

THOUGHT FOR TODAY
 If the friends of your youth are the enemies of your old age, it is you and not your friends that are wrong.

EBENSBURG HOME IS ROBBED
 Mrs. Philip Anstead, a venerable lady of the East ward, Ebensburg, who conducts a boarding house, had $25 taken from her house by some person or persons unknown to her. She has no clue to the thief and does not know of any person other than her regular boarders being in the house.

Mike Cozzard, of Carrolltown, recently discharged from the United army, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of having stolen a horse in court at Ebensburg this week. The horse was taken from a Carrolltown Everyman. He was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $25 and to serve six months in jail.

The Story of Miss U. S. Dollar

Told by Herself

I was born in the Treasury Department at Washington early in the year 1918, and soon after birth was shipped in company with several thousand others of the same issue to Altoona, Pennsylvania, a beautiful city of 65,000 population, located in the heart of the Allegheny mountains.

Of our trip to Altoona I can say nothing as we were securely locked in a steel strong-box into which not even a ray of light could penetrate. Upon our arrival there we were removed from the box in a large beautiful room which was divided into many small compartments. This room was finished in white marble with mahogany fixtures and furnishings. As we left the box we were counted and placed upon a ledge behind a grill-work grating from where we could see everything that took place in the room and still we could be reached by no one from outside.

It was very interesting and entertaining to watch the people come and go, but I soon tired of this and longed for further adventures. At last a gentleman came to our window, presented a paper and I and several of my companions were given into his keeping. He carried us a short distance in his hand and then entered a large store which was crowded with merchandise of every description; here we were placed upon a tray with a large number of others of our kind. I quickly noticed that many were constantly arriving and leaving, the method of conveyance being a small steel box which travelled on conveyors reaching to every section of the store.

At last my turn arrived, and I was grasped firmly by the cashier, placed in the little box and started for the other end of the line, arriving there I was given to a beautiful little girl who promptly carried me to her mother. I remained here only over night as the following morning I was given to a farmer in part payment for eggs and produce, this was the beginning of several weeks of idleness as I lay concealed in an old teapot until taken out to help pay the wages of a man employed upon the farm, and right here occurred one of the most pleasant of my experiences as I was given into the work-hardened hands of a woman who alternately laughed and cried as she exclaimed: At last I have enough money with which to purchase the warm undergarments, shoes and stockings so badly needed by the children. The next day after a long ride in a covered wagon I was surprised to find myself back again in the tray at the big store from which I had departed several weeks before.

Here several days of inactivity followed, but one morning I overheard a conversation which I thought concerned me, so I listened attentively, and discovered that I was to become part of a donation that would help defray the expense of a Liberty Arch that was being erected in honor of the soldier boys from this district who were returning home from the great world war, or who have made the supreme sacrifice.

I am very much pleased with my experiences thus far and only hope I may always be associated with people who are loyal enough to their district to desire to keep me with them all of the time.

KEEP ME IN THE DISTRICT AND I WILL WORK FOR YOU DAY AND NIGHT.

Miss U. S. Dollar.

Bakerton

Mr. and Mrs. John Rowe and daughter, Miss Beatrice, of Bellwood, visited at the home of the former's brother, Albert Rowe, Saturday and Sunday.

The year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Claag is seriously ill of pneumonia.
 E. P. Reed, a retired business man of this place, was a caller in Barnesboro Tuesday.
 John Sherman, one of the butchers in the Bakerton Supply meat market, is bedfast at his home here, threatened with pneumonia. We trust he will soon be able to be about again.

 The Rustin orchestra furnishes music for the Nixon theater and, according to the patrons of this theater are well pleased with it.
 "The House of Hate" every Tuesday night at the Nixon and Houdini will be seen in opening chapters next Thursday night and will appear every Thursday thereafter. This is considerably the present day. Be sure and be there the opening night. You will be there afterwards, as the temptation is too great to stay away.

 Miss Eva McFeeley visited relatives in Lilly several days the latter part of last week.
 John Spansky, we learn, has purchased the property occupied by Ralph Davenport and expects to take possession in the very near future.

According to rumors, Bakerton will have another restaurant. Joe Spansky of town will build a suitable building on the adjoining lot to J. Regan's barber shop.
 A surprise birthday party was held at the home of Jasper Estop Monday night in honor of Private Gene Kelly, who celebrated his 19th birthday.
