

Mrs. Brown of Barnesboro

SHE often came to Johnstown—found it broke the dull routine of everyday life in her home town—she enjoyed it. Sometimes it was “a good show,” or a feature “movie,” or “a dinner party” around which the day’s pleasure centered. Mrs. Brown always had a good time.

She shopped in Johnstown stores—bought the things for herself and other members of her family that limited stocks in the stores at home didn’t supply. And Mrs. Brown kept her family up-to-date—progressive.

There are hundreds of “Mrs. Browns” in the towns surrounding Johnstown—and this big, friendly city of famous store service is making life more worthwhile for them and their families.
