KIDDIES SIX

By Will M. Maupin

WRITING IT AT HOME

A BUNCH of four—four happy kids
Check full of fun and pleasure.
All four a mighty big expense,
But every one a treasure.
And when I want it quiet like
So I can do my writing,
The noise that bunch begins to make
Sounds like two armies fighting.

One clambers over my machine;
One asks for help with "numbers";
One for my pencil makes demand;
One my tired knee encumbers.
"A dozen eggs cost forty cents,
What will three dozen cost?"
And by the time I work it out
My thread of thought is lost.

One sticky hand is reaching out
To grasp my chinking locks.
One piercing voice makes loud demand
For help with building blocks.
"My pencil's broke; please sharpen it
So I can write the rest—"
And then the thoughts I've garnered in
Are all knocked gaily west.

But when, at last, the sandman comes
And all four little heads
Are resting on the pillows white
Of two soft, downy beds;
And all is quiet 'round the house
Where once the noise did ring,
I start to write—and then can't think
Of a designated thing!

It is not only in New England that "blue laws" have prevailed. They were a part of the Calvinist religion,
and even that religion was forced,
in a measure, to compromise with the times. In Geneva, in the sixteenth century, people had to stop at five o'clock in summer and six in winter
under penalty of a fine; they were allowed but two glasses at their tables;
and not more than one fire was allowed in a house.

Duchess Stella de Lante

This is Duchess Stella de Lante, daughter of Duke De Lante, the head of one of the most ancient Italian families. She is the first duchess to appear in the parts of a film actress. The De Lante villa in Rome is one of the show places of the Eternal City.

"What in a Name?"
By MELBA MARSHALL
Fate chooses names in history;
Remember it our destiny;
Remember your lucky day
and lucky find!

FRANCES

FREEDOM is the significance of France, in name which is used interchangeably with only one letter's difference as masculine and feminine proper names. It is derived from the Teutonic "frid", curiously enough, made its first appearance in a near approach to its present form in Italy, where the name of an Italian merchant became so fixed as a French scholar that the baptismal name of Giovanni was lost to sight and he went by the term "Il Francese" (The Frenchman). It was this same youth who later was canonized and founded the order of the Franciscan brotherhood.

The first feminine form of the name was the title of the unhappy lady whose doom was so expensively told by Dante in his romance of "Paois and Francesca", which is one of the great love songs of literature. San Francesco himself was a devout devotee of the name, and his fame at Canossa.

Frances came into being through Mary Tudor, the daughter of Francis I, king of France, and in memory of her own lost rule on the throne of France, christened her first child Frances. She was the Lady Frances Brandon who substituted the name in the Tudor coat and made it forever popular in England.

Francis and Frances were both used as feminine names without distinction in those days and Frank was the diminutive bestowed exclusively on English maids. The wife of the duke of Richmond was called and history recalls that she would subdue her naughty pride on occasion by saying: "Frank, Frank, how long is it since thou wast named to Frances?" thus reminding her of an early companion with a vintage Lady Frances shirley was a famous English beauty whose baptismal name was undoubtedly Frances.

The epithet "Francis" tallented stone. It assures her successful accomplishment of any undertaking, preservation from evil, and faithful friends. Prizes her lucky day and seven her lucky number. The morning glory of contentment is her flower.

A LINE O' CHEER

By John Kendrick Bangs

FOR GROWTH
O UN space on the way may narrow,
And sudden events distract us and hinder,
The onward march to peace and victory
Upon which hope our honest spirits feed.
The turmoil and the tumult of the day
May scatter and their clamor lose belief,
But earth has space for roots of persistence,
And in God's hand the truest there's room to grow.
