

1883 ANNIVERSARY
 Active Ebensburg Passes 71st Birthday
 The Rev. Father Ferdinand Kittell, the popular irremovable rector of the historic church at Loreto, this county, was born at Ebensburg 71 years ago Monday, being a son of Attorney William Kittell and Mrs. Margaret McDonald Kittell. Ferdinand Kittell became a student at St. Michael's Seminary, Pittsburgh soon after the breaking out of the Civil War. In October, 1863, he entered the College of the Propaganda, Rome, and was raised to the priesthood in the Basilica of St. John Lateran by Monsignor Castellucci, Vice-pope of the Cardinal Year in June, 1871. In 1872 Father Kittell returned to America to become the President of St. Michael's College and assistant at St. Michael's Church at Loreto. A year later he was made a member of the faculty at St. Michael's Seminary, where he taught his classes during the week, and on Sundays and holidays assisted the Rev. A. P. Gibbs, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Lawrenceville, who had baptized him. In 1883 Father Kittell resigned as Diocesan Secretary to become the pastor of the church at Newry, Blair county. Later he went to Hollidaysburg, going from there to Tyrone, from which place he came to Loreto to become the rector of St. Michael's parish in the spring of 1891. Father Kittell is the only native of the diocese upon whom the distinction of irremovable rector has been conferred.
 He is a brother of Attorney M. D. Kittell, of Ebensburg.

SECRETARY BAKER FIRED WITH WASHINGTON SERVICE
 WASHINGTON, Pa., April 13.—The whole question of the American public shall be kept completely informed as to army activities both abroad and at home is under consideration at the war department. In making this known today, Secretary Baker frankly stated that the present system has proved entirely unsatisfactory. The war secretary would not say what plans are under consideration, but it is known that the issuing of some sort of a daily statement is contemplated. This is regarded as necessary now as American soldiers have not only taken over several sectors of trenches in France as individual units, but also have been brigaded with French and British forces in Picardy, where the Germans still are trying to drive their offensive forward.
 While reports have been fairly complete, they sometimes have been delayed and frequently the correspondents have not been permitted to write of troop movements until many days after the soldiers have gone into the battle line.
 The manner of issuing casualty lists is another question which is giving officials concern.
 Millions of dollars, it is estimated by revenue officials, will be added to the Government funds in penalties as a result of the round-up of income-tax delinquents by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

EUROPE NEEDS FOOD
 Food Administration Declares Absolute Sin to Waste Food—Has Become Sacred
 Europe is still sending an insistent call for more food. We must send it if the war is to go on efficiently. If we eat it all we cannot ship it, and the food administration has already tried to picture how much that wheat is needed by people who will starve if they do not get it, the food administration states.
 "For the least bit of heedlessness on your part in food conservation some one somewhere in the world must suffer privation," an official statement declares. "The food administration has mastered the problem of America's food in such a way that every ounce of food conserved and kept in the currents of trade goes to an empty stomach in Europe."
 "It is an absolute sin to waste food. Food has become sacred."
 "Food means life; it means somebody's life, and you cannot escape responsibility."
 "There is no waste of food among the allied nations."

WAR BREAD COSTLY TO BRITISH GOVERNMENT
 Every year the British government pays $200,000,000 toward the cost of that nation's war bread. That is the principal reason why English bread prices are lower today to the consumer than in America. Incidentally the British bread is much poorer than the American.
 Great Britain has taken over all home grown grain, bought at an arbitrary price, and all imported wheat bought in markets of the world at prevailing prices. This is turned over to the mills by the government at a price that allows the adulterated war bread loaf of four pounds to sell at 18 cents. The two pound loaf costs 9 cents, and the one pound loaf sells for 5 cents.
 In milling, however, 14 per cent more flour is extracted from the wheat than in America. And there is a compulsory adulteration of 20 per cent, and an allowable adulteration of 50 per cent.
 Compared with American bread, the British product is only about 65 per cent pure at its best.
 In France, under conditions somewhat similar, but with a larger extraction, the four pound loaf sells for 16 cents.

AMERICAN SAVINGS WILL MEASURE WHEAT EXPORTS
 "We have already exported the whole of the surplus of the 1917 wheat harvest, over and above the normal demands of our own population. It is necessary, therefore, for the food administration to restrict export of wheat so as to retain in the United States sufficient supplies to carry our own people until the next harvest."
 "Therefore all exports of wheat from now forward are limited entirely to the volume of savings made by the American people in their consumption of wheat and wheat products."
 "We continued wheat shipments for December as far as our situation allowed, but even with all the conservation made we were still unable to load several hundred thousand tons of food stuffs urgently required by the allied nations during the month of December alone."

WHEAT-CORN YEAST BREAD.
 Wheat-corn bread is more nutritious than bread baked with wheat flour alone. Thousands of American families today are using this mixed flour bread, and in so doing are enabling America to provide more wheat flour for the allies. Here's a tested recipe for this bread: Take one and a half cups of milk, water or a mixture of the two; one-half cake compressed yeast, one and a half teaspoons salt, one tablespoon sugar, one tablespoon of fat if desired, one cup cornmeal and two cups wheat flour.
 Put one and a half cups of water, the cornmeal, salt, sugar and fat (if used) into a double boiler and cook twenty minutes. The water is sufficient only to soften the meal a little. Allow the meal to cool to about the temperature of the room and add the flour and yeast mixed with the rest of the water. Knead thoroughly, make into loaf, place in pan of standard size, allow to rise until nearly fills the pan and bake 45 or 50 minutes. It is hardly practicable to use a greater percentage of cornmeal than this even in emergencies, for bread so made differs very little from baked mush. Less cornmeal can be used and in such a case the general method given above may be followed.
 It is possible to make a yeast raised corn bread without first cooking the cornmeal. In this case not more than one cupful of meal should be used to four cupfuls of flour. In other respects the bread is mixed and baked as in the above recipe.

JACOB J. SWANK PRAISES TANLAC
 Retired Johnstown Business Man Feels it a Duty to Make Facts Known
 Jacob J. Swank, a retired business man, of 625 Napoleon St., Johnstown, Pa., said recently:
 "I believe I had used almost everything imaginable before I took Tanlac. At night, when I slept, which was poorly, I evidently swallowed accumulations of mucus, as I invariably awakened in the morning choked and nauseated. That is the way I judge that my stomach became affected."
 "My hearing became impaired and the itching in my ears became almost unbearable, and there were roaring noises also. I had a most unpleasant taste in my mouth and scarcely any appetite."
 "I began to improve rapidly under the Tanlac treatment. My whole system is now right, the accumulations in my nose and throat have disappeared, my hearing has improved, I eat better, my sleep is restful and I feel better every way. I now consider myself physically able to throw off any other symptoms. I am a well man."
 "Tanlac, the Master Medicine is now sold here by G. A. GUNN, druggist."
