McKean County has been making rapid strides in wool growing and first prize was taken last week by the wool growers' association of the county at Harroburg for quality of wool grown. While the county is favorably adapted to sheep-raising, those engaged in the industry have to contend with the depredations of bears and wildcats. In 1921 there was paid in bounty by the county for noxious animals killed $5,738.50. In the list of animals killed were 18 wildcats and 132 foxes.

Clinton County leads the State in the production of wildcats last year, according to bounties paid by the Game Commission. A total of 38 wildcats were killed in Clinton. Elk, its nearest competitor, killed 26. In the State 104 were killed. Crawford County residents collected the largest amount of county money with $6,643.50, as well as leading in the number of weasels killed with 3,475. Bradford County was second with $3,340.00. Sangoshanna killed the most foxes, with 436 pelts. The total expended by the Commission for bounties was $128,299.50, the largest sum in the history of bounty payments.

Angelo Palmer, a school boy, of Sharon, was killed at noon Thursday when he fell from a laundry truck. The wheels passed over his body.

Passes Away at His Home

Henry J. Krumenacker, one of the oldest and best known residents of Northern Cambria County, died at his home near Nicktown, Thursday night, of a complication of diseases, aged 81 years. The deceased had been engaged in farming and for half a century had been engaged in lumbering. Up until a year ago he was a director of the First National Bank of Carrolltown, resigning on account of ill health.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning in St. Nicholas' Catholic Church, at Nicktown. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated. Burial was made in the church cemetery. The deceased was born at Nicktown on June 21, 1840. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Barbara (Leister) Krumenacker, and the following children: Mrs. W. F. Biter, of Dover, Del.; William, Edward and Gilbert Krumenacker, all of Barr Township, and Miss Cecelia Krumenacker, at home. Mr. Krumenacker also is survived by two sisters—Mrs. Mary Ashton, of Plymouth, Ind., and Sister M. Babina, of Glen Riddle, Pa.
