GUIDES BIG HOSPITAL PLAN

William Pierce, Minnesota Legion Commander, Keeps Vow Made While Caring for Wounded.

A silent vow made four years ago by a soldier at a French debarkation point will soon be realized by the erection of a great memorial hospital.

William J. Pierce, now commander of the American Legion in Minnesota's first district, did not have the opportunity of risking his life in his country's defense.

An American Legion memorial hospital, whose doors will be perpetually open to any ex-service man from any part of the nation, is now under way.

PICTURES OF THE WORLD WAR

Fifty Photographers on Job, but View of Hardest Fighting Do Not Tell the Story.

During the Civil War photography was a new art. Only one man was on the job—Brady.

The very first ship that went over carrying General Pershing's orders carried a single man.

Although the photographs exist of a remarkable history, one of the disappointments has been that even the best of the battle pictures do not show the real danger because most of the hard fighting was done at dawn before the light was good enough.

During the whole war there was never a motion picture made of hand-to-hand fighting by the American troops.

Five thousand acres of land in Berkeley county, N. Y., will be returned by the American Legion as a living memorial to men who served in the war.

Paul Martin, Newspaper Man, State Commander, Son of Former Governor of Kansas.

Another newspaper man has risen high in American Legion affairs—Paul A. Martin, commander of the Legion in Michigan and editor of a paper in Battle Creek.

Martin comes of fighting stock. His father, the late ex-governor John A. Martin of Kansas, commanded the Eighth Kansas regiment as colonel in the eventful service seen by that outfit as part of the army of the Cumberland.

BONDY, GOOD LEGION 'KICKER'

New York Grievance Officer Has Settled Many Claims With Veterans' Bureau.

The divine right to kick is a prerogative of the American citizen. The U. S. soldier used to kick when he didn't like something—a trait which distinguished him from the stolid, satisfied Prussian.

Joseph Bondy, as grievance officer of the American Legion and war risk officer for Onondaga county, N. Y., hears thousands of kickers every year.

He is making a great deal of confidence in the ex-soldiers. He employs them in the departments of the city government and says that their work is satisfactory.

LEGION SEEKING LOST BOY

Widowed Mother Calls on the Organization to Aid in Finding Her Young Son.

The "lost and found" department of the American Legion usually has to work overtime. Every year the Legion has hundreds of calls to find some long-lost person, or to identify the remains of a wandering unfortunate who, through mental or physical disability, has forgotten who and what he is.

A new kind of appeal, from a widowed mother, has resulted in a call to every Legion state adjutant throughout the country to aid in the search for Walter H. Weyrauch, four-year-old son of the late Mrs. Weyrauch, who disappeared from his home in New York city last September.

The boy weighs about 135 pounds, is 5 feet 4 inches tall, and has sandy hair and blue eyes.

Applications for the Ohio state dues were handled through posts of the American Legion.

William found a pocketbook But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

The way a good many people found it to be with the coffee and cheer they thought they secured in tea and coffee.
