BY ANDERSON H. WALTERS

The contest for the Republican nomination for Congress involves more than the success of myself or another. For the past eight years our party organization has not sought to dominate. It has not been a machine to force nominations. Our primaries have been free and open. No one man has been a boss.

If I am numinated I pledge every effort to prevent the formation of a party organization which will seek to control nominations. We have an open primary and we should see to it that conditions are not changed. The popular primary is the only safeguard against dictation, but we must not permit any set of men to form an organization to destroy that safeguard.

My candidacy is based upon a record-in the decommunity and in the Congress. That record has not been altacked. My opposition is from sources which demarated special consideration, special favors. A Representative of all the people cannot grant such favors.

I have no old scores to settle, nobody to get even with. I am not the candidate of a clique or faction. There will be no boss if i a mnominated. The issue is for a free and unboused party. The progressive Republicans won this right and we should not go back to the old system.
