RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Oddfellowship.

Working in manhood's prime and earnest youth.

In that sublimest, most exalting strife To show for a man, best friendship Love and Truth.

In Memory of Thomas H. Whitehead, who died December 22, 1921.

To let his sleep that precious sleep, our sorrow's chastening round, his head.

He comforted, he loved who lives, he lives with God—he is not dead.

Once again death has summoned a Brother and Fellow, and the Golden Gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit, "well done" from the Supreme Master.

And Whereas, The A. W. M. and Meritful Father has called our beloved and respected Brother home.

And Whereas, He having been a true and faithful Brother of our Mystic Order, therefore be it

Resolved, That Patton Lodge No. 1089, I. O. O. F., in testimony of her loss, tender to the family of the deceased brother our sincere condolence in this deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

WILLIAM G. CORRY, A. W. M.

A. K. KENNEDY, W. L. WOODS, Committee.

Green be his memory, in the Order's Heart.

He loved so well, through all his true life's span;

Blessed be his rest, who acted well his part.

Who honored God in doing good to all.

BAPTIST CHURCH, CHRISTMAS.

The Christmas services at the Baptist Church and at the Calvary Chapel were even more interesting than usual, which is saying a good deal, for these services are always very interesting.

The children and young people took their parts perfectly, and the large congregations enjoyed the programme exceedingly well.

The Christmas Eve service at the Calvary Chapel was held on Saturday night, and at the Patton Church on Sunday evening. A total of four hundred treats were distributed to the members of the schools.

The enthusiasm manifested in preparing for Christmas was this year in an indication of the splendid spirit in the schools, and a prophecy of great things in the New Year.

MODERN DAY MIRACLES

Synthetic Chemistry, After Learning the Secret of Making Royal Purple Succeeds in Producing All the Colors of the Rainbow

(Told in Eight Chapters) BY JOHN RAYMOND

No. V COLOR

In the dim pages of history when man first felt the desire for beauty, traders searched the world for dyestuffs, perfumes, spices, and precious stones. The risk of these voyages was great and only princes or nobles could afford the fruits of ventures to the far corners of the world. No man of humble origin could aspire to the rich, crimsoned lines, the Royal Purple of ancient Tyre, retaining at $400 a pound.

Royal Purple is an age-old dye of antiquity. This dye was extracted by a small shellfish on the Eastern coast of the Mediterranean and here the enterprising merchants of Tyre formed a dye monopoly equalled only by the German Cartel.

A bit of the whitish liquid secreted by this mollusk, if spread upon a costly purple and exposed to the air and sunlight turns first green, next blue and then to the same deep blue that may be seen today in museums, the winding streets of Egyptian mummies. It was an achievement to snatch its distinctive color from royalty and to rival the best vegetable indigo of the ancients, but modern chemistry has gone far beyond that. Today any kind of dye found in nature can be made in the laboratory. Indeed, among the 400 shades and colors being manufactured there are tints that it would be difficult to discern in the rainbow.

These colors all come from coal tar but after it is used in the manufacture of dyes, the residue is not wasted. The source of insulating material and the source of many of the drugs used in medicine are of inestimable worth to the industrial world.

In fact, the trial life of the modern world is made possible by the use of ancient synthetic dyes. The use of synthetic dyes is valuable because it produces colors of brilliant colors, and it is not so much for the color themselves but because they are produced in such vast quantities of many intermediate stages that the previous materials are of inestimable worth to the industrial world.

Achievements of Yesterday

Achievements of yesterday must be forgotten. A store, like an individual, cannot thrive upon achievements of the past. They must pass on into oblivion while our efforts are centered on accomplishing better work and supremacy.

The goal of this store during every minute of every business day is to do greater things in a better way, and with the beginning of the new year, it pledges itself to carry on always with the inspiration to further endeavor itself into the hearts of its patrons.

With grateful appreciation for that priceless asset, your good-will, which we cherish beyond measure, we seek to merit your continued confidence, and aim to serve you helpfully in the future. We heartily wish our old friends, our new friends, and those whose friendship we strive to deserve, unmeasured happiness and good fortune throughout the future years.

Very sincerely yours,
