LEGION NEWS.

An ex-service man with eight bars on his Victory medal has been enrolled by Argonne Post of the American Legion at Des Moines, Ia., in a membership campaign. George Leander, the embryonic Legionnaire, was with a supply train attached to the Mallet Reserve of the French Army. He took part in the some offensive, Artois, Montdidier Noyon, Champagne-Marne, Somme and Oise-Aisne offensives and also served in a defensive sector.

Foreign posts of the American Legion have been asked to co-operate with the Federal Board for Vocational Education in carrying out a system of retraining American veterans in France, England, Italy and Belgium are to be provided with vocational training. The plan is based upon a reciprocal agreement between this country and the four allied countries, under which they are to train disabled American veterans in their borders and this country is to train their disabled ex-service men in our own, each nation paying a stipulated sum for each veteran so trained.

The first convention of the Women's Auxiliary of the Virginia Department of the American Legion will be held May 13 and 14, it was decided at a meeting of the Legion's state executive committee. More than 1,100 new members were obtained for the Legion in Virginia between January 1 and February 12.

Player pianos, phonographs, desks and Shetland ponies are among the prizes in a membership contest which the Texas Department of the American Legion has started. Posts will be graded on the proportion of number of members obtained to the population of the community.

The Women's Auxiliary unit of Murphy Major-Sloan Post No. 284 of the American Legion at Atchinson, Kan., is the first colored auxiliary in Kansas and one of the first to be organized in the country.

Job applicants and employers are listed in a card index, according to their abilities and needs by Nashville, Tenn. Post of the American Legion, which has been successful in obtaining employment for many ex-service men.

Backed by the American Legion organization of the State, a bill providing for exemption from payment of taxes by veterans has been passed by the Wyoming Legislature. All ex-service men in the state, whether or not they enlisted from Wyoming, will benefit.

Essay contests on the subjects of Lincoln's Gettysburg address and the application of Washington farwell address to present-day condition in America were held in Spokane, Wash. high school by Spokane Post of the American Legion, which rewarded the winners with prizes.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUESTIONS.

Question 1.—What is the high limit of temperature for a school room?
Answer—70 degrees.

Question 2.—Why should window blinds be open out of school hours?
Answer—Because light, especially sun light, has a destructive action against germs.

Question 3.—What is the objection to the feather duster?
Answer—The feather duster displaces dust but does not remove it. About 1,000 Boards of Health are functioning in Pennsylvania. Some are at work, some are loafing.

The next issue entitled "The Board of Health" is about a determined woman, an obstinate man and a spineless Board of Health and illustrates the method by which the State Department of Health enforces Health Laws in Municipalities where the Boards of Health are derelict of their duties.
