PARADE BY THE LOCAL SCHOLARS

Took Place This Afternoon. Boosting the Proposed Bond Issue.

The pupils of the Patton public schools, the high school and the Parochial schools, turned out in full this afternoon in a parade that started about one o'clock and lasted for about an hour and one-half. Numbering about fourteen hundred pupils and headed by a drum corps, the principal streets of Patton were traversed and banners galore were exploited favoring the proposed bond issue to be put before the voters of Patton Borough next Tuesday for the erection of a new High School building, to relieve the congested and inadequate condition now afforded the pupils in both the graded and High Schools.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the large parade were the many sign slogans in evidence, among them being the following:

"We are from the attic of the Good Building;" "A new High will cost no more per year than your cigar. Remember we help pay it;" "We've done our best you do the rest;" "If you vote Yes there will be no more overcrowding, we don't like it any more than you do;" "If we are willing to pay for it why shouldn't we have it;" "The key to success is education;" "Your child is today in high school tomorrow, do your best for her;" "Will you sentence your child to failure by refusing to support building a new High School;" "On our way to the new High School;" "We're paying $7,000 for streets? Why not for schools?" "We don't want to stop in the grades, we want that high school now;" "300 of us can use that high school right now;" "Give us the High School and we'll put Patton on the map;" "Where do I come in?" "Help, overloaded. Bond issue—the life boats;" "Eventually—why not now?;" "Scales of education;" "You know we need a high school, then be a sport, vote for the bond issue;" "Help, help, a new high school;" "We beat them at track-meets, we beat the nut ball, but we can't all sit in the assembly hall;" "Be wise, be true, for us, for you, bonds, bones, bonds;" "Give us some of your cents, you will get great returns;" "Effective work demands modern equipment;" "Patton's education will give it reputation;" "$25,000 you think is a lot, but a penny from your pocket, doesn't leave a spot;" "A new high school will help a great lot to give Patton power and wit;" "Every minute, every hour, Cherub nothing greater than power, we can have it if we try, build a first class Patton High," and scores of others.

IN MEMORY OF MR. PHILIP KIBLER

Who Died March 11th, 1922, Aged 65 Years.

Weep not for father, dear,
He is safe upon the land.
He smartly shows with Jesus,
Among the risen dead.
A home was vacant from us has gone.
A year we great is filled.
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
We on hear his voice no more.
He lies beneath the sod;
He now has gone to live above,
To reign in peace with God.

MRS. ANSELM AND FAMILY.

BAPTIST CHURCH

There is much to worry about these days. The times are hard, and relief seems far away yet. But amid all the perplexities and problems of the world there is one thing we can all have about us, money and without price. It is what the psalm writer expressed when he had left his daughter and with God's fullness, and yet said, "It is well with my Soul." In your distress, God we put His peace. This evening at the usual hour we invited to attend all the services at the Church. Come, and worship God in Sunday. Morning worship at 10:15 A. M. Evening worship at 7:30 P. M. Everybody welcome.
