Prefers Playground for the Children

Editor Patton Courier:
I have noted lately reference to purchasing a monument in honor of the brave boys who so nobly defended the principles we were contending for in the world war with Germany.

I certainly feel that there should be some permanent recognition of this service, but, instead of a cold inanimate block of stone, I would suggest that we could more fittingly commemorate the service by the establishment of a children's playground, which would be for the moral, physical and practical benefit to the coming generation. And such a playground should be under the direction and supervision of the boys, in whose honor it is established.

Yours truly,
W. H. Denlinger.

Red Cross Will Render Assistance

To Help Furnish Clothing for the Suffering—Must Uphold Reputation.

Another opportunity for the women of Cambria county to demonstrate their ability to provide clothing assistance is to aid and bare their share of the reconstruction work in the devastated countries of Europe—this time by force.

A heavy shipment has arrived from headquarters for knitted shawls and children's stockings. Checking of this kind is needed at once to relieve suffering in Belgium and northern France. We must not fail in this work, let us show that we still have the same spirit that has been so manifest in our community during the past two years.

Yours truly,
W. H. Denlinger,
Chairman.

COOPERATION OF SHIPPING PUBLIC WORKING WONDERS

The campaign which the American Railway Express Company is waging to give better and more efficient services to the public has already accomplished marvelous results, and as people begin to realize the wonderful importance of the services which they are making even greater results will be accomplished.

There are just four principle evils in connection with express shipments these days:

First, accepting shipments not properly marked.

Second, accepting shipments not properly packed.

Third, rough handling of goods enroute.

Fourth, stealing.

The death knell on all four of these evils has been definitely and sufficiently pronounced. The shippers must accept the first two and the express company must correct the last two, which it has already done.

Start your express shipments right and they will arrive at their destination right. A good rule for the shipper to follow would be to pack merchandise as well as to mark it so that it is impossible to break or destroy the package and to mark it so plainly and legibly that it is impossible for any one to read the consignee's name.

It might be well for the shipper to remember that a shipment which is started right has already arrived half way to its destination. Express agents, drivers, etc. have been instructed to positively refuse to accept any package which is not securely packed and well wrapped, and on which two addresses are plainly written, the one to whom the shipment is made as well as the name and address of the individual shipping said packages.

The American Railway Express wishes to acknowledge its pleasure and gratitude to the public for the cooperation which it is giving in this matter.

"REVELATION" Screen Classics

Revolution is a sensational picture drama, a worthy vehicle for the genius of the great Nazimova. It tells the story of Julius, a model being in the Latin quarter of Paris, who finds a girl through the agency of the party hostess, Therese Juine, a woman who sees her standing beside the sacred bush was shining in her eyes the pure spirit of the Madonna. The hash bursts into bloom. But this means to us nothing compared to the revelation by which Julius' whole nature is transformed and parallel to the story of the Great War are born in Revelation are Julius' fight for business first in service and then in love.

Agree to Aid Patton in Building Roads

One of the largest delegations that ever met at the county seat relative to the making of road roads in the county met with the Commissioners at Ebensburg Monday and made their request that two roads, representing about seven miles in all, be located during the coming summer. The delegates were from Patton and East Carroll townships and were led by W. H. Denlinger, John P. Hinkle, George E. Primm, Frank Parabaugh, T. M. Stoshan, W. I. Thompson, H. M. Gieslerham and a number of others from both districts.

The county commissioners met in a full hearing of the matter, and at the close of the conference, told the delegation that the Cambria county would go along with them and that they were authorized to commence work at once, or as early as possible, but that engineers would begin the work of making the surveys within two weeks, as soon as weather conditions will permit. The men from Patton and East Carroll township felt highly elated over their accomplishments.

Already the commissioners have agreed to enough road-building propositions to completely revolutionize the road system of the county. This, too, it may be stated, is entirely independent and aside from the roads now building and under construction through state aid and federal aid funds, the road between Mounts and Gettysburg, which was started last year, is a state-aided road. The commissioners also agreed to pay one-half the cost and the county and township the other half. The proposition also has received to date about $62,000 from the federal road-building fund, but it has been so apportioned that but little direct results are noticeable.

Agree to Aid Patton in Building Roads

Here, in brief, are some of the roads that will be started during the 1919-20 Cambria county road-building program:

From Lamb's bridge, South Park, Pa. to New-Glo, from New-Glo, Pa. to Carrolltown; from Carrolltown to Spanner and Mayersburg; from Carrolltown to Patton; from Patton to Bradley Junction; from Bradley Junction to Loreto; from Loreto to Ebensburg (state aid); from Loreto to Croxson (state aid); two miles in Grape township, near Glasgow, and several other short routes.

Patrons are still pouring in to the commissioners for road improvements from nearly all sections of the county, and so all of the delegations that have called and shown their good faith in the premises, the fullest hearings have been accorded and in nearly every instance the county has agreed to go along on the proposition. The resolution adopted by the commissioners several weeks ago provides that the county is to pay not more than two-thirds of the cost of these roads.

Assurances have been given the Cambria County Good Roads Association that engineers of the State Highway Department will at once begin making surveys of the roads included in this extensive program for the section outlined by State Commissioner Sadler. His preliminary work is to be completed at the earliest possible date, so that the actual construction can be begun under way in the early spring.

RED CROSS IS STILL

HELPING SOLDIER BOYS

We are advised of the fact that a large number of boys at Westport have a few days ago received the supplies. The committee also had with the boys and their parents, and at their arrival, the boys were given an abundant supply of coffee, sandwiches, hot chocolate, etc.

The boys were splendidly entertained and in general were very happy to be advanced by the Red Cross in their respective homes.

There have been some interesting reports circulated in the community concerning the care and attention shown our boys at Westport by the Red Cross. We challenge any man or woman to produce any one of these absurd and ridiculous stories.

If you hear any one circulating these stories it is your duty to demand proof and insist upon the facts being given to the official representatives of the Red Cross.

W. H. Denlinger, Chairman.
