HOW THE Y. W. C. A. HELPS THE CHINESE WORKING WOMEN

A recreation center in the mill district of Shanghai, to be used as a community center for men, women and children and particularly for women working in the mills is one of the plans which Mrs. Katherine Willard Eddy, acting executive of the Young Women's Christian Association, has for China and which she hopes to put into effect by next year.

The center will be planned something after that of the demonstration centers which the Industrial department of the Y. W. C. A. are opening in ten of the largest manufacturing cities of the United States to prove the need of women for just such a community center to be used as they see fit and to be in the part of the city where they live and work.

Mrs. Eddy hopes to open such a center and also to send to China this autumn a woman who know the industrial problem. "There is a growing desire," Mrs. Eddy says, "for this sort of guidance and the present moment offers an unparalleled opportunity. Chinese manufacturers are ready and willing to take our help. Others have asked for it. If we do not furnish them the experience we have gained in dealing with women in this and European countries they will begin work themselves. It will be far more difficult to divert into the right lines than to help lay the foundations."

"I visited a factory in China last year and was asked by the owner for an American woman who could direct work among the women who comprise two-thirds of the employees. He had luncheon rooms and classes for the men but nothing for the women. He wanted a Chinese trained nurse if she could be directed by an experienced American woman."

"At another factory I found everything up to date and new. The owner had graduated from an American University, and had spent a year in Texas investigating cotton growing to fitting himself to take charge of his large cotton mills. His factory had the best conditions possible for the workers, excellent housing, lunch rooms, recreation rooms and all that could be found in the most modern factory in this country."

"There is absolutely no labor legislation in China, so that it is up to the individual employer to see that conditions are good. Such legislation should be directed for the protection of all workers, particularly the women. In practically every factory I visited, two-thirds of the workers were women. There were girls only seven years of age and very old women."

"Women have been in industry in China for centuries. They have always made the clothes. Many of the exquisite fabrics were made in their homes, sometimes all of the family working on them. The looms are passed on from one generation to another. Some families worked in clans apprehending the growth of large factories."

"Women have always made the 'ghost money,' too, the paper money which is sold in the market to relatives that they may burn it on the graves of their dead in order that they may have the money for use in the next world. Any day one may see women going to market with long ten foot poles on their shoulders and long strings of ghost money hanging from it."

"In addition to the ghost money which is burned on the graves paper replicas of the material spoils of the dead are burned that they may be wafted up through the smoke to the dead for their use in the next world. These paper things are made exquisitely. I attended the funeral of a very wealthy man in Shanghai whose automobile was reproduced in life size even to the minute details of small screws and bolts. Women have always been the chief workers in this paper industry."

"While working conditions among women in Europe and America are being considered the east should be remembered. Just as soon as my department finds a woman with an international industrial understanding she will be sent to begin industrial work among women in China and Japan. Y. W. C. A. industrial work grew vastly during the war in both France and the United States. It is now time for the east to be given a chance."

INFORMATION IN RE NEW BOUNTY LAW ACT 144, APPROVED MAY 28, 1919

Dear Sir:—
House Bill, No. 419, giving this office the authority to issue checks direct to claimants for bounty has been signed by the Governor and after June 1st, 1919, will be the law in this State. Under the provisions of this Act a bounty of $5.00 will be paid for wild cats, $1.00 for a mink and $2.00 each for foxes and weasels. The skins of all animals for the killing of which a bounty is claimed must be sent to this office by the claimant, just as they are now sent when the affidavit is made before a Justice of the Peace. The skins must be mutilated and the affidavit must clearly state when as well as where the animal in question was killed. If the claimant hopes to profit by the increased bounty on wild cats and weasels as provided for in this bill. Special Deputy Game Protectors are authorized by this Act to take affidavits of this character and are entitled to the same fee that a Justice could claim for like services, but must supply himself with a proper identifying seal at his own expense. A paid Game Protector is not entitled to such fee. All individuals in the State authorized to administer oaths can take such affidavits.

Any effort to secure the increased bounty on either a wild cat or a weasel as provided for by this Act through the presentation of the skin of an animal killed before June 1st, 1919, is punishable by fine and imprisonment, and a false affidavit in this regard is perjury.

Respectfully,
Joseph Kalbas,
Secretary, Game Commission.

FARM BUREAU NOTES June Farmers Week

The returns coming in from the farmers of the County indicate that there will be a very good attendance of farmers at the June Farmers Week meetings to be held at State College, June 17-18 and 19th. The Farm Bureau is planning to run an automobile excursion from the County to the College. The party will leave from the square at Ebensburg, June 17th at 10 o'clock A. M., and will keep together in the drive to the College. Automobile parties from the West and South of the County that cannot reach Ebensburg conveniently can meet the party at the William Penn Garage at Cresson at 10:30 A. M. All who are planning to make the trip should take their lunch with them. A stop will be made for lunch at some convenient place. All who are contemplating making the trip and have not notified the Farm Bureau office should do so at once, so that arrangements can be made with the College for accommodating those who make the trip.

One of the interesting features of Farmers Week will be the Stock Judging Contest for the young boys and girls. Each County of the State will be represented by a judging team of five members. Any of the boys or girls of the County who wish to enter the judging contest should inform the County Agent, H. C. McWilliams, at once.

Livestock
The livestock development of the County has improved very much in the past year. The indications are that a good number of pure bred dairy cattle will be brought into the County during the summer months. Farmers who are interested in pure bred dairy cattle should get in touch with the Farm Bureau office so that their needs can be taken care of in the best way possible.

Sheep Meeting
There will be a meeting of the wool growers of the County held in the Banner Grange Hall near Bradley Junction on Thursday evening, June 13th at eight o'clock. It will be to the best interests of all of the sheep breeders in the County to be present to discuss the marketing of wool to the best advantage.

Improved Methods of Potato Production
Improved methods of potato production are being put into effect by the farmers of the County. The elimination of diseases by seed treatment and spraying seems to be the order of the day. Several new spray machines are being purchased by farmers in the County for the control of insects and fungi diseases.

NORTHERN CAMBRIA WILL WELCOME SOLDIERS

For some time the Northern end of the County have been planning for a Welcome Home Day, and they are now getting affairs in shape. On the 1st of June representatives from nearly all the towns in that end of the county met at Sunset Park and decided on details. The day for this great event was set for August the 21st which falls on a Thursday. An arch to cost $250, decorations for $250 more, was authorized. Committees selected were:

Decorations—Louis Laxenburg, G. Nicholson, Richard Scollon.
Advertising—G. E. Hipps, B. L. Buck, Joseph Gray, Austin Houck.
Finance—A committee in each town in the territory.

Booster Committee—James A. McClain, James Lamont, J. R. Nicholson.
Orchestra—H. Beiser.

Bands—Harry Goodall.
Speakers—W. H. Denlinger, James McClain, Richard Scollon. They were instructed to invite Gov. Sproul, Mayor Frank, of Johnstown; Rembrandt Peale and Jas. H. Allport of Washington, D. C., and Law Watkins of New York.

Mr. W. H. Denlinger was appointed as the chairman for the day and to give the address of welcome, while Dr. Arble was asked to respond for the soldiers. The dancing pavilion was engaged for the day.

Jas. A. McClain was elected the treasurer.

The Committee on sports was a strong one as follows: James LeMont, of Elmora; J. G. Nicholson, of Spangler; Blair McAnulty, of Barnesboro; William Reese, of Patton; William Ramsgay, of Emeligh; J. C. Homer, of Glasgow; W. G. Strayer, of Plinton, and F. H. Beers of Malen Timber.

$300 was appropriated for fireworks.

This will be one of the biggest things in this part of the state this year. The foregoing is only the beginning of the elaborate plans.

HONOR AMONG THIEVES

When the Vice President of any concern knows enough about the crookedness of his associates not to trust them with the affairs of his estate after death it proves that above all, an honest man will never hide the crookedness of which he has knowledge if he sees that anyone will suffer from its consequences.

UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Patton. No Patton resident who suffers headache or aching urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

Mrs. James Cairns, Terra Cottis Avenue, Patton, says: "I was troubled with my kidneys for a long time. I had severe pains across my back especially after I did any washing or ironing. I continued using them until I was well and strong and they have kept me in fine health ever since." (Statement given October 10, 1917.)

Is Your Car Built or Just Put Together?

There's a lot of difference in results between the two methods. A car that is put together from the products of a score or more of parts-makers represents just that many standards of construction, no two of which are likely to be exactly the same.

Briscoe cars are 99% built in Briscoe plants. Briscoe engineers not only design the car, but they stand guard over every process of manufacture, and see that it is up to Briscoe requirements.

That is why Briscoe cars set unmatched standards of operating economy, of consistent performance, of all-around satisfaction. That is why, too, when you need a spare part you get it with a minimum of delay and at a moderate expense.
