State Completes New Map. HARRISBURG—Announcement of the completion of a topographic map which includes the city of Altoona in the territory covered was made by the Secretary of Internal Affairs James F. Woodward. The map was produced by the Bureau of Topographic and Geological Survey of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs working in co-operation with the U. S. Geological Survey. The area covered is a quadrangle about 17 1/2 miles long and 13 1/2 miles wide having a total area of approximately 225 square miles. The map includes most of Altoona on the South, Utahville on the north, the western limits of Tyrone on the east and Fallen Timber and Frugality on the west. The map covers a large section of Allegheny Mountain and part of Brush Mountain with the intervening Bald Eagle valley as well as a considerable section of plateau northwest of Allegheny Mountain. Parts of Clearfield, Centre, Cambria and Blair counties are included in the area. Copies of the new map can be obtained from the Director, U. S. Geological Survey, Washington, D. C. or from the Bureau of Topographic and Geological Survey, Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pa., at the cost of printing.

The map scale is one inch equals one mile and shows in black towns, houses, schools, churches, highways, railroads, and County and township lines. The streams are in blue. The contours in brown and show the exact shape and elevation of all the hills and valleys. It is possible to determine the distance between any two points exactly by scaling or the elevation above the sea level of any house or any other selected locality by reading the contours.

Mr. and Mrs. Good Were Absent When Fire Broke Out. HARRISBURG—A double funeral was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, when the bodies of two infant children of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Good, residing about two miles from this place, were laid to rest in the Melwood cemetery. The children, aged 3 years and 18 months respectively, were cremated when their home was burned to the ground in the absence of the parents last Saturday. Mr. Good was at work and Mrs. Good was at the home of a sister on an errand when the building took fire. Neighbors made an attempt to rescue the children, but were driven back by the flames. The oldest child had climbed into a bed when she discovered the flames; it was found, but the charred remains of the smallest were found in the kitchen, where both had been left by their mother. The origin of the blaze is not known, but it is believed that one of the children played around the kitchen stove and probably prostrate with grief and is quite ill. Mr. and Mrs. Good have no other children.

HARRISBURG—Auditor General Samuel G. Lewis set a new precedent in state affairs when he placed on the desks of each member of the house and senate a copy of the financial statistics of the state for the period from June 1, 1921, to Nov. 30, 1922. These copies were for the information of the legislators when they reconvene this evening at 9 o'clock. This was done to acquaint them with the sources of revenue and the total collected in each county.

State revenues collected by Cambria county officials during that period are included in the following items: Tax on writs, $8,708.12. Resident transfer inheritance tax, $70,248. Direct inheritance tax, $381.66. Collateral inheritance tax, $3,136. Retail mercantile licenses, $84,919.53. Wholesale mercantile licenses, $18,071.54. Billiard licenses, $10,698.28. Brokers' licenses, $1,991.70. Auctioneers' licenses, $9,500. Peddler's licenses, $342. Amusement licenses, $1,560.02. Eating house licenses, $1,125.72. Resident Hunter's licenses, $21,006. Non-resident hunter's licenses, $28,500. Resident fish licenses, $4,446. Non-resident fish licenses, $19. Dog licenses, $11,997.25. Total amount collected by county officers, $239,888.84.

Amount of gasoline tax from Cambria county collected from Sept. 1, 1921, to Nov. 30, 1922, was $57,263.05 and the amount returned to August 1, 1922, was $16,201.20.

EBENSBURG—The charter for the Sannobanna Country Club was granted Monday and the prothonotary was directed to enter it as such on the docket of the county.

A married reader sends us the following dialogue. He doesn't say so, but we suspect it was a personal experience. "Robert," said his wife as she heard him come in, "did you forget those things I told you to bring home from the store?" "No, dear. This is one time I carried out your instructions to the letter. Here's the whole business." "Oh, isn't that aggravating! I've changed my mind about wanting them. I was so sure you'd forget, as usual. One can never depend upon a man!" —Boston Transcript. Is It So Here? There's a certain place in every town where a certain group gathers round in a certain room in a certain floor. And a certain key in a certain door. And a certain word if it's plainly heard. In a certain way, by a certain bird, will bring a certain result, they say. That's certainly good, in a certain way. And a certain fellow will tell you why. If he knows, you know that he knows you know.
