Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRADEN BONNER

NICK AND NANCY
"Once a year," said Daddy, "we all like to have a talk and read our best wishes and our love to our many, many little friends all over the country."

"Oh yes," said Nick, "but most certainly do."
"Isn't it fun," said Nancy, "to think that though we cannot see all our friends, they know us through our papers, and we know so many of their letters we hear of the letters they write."

"We love to hear of the letters," Daddy said.
"Oh, yes," said Nancy, "and last year I remember we heard of so many children who asked all about us. They wrote in what they liked to do and what stories they liked best, and what they wanted to hear about next."

"We all share our stories, too, we can share them with all our friends. Some of them write and tell their friends about their best, and some write and tell that their stories were their favorites, and we write and tell that their stories were about our animals and some."

"Some said their favorite stories were about our animals and some."

"I rather like the story," said Nick, "of the funny, green, little beast I most admire I raise, the Porky myself!"

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

A Trying Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Phila., Pa.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I was weak, nervous, dizzy and had headaches. I was troubled in this way for two years and was hardly able to do my work. My friends advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am very sorry that I did not take it sooner. But I have got good results from it and am now able to do my housework most of the time. I recommend your medicine to those who have similar troubles. I do not like publicity, but if it will help other women I will be glad for you to use my letter."—Mrs. PATRICK ROBERTSON, 323 N. Holly St., Phila., Pa.

Another annoying symptom which comes at this time is an inability to recall names, dates or other small facts. This is liable to make a woman lose confidence in herself. She becomes nervous, avoids meeting strangers and desires to get out alone.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women at this time. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. Let it help carry you through this time of life. It is a splendid medicine for the middle-aged woman. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Allments Peculiar to Women" will be sent free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.
