YOUNG MOTHER TOOK HYPO-COD, NOW WELL

She Was Weak and Nervous Until She Started Taking Hypo-Cod

Mrs. G. J. Stauder of 234 Foreland St., Pittsburgh, writes, "After my baby was born I was in a very weak and run-down condition. I had a headache all the time and such a tired feeling that I could not possibly manage my own work. Several of my friends told me that I needed Hypo-Cod, that they knew it would help me. After taking four bottles I feel like a different woman. All my tired feeling has left me as well as my aches and pains. I am stronger than I have been for many, many days and I now find my work a pleasure. Every mother should know the health building qualities of this great tonic. If they suffer as I did, they will be very grateful for this acknowledgment of what Hypo-Cod did for me. You will find Hypo-Cod easy and pleasant to take with a wine-like flavor that is agreeable to the most delicate palate. It is helping thousands and thousands of Pittsburgh people to regain their health and strength, who are weak and run-down. We urge you to get a bottle of this powerful health-building tonic today from your druggist or send it to the Earle Chemical Company of Wheeling, W. Va., for a full sized bottle to be sent you prepaid. Advertisement.

Up to the Dogs. "As this is a government repair shop, I suppose the government will be willing to employ, say, three dogs to keep the rats down," said Brown. "I think so. How shall we pay them?" asked Jones. "I was considering a scale to run something like this: To the best dog, three bones per diem; to the next best, two; to the third best, one bone," commented Brown. "An excellent idea. It affords a chance for promotion, always an incentive to faithful work. But how shall we tell which is the best dog?" "The dogs can decide that."

A Disappointed Lot. A wealthy man visited a school and gave an address. When he was through he called a little boy up to him and said: "My lad, have you a purse?" "No, sir." "I'm sorry," said the rich man. "You had had I have given you half a dollar to put into it." The same man was scheduled to speak there again the following month, and when he came the boys were prepared for him; an empty purse lay hidden in every pair of trousers. And sure enough at the end of his speech he called another boy up to him. "Have you a purse, little man?" "Yes, sir." "If you had it, I should have given you half a dollar to buy me a—Transcript.

Makes a Difference. Veronica-Harry clapped his hands when I was starting. "Over his ears!" Man wants to discover his origin, but it is doubtful if there is any mystery in it.

Obviously Not Bill Tilden. "Is Bill much of a tennis player?" "No; he is singularly bad in doubles, and doubly bad in singles!"

Checks Total Five Miles. Joseph B. LeCompte, the official check signer of the state treasury, notwithstanding his work on a mileage basis. The treasury is sending out something like 50,000 checks a month, including the highway department payrolls and each check has to be signed. The checks run something like six inches in length and 10,000 checks mean about a mile. The October 15 payroll which got tangled up with the controversy over "reclassified" salaries was so delayed that it was barely out of the way when papers for the November payroll came along.

State Official Convalescent. Frank Haller, one of Auditor General Lewis' constitutional experts, to whom are referred various questions as to law, codes and probeta, is slowly improving in a Harrisburg hospital from effects of being struck by an automobile while leaving a trolley car.

Lynch to Retire. The coming retirement of Thomas J. Lynch after 24 years of service in the executive, state and water supply departments, has brought to the Northampton county lawyer a number of letters from people he had clean forgotten. As executive clerk to three governors and as secretary of the water board, Mr. Lynch was in contact with many people, and after two years some have taken the trouble to thank him for courtesies shown.

Receipts Cause Comments. Statements of the vice of state receipts have been causing numerous letters to descend upon State Treasurer Charles A. Snyder, asking about appropriations of every kind from schools to hospitals and just plain bills. It is not generally recognized that because of the state of appropriations made by the last Legislature, the payrolls and the current demands, to say nothing of education, the state will not be in much improved financial shape until the profits tax commission to work.
