

A UNION OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Healthy Housewife---Happy Home

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Form Many

For the ailing, half-sick housewife such a union is impossible. Often times even the slightest form of housework cannot be accomplished. Yet the work must be done. Many women struggle along for years suffering from some form of female trouble that make their lives miserable and their homes far from happy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of just such women regain their health and strength. Just give your thought to the following letters and remember that the women who wrote these letters knew how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound and again afterwards. It helped them—let it help you.

Had Nervous Spells
Horsatio, Ark.—"I had nervous spells and awful bad feelings. My right side and my back hurt me all the time and I had been going down in health for six or seven years. For three years I had not been able to do my work without help. I weighed only 50 pounds when my husband's mother persuaded me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I heartily recommend it to all suffering women, as I have gained weight and health. I can do all my work, anything I want to do."—Mrs. JIM REARICK, Horsatio, Arkansas.

Reading, Pa.—"I was a nervous wreck and could hardly do my housework. I always had to have help or I would never have got it done. Through the advice of friends I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my nerves and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicines for my blood and I am feeling fine and doing my work all alone. I can recommend these medicines to any one, for they certainly helped me. I suffered for five years and Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines pulled me through."—Mrs. WALTER U. STOVES, 1218 Mulberry St., Reading, Pa.

Recommends the Vegetable Compound

New Orleans, La.—"I have found relief from my troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I praise it wherever I go. I could not do my work as it should be done for I would sometimes have to lie down because of the pains I had. A friend induced me to take your Vegetable Compound and I have got great results from it. I keep house and am able to do all my own work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine."—Mrs. T. FORTNER, 1915 N. Derbigny St., New Orleans, La.

The AMERICAN LEGION

WILL WRITE POST'S HISTORY

Rupert Hughes, Author, Will Chronicle Happenings to Members of Robert Stowe Gill Body.

The history of one American Legion post will be written by no less a light than Rupert Hughes. With an eye to his versatile pen, members of the Robert Stowe Gill post of the Legion in New York, have made the author their historian. The membership of the post is made up entirely of members of the Lamb's club—writers and actors for the most part.

"Long in time and short in importance" is the way Mr. Hughes describes his military career. As a matter of fact he was a fairly important soldier. He started as a private in the Seventh regiment in 1907. Ten years later he was offered a lieutenant colonelcy, which he did not accept. He served on the Mexican border as a captain, and only deafness kept him from service abroad during the World war. During the raising of troops in New York he served as adjutant general, where his deafness was an asset rather than a liability with the pacifist tooting their tin whistles, and then he became a captain in the Intelligence service, being just as intelligent when deaf as when sharp of hearing.

"I joined the Legion," Mr. Hughes wrote, "because I believe in its principles and I believe it to be one of the most important organizations in the country." Mr. Hughes has recently come into public notice for his stand against censorship.

HIGH ON LEGION HONOR ROLL

Minnesota Newspaper Man Wrote 3,226 Personal Letters to "Higher" Workers During World War.

One of the world's most enthusiastic letter writers is M. W. Orms, editor of the Le Sueur (Minn.) News. During the war, he stands high on the honor roll of the Minnesota department of the American Legion. Le Sueur and vicinity sent 250 men and seven women to the colors. Editor Orms sat down and wrote them 3,226 personal letters while they were away from home, an average of one letter a month for each fighter or nurse. In addition he mailed a copy of the homestead paper to each of them every week. The letters were not the "Dear Jim-I-really-pours-truly" variety; they contained the bits of "home gossip" and local color for which the doughboys were willing to give their last cigarette.

When the veterans returned, Editor Orms assisted in the formation of a post of the American Legion and devoted an entire edition of the News to reproducing the pictures of every Le Sueur boy that had lost his life in the war.

AN EYE ON NEXT CONGRESS

Official Washington is Speculating on How Many Ex-SERVICE Men Will Be Returned.

Official Washington is wondering how many ex-service men are to be returned to congress at the election next fall. Speculation is rife, with the bonus controversy at full tilt.

Veterans of the World war already have formidable strength in the house, 31 seats being occupied by former service men, according to a canvass by the American Legion. The senate has two veterans—Senator Newberry of Michigan, and Senator ELLIS of West Virginia. Twenty-one states are represented by ex-service men in congress, New York leading with four, Massachusetts and Tennessee being second with three each.

Far-sighted persons have hazarded the opinion that when the votes are counted in November, it will be found that the number of ex-officers in the house has been materially increased.

Only Ex-SERVICE Men Wanted.
When Edward Blinn, millionaire merchant of Chicago, wants help in his lumber yards, he sends to the American Legion. His employment offices have been instructed to hire only veterans of the war in the yards. Blinn is the donor of a beautiful hospital at Maywood, Ill.

LAKE-TO-RIVER PROJECT WINS

House Passes the River and Harbor Division of the Army Bill

TO USE $325,000 FOR INQUIRY

$900,000 For Improvement of Allegheny River Struck Out On Account of Failure of Commissioners To Raise Bridges.

Washington, D. C.—The House passed the river and harbor division of the army bill, after increasing the total appropriations from $27,000,000 to $42,000,000, thus overruling the committee recommendations. This includes the $325,000 placed at the disposal of the chief of engineers with which to complete the surveys of the Great Lakes to the Ohio River Canal and for other purposes, for which Representative Guy E. Campbell rounded up the necessary support on the floor. According to assurances given to representatives from West-ern Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio by George Lansing H. Beach, chief of engineers, so much of this sum as may be needed will be used to complete the Pittsburgh-Lake Erie survey, once the Allegheny bridge question is settled.

As originally framed, the bill included an appropriation of $900,000 for the improvement of the Allegheny river, but this was stricken out by committee pursuant to the assertion by General Beach that in view of the failure of the Allegheny county commissioners to raise the bridges at Pittsburgh, it would be futile to spend money on the improvement of the river.

Washington.—Three boys aged 7, 8 and 11 years, now serving five-year prison terms for alleged burglary of a post office in West Virginia, will soon gain their liberty and be returned to their parents through the interest and intervention of the wife of the President, it was learned.

An investigation of their cases by the Department of Justice, which followed Mrs. Harding's intervention, disclosed an unusual set of circumstances which led to the imprisonment of these "youthful desperadoes." Officials said they never should have been sentenced, but since because of their parents' refusal to give up the money advanced for their release, the sentence was not commuted.
