Finegan Proposes New Class.
HARRISBURG—Pending introduction of legislation tending toward the ability and effort plan in apportioning school subsidies, Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, superintendent of public instruction announced the legislative program he is preparing will provide for a creation of an additional class of school districts to be known as the fifth class, to take in all of the poorer districts, with a view to obtaining greater state aid for them than is now provided.
 Under the Edmonds act, first class districts receive, from the state 25 per cent of the amount necessary to pay teacher's salaries; and fourth class districts, 50 per cent. The new class is to receive 75 per cent of the amount of teachers' salaries. There are a number of school districts in the state where the raising of money for teachers' salaries is a great burden on their citizens because of the low population and valuation in the district. It is held to be only fair that the state should render such districts greater financial aid than others and it is for this purpose that the new class is to be established. The difference between this plan and the ability and effort plan which the governor is said to favor is that the Finegan legislation does not propose to aid the poorest districts at the expense of those most able to get along without state help. The ability and effort plan contemplates that districts in which the greatest efforts are made to develop schools to a high standard and funds on which taxes can be levied are lowest, are the ones which should receive the most assistance.

A Cheerful, Handsome Home

The Naranja—Design A-605

Before investing one's savings in a home and arranging to pay therefor by installments over a period of several years, it is wise to examine the home very thoroughly. It is cheaper to own than to rent, when your house is built of brick.

permanent construction before the house is paid for. In other words, the less permanent house actually costs more than the brick house, although the sale or contract price may be less. It is cheaper to own
 built of brick.

 cow. Mr. Helsel has two other Holsteins which have broken monthly records both in milk production and
