which manifest themselves in all great achievements. In offering Dodge Brothers Motor Car I know that I am selling a machine that is made of iron and steel and character—a vehicle that must and does symbolize and maintain a priceless reputation built on honor. My faith is not alone a faith in a car—it is a faith in the ideals of men, for I know that back of these mighty factories their thought is ever master. I believe, with Berton Bralcy, that—

“Back of the motors’ humming,
Back of the belts that sing,
Back of the hammers’ drumming,
Back of the cranes that swing,
There are the eyes which strain them,
Watching thru stress and strain;
There are the Minds which plan them—
Back of the brain, the Brain.”

And so I stand, inspired with the blazing truth that I am selling thru honest effort something not only built by man, but built of men to be sold to men by a MAN.

—GEORGE HARRISON PHELPS

We have found by experience that the Dodge cars are equal to all the claims that are made for them.

FORMER U. S. AMBASSADOR ADDRESSES AUDIENCE AT UNIVERSITY

Henry Morgenthau, former United States Ambassador to Turkey, spoke at the University of Pittsburgh last week on his experience while in the Orient. He described the dreadful suffering due to the war in Europe. He said that 50,000,000 persons are homeless and homeless because 10,000,000 have been destroyed. He told of the remarkable influence of American schools in Turkey and declared that Bulgaria’s progress of recent years is due to Robert College in Constantinople. Two of Bulgaria’s cabinet are two graduates of that school. He said that the treatment of the Armenians, the oldest Christians in the world, is the darkest spot in Turkish history. He said that Turks feel that they made a mistake four centuries ago by not driving the Armenians and that now they are trying to remedy that mistake by exterminating them.

SNEAK THIEVES IN PATTON

On Monday morning when Bruce Warren, the engineer at B. F. Wise’s saw mill, went to work he discovered that nearly all his tools which were in a chest had been stolen by sneak thieves, and later in the day some boys who were playing about the board yard discovered the stolen tools, together with some other articles taken from the mill. Among the articles taken was a huge piece of brass oil the planer, which would certainly be of no use of anyone. It is supposed that they were stolen on Sunday night and were hidden under the board pile until they could be sneaked away some other night. In an interview with Mr. Wise, he says that he would not have been surprised if they had taken the huge smoke stack, as the water, which supplies the boiler, had been taken and they were compelled to close the mill down until it had been restored. A watchman is needed there sure.

CHANGED HANDS

The firm of Patterson and Parnell, the member of the Patton Insurance Agency, has been changed, Mr. Patterson selling his interests to M. R. Cowher, of Houtzdale, who was formerly a partner of Mr. Parnell at that place. Mr. Patterson has resided in Patton about three years, and while here made many friends who all wish him success in whatever business he may be engaged in. The new firm will be known as Parnell & Cowher and the Courier wishes them abundant success.
