among the visitors at the Elks' Club celebration at Altoona Monday.
It is quite likely that we will find a great many more Germans who will gradually come to the conclusion that St. Patrick was a good sport.

Edward Hunter has returned to Bakerton after spending the week in town.

Friends of the Misses Ora and Maud Cully will be glad to note that their condition is very much improved and all hopes are entertained for their recovery. The Misses Cully are suffering from influenza at their home in Westover.

Mrs. A. E. Rumberger and children spent Sunday at the home of her father at Cherrytree.

W. H. Denlinger received word this week that the commission of second lieutenant was awarded his son, William, who has been with the 360th Engineers in France for the past eight months, and who is now on his way home.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Rennie, a daughter.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Eli Resko, a girl.

To sin is not a crime. The worst is being found out. Is the path of least resistance the easiest way?
Varda Derring thought so, until the man who loved her taught her better.

grow old—at the Majestic Wednesday night, featuring Mabel Normand.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mullen received word this week that their youngest son, Andrew, had landed safely in New York after spending the past year in foreign service.

One of the most thrilling stories of love and intrigue ever shown in town is Marian Davis, latest Select star, in "The Burden of Proof." In this picture Miss Davis plays the part of a young society matron who becomes the wife of a member of the U. S. Cabinet. At the Majestic on Thursday night.

Mrs. J. R. Cornelius was shopping in Johnstown Thursday.

Myrtle and Edith McConnell, Eer-tha Butterworth, Marie Shunkwiler, Messrs. Ralph Dunagan, Robert Thomas, Clarence Albright, Charles and Paul Stromire, Delbert McConnell and Jesse Simons of Kentucky.

HEARD THIS WEEK.

That the assistant postmistress received her rose buds, but has failed to wear them.

That the Palmer house was under the capable management of Edward Hunter and Elliott Rhodes last week during the absence of the manager.

That Theda Bara is back in town.
That poor grandmother lost her shoe in the mud on her way from church.

That Edward Hunter is thinking of entering the Spangler hospital for treatment.

That Paddy Meehan is out again.
Very likely he must have been sick because we didn't hear he was in jail.

That Muggsy Mulligan was lost in Barnesboro Monday night after the dance and claims he was wandering around the streets until the whistles blew. While his friends were worried during his absence they took his word as to his whereabouts.

That Tom Coxe went over to Bar-nesboro Monday night to see "Stolen Sweets," not a girl, but a show, and someone, he don't exactly know who, stole his winter before last overcoat.

That really we can't see how she could afford a new suit since she distinctly pay for her winter one.

That St. Patrick's day was Derr Winslow's birthday.

Coming in the very near future, The Great Victory, or the Fall of Hohenliern. This is not a war picture, but an educational classic of today. Watch for the date.

That Francis Trecker arrived home last evening from active service in France.

Returned Soldiers.

Have you made application for your $50 bonus? If not call at the Red Cross headquarters and we will help you make up papers.

YOUNG GIRL IS HELD UP.

Last Saturday evening a young girl about 16 years of age was returning from town where she was shopping and was held up by what she describes what a young man about 20 years of age, on the corner of Beech avenue and Church street.
The girl was carrying no money or valuables, consequently he got none.
Officials expect to land the culprit in a day or so.

DEMONSTRATION OF

HOME NURSING

Demonstration of Home Nursing Grange Hall, Tuesday, March 25, at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m.

Miss Leatherman of the Cambria County Farm Bureau, accompanied by Miss Louke, a graduate nurse of Harrisburg, will give a demonstration with lectures on the nursing of the sick in the home. The dates will be as follows:

Patton—Tuesday, March 25th.
Concorn Grange Hall, March 24.
Carrolltown, March 27th.
Nicktown, March 28th.

These lectures are intended to give some very useful suggestions on the caring for the sick and all housewives, mothers and school girls are cordially invited.

The first time in Cambria county this opportunity has been given, and we hope all who can should try to be there. An attractive musical program has been arranged for the evening session at Patton.

The Patton Glee Club, under the direction of Lester Larimer, who entertained us so pleasantly last summer have kindly volunteered their services. This attraction independent of the lectures should be sufficient to fill the hall to its capacity.

Mrs. W. H. Karheim has these meetings in charge and the community should feel indebted to her for the opportunity of learning something about this very necessary and practical part of home work.

MEETING OF NURSES

ASSOCIATION

The second meeting of District No.
6, of the Graduate Nurses Association of Pennsylvania will be held in the Nurses' Home of the Altoona hospital, Howard Ave., 7th Street, Altoona, March 20, at 1 o'clock. All graduate, registered nurses living within this district, which embraces Bedford, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Somerset, Huntington and Blair counties, whose alumnae are not within the district, who wish to become members of the state and national associations, must become members through this district association in which they reside. For further information communicate with Mrs. Herbert McAllister, district secretary, 2108 Fourth street, Altoona, Pa.

BAPTIST CHURCH

There will be no services at the Baptist church this Sunday morning.
Pastor Zwyer will visit the Calvary Sunday School. It was decided last Sunday not to have service for one Sunday in the morning, so as to enable all who desire to do so to visit the Calvary School with the Pastor.
It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity.

Sunday School as usual at 2 p. m., and divine worship at 7:45 p. m. Pastor E. G. Zwyer will preach on "Christ Lifted Up." General prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.
Everybody cordially invited to all meetings.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its monthly meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. E. Jones.
A full attendance is hoped for.

Optimistic Thought.

It is a sure indication of good sense to be optimistic.
