Big Fire in Pittsburgh.
The big shipping warehouse of the Atlantic Refining Company at Pittsburgh, lies in ruins. Fire, believed to have started from crossed wires, Friday, caused damage estimated at $250,000. Ten huge oil tanks were endangered.

Crime Wave in Pittsburgh.
Arrest of more than a score of suspicious persons failed to check the crime wave sweeping Pittsburgh and last Thursday a thrilling gun battle in a downtown street and a holdup in which the victim was beaten and robbed were added to the long list.

Beeskeepers Elect.
Prof. H. C. Klinger, of Liverpool, of the Pennsylvania State Beeskeepers association, meeting here in connection with the farm products show. P. A. McGowan, of Williamsport, was elected vice president and Charles H. Greene, of Troy, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Ohio License Records Broken.
The State Bureau of Foods will break all January records in issuance of oleomargarine licenses. Thus far 5161 have been put out, of which 4,886 went to retailers. Thus far almost 500 more licenses have been issued in January than in the whole of last January.

Brothers Meet After 48 Years.
Separated 48 years, George W. Yindling, of Altoona, and his brother, Thomas G. Kingling, a retired butcher, of Martin's Ferry, O., met in Wheeling, W. Va., and arranged for a reunion in Altoona in the near future, which will be attended by a third brother, James, also of Altoona.

State Profits by Road Plan Sales.
Pennsylvania received a revenue of $5,853.45 in 1919 from sale of 2351 sets of plans for road construction. In former years these plans were furnished free. Last year, owing to the immense amount of road construction, there was a heavy demand and the State established a charge for all plans.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN A PATTON VISITOR.

Among the visitors in Patton this week is Corp. William A. Jacobs, of Snowshoe, Pa., who arrived here last Friday to spend a fortnight with his grandson, Clyde M. Lucas. Mr. Jacobs is a Civil War veteran and was a member of Co. F, First Division, Second Army Corps. He was in every battle in which his company participated during the war, and was shot through the right thigh in the battle of Pe River, and also received a bullet wound in the knee during the battle of Deep Bottom. Mr. Jacobs is enjoying good health at the present, with the exception that his eyesight is failing. He has been working steadily up until about a year ago, following the state and township road construction work. Mr. Jacobs was born in Huntingdon, Pa., March 29, 1839, and will be 81 years of age this March.

ONE ON GEORGE.

They are telling a story around Patton these days about a couple of foreigners who were recent applicants at court in Ebensburg for naturalization papers. Of course, the judge, questioned them in an effort to determine whether or not they knew anything of the government in which they desired citizenship. Following a number of questions, the jurist remarked: "John, who is the president of the United States?"

After some deliberation, John's face beamed and he replied: "George Prind-a-ble, your honor."

MINERS' NIGHT SCHOOL HAS REOPENED.

The classes in first aid and other work of benefit to the miners was resumed in the Patton schools on Monday night of last week, and will be continued each Monday night during the winter months. This was the first class since before the Christmas holidays. W. G. Duncan, of Pittsburgh, is the instructor, and the courses have been held up owing to his inability to come to Patton since that time.

WE SEE THE PALMER HOUSE.

On a recent visit around town we had occasion to drop into the office of the Palmer house, where we had the pleasure of meeting the proprietor, Mr. Garfield Wilkins, who took the time to show us about the building. We were surprised to see the plan of the interior and take pleasure in the fact that Patton has a hotel that can accommodate the traveling public. The old bar room has been converted into a sample room, and Mr. Wilkins contemplates several other changes about the building, all for the betterment of conditions.

TELEPHONE SERVICE HANDICAPPED.

Owing to the freezing rains of last Friday evening the telephone service of both the Bell and Local companies, was had for a few days. Although, in and around Patton the ice did not do any material damage, in some sections, especially about Carrolltown, late of Johnstown. Will probated.

Sowash Willys Light Co.

Distributors for the "Willys Light" in the Pittsburgh territory are looking for a sales representative or dealer in this territory.

The "Willys Light" is an electric farm light and power plant produced by "Willys Overland" interests.

The man we want must have sales ability and must be a real worker. To the right man who is willing to work, this is a real opportunity to get in a permanent paying business where he can earn from $5,000 to $10,000 a year. He will be given the opportunity to learn the business thoroughly before his actual work begins.

He must be clean cut, square and have a good standing in the community. When necessary he must be in a position to secure small financial backing.

The "Sowash Willys Light Company" are anxious to hear from men with the qualifications described above and will be glad to make arrangements for a personal interview.

DIED WHILE DRINKING COFFEE IN RESTAURANT.

Isadore Conrad, aged 63 years, a bachelor, died Thursday morning in the restaurant of his brother-in-law, William F. Johnson, in Cumberland, while drinking coffee at a table. Conrad formerly made his home in Chest Springs, leaving there two years ago for Cumberland, Md., to reside with the Johnson family. Conrad was a brother of Joseph Conrad, Dysart, Pa.; Lincoln Conrad, Ashville, Pa.; Edward Conrad, Pittsburgh, and three sisters, Mrs. Frances Will, Dysart; Mrs. Samuel Wilbert, Ashville, and Mary, a sister in a convent in Greensburg.

The body arrived in Ashville, Friday and the funeral took place from St. Thomas' Catholic church there Saturday morning. Interment was made in the Chest Springs cemetery.
