A FEELING OF SECURITY WHEN YOU USE SWAMP-ROOT

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit-producing drugs. Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder medicine. The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root. It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs. It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses. It is not recommended for everything. It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to try this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing, be sure and mention this paper—Advertisement.

End of National Debt

Secretaries of the treasuries of the United States and of Colombia living in 2024 will have the pleasant task of paying off the national debts of their countries without asking the citizens to dig up a cent—that is, provided the Banco Mercantil de Bogota or a successor is ready to come across with the $5,574,523,932.30 that will theoretically be due to the United States and Colombia under the terms of a deposit of $10 recently made in that bank by Henry G. Grainger of Bogota to secure the spirit of thrift. The contract between the bank and the depositor calls for the payment of compound interest at the prevailing rate for 1,000 years, when the total is to be split fifty-fifty between the United States and Colombia.

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Time to Quit

A very decided voice called up the club and asked: "Is my husband there?"
"Yes," replied an attendant.
"Playing poker?"
"Yes."
"Is he ahead of the game?"
"About two hundred, I think."
"Tell him to come right home."

The KITCHEN CABINET

The golden poppy is God's gold. The gold that lifts, soothes and eases. The gold that knows no miser's hoard. The gold that banks not to the town. But singing, laughing, freely. Far up the happy hills. Far up, far down, at every turn—What hoarder has not gold to burn. —Joseph Miller.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Even in small homes with simple furnishings and equipment it is always wise to keep a small note book with the contents of every closet, drawer and storeroom inventoried. In case of sudden illness, when strangers must handle one's possessions, it is a source of much comfort. Even the most active memory will not always recall in a hurry the exact article wanted. Place bags that have lists of contents, or a label will save rummaging for priceless minutes for something not there.

At this time of the year, when we overhaul the household goods, many of us harden our hearts and put aside things saved for years and pass them on to someone who can use and enjoy them. Children of today are so surfeited with toys that one hesitates to add to the general chaos; but often the little bits of leftover lace, silks and knick-knacks which have been cast aside will prove a great pleasure to some little child who loves to dress her doll. Keep a box for such accumulations and pass them on when the occasion presents.

Another household convenience is a card index. One may use this for the inventory and another for recipes. Have a set for leftovers. For example, what may be done with tomato in varying quantities; it will surprise you how many delightful dishes you can prepare with even one-half cupful, and other things.

THE TENDER PEAS

Peas are one of our most valuable vegetable proteins. They take the place of meat in the diet, and when dressed with cream and butter are sufficiently nourishing to be served as a main dish.

Green Pea Soup

—Take one pint of green peas, a quart of chicken stock, six small onions, parsley, a small bunch of mint, a handful of spinach, two tablespoons of tarragon and a teaspoonful of salt. Wash the peas, parsley and mint, add the peas to the stock with the other vegetables and cook until soft. Put all through a sieve and reheat. Season well with butter and serve hot.

Peas and Peanuts Salad

—Take two cupfuls of cooked green peas, one cupful of peanuts coarsely chopped, one-half cupful of olives, finely minced, a bit of onion and mayonnaise. Season with salt and cayenne pepper and serve on lettuce.

Peas and Peppers

—Take the tops from six peppers, remove the seeds and soak in a strong brine overnight. Moisten with liquor from the can of peas, fill the shells with one-half cupful each of minced meat, bread crumbs and one cupful of peas. Season with onion juice, salt, pepper and a spoonful of thick cream. Bake until the peppers are tender. Serve hot.

Pea Souffle

—Cook a pint of peas until soft; if they are not sweet add a teaspoonful of sugar as they cook. Put through a sieve, add two tablespoons of butter, a pint of milk, the yolks of three eggs and season to taste. Mix all together and fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake twenty minutes.

Canned green peas

seasoned and swimming in cream make a most appetizing dish which is especially fitting and nutritious. These may be carried hot in the thermos if desired, or reheated just before serving.

SICK WOMAN MADE HAPPY

Entirely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mart, Texas.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to build me up as I was all run-down, nervous, sick, and had all over so that I was often compelled to go to bed, and I had to have most of my work done. No medicine seemed to help me until one of my neighbors who was taking the Vegetable Compound insisted on me trying a bottle of it. The medicine worked me from the first, and the best of all is that I can even see again without that awful, nervous feeling I was used to having. And I used to take crying spells, with such a blue feeling that I cannot explain. Now all that has left me. I feel so cheerful, and I have gained in weight, sleep well and eat hearty. Oh! I wish I had words to express what this medicine has done for me! I am a housekeeper and do everything from the sewing to the washing now and it doesn't hurt me. You may use my letter in any way you wish. I will be glad to help any suffering woman to the road of health and happiness." —Mrs. B. F. BRANSON, 604 Travis Ave., Mart, Texas.

Doubtful Compliment

Children often understand the purpose of remarks which they chance to overhear, especially if made concerning them, though the literal meaning of the words may not be grasped. This, evidently, had been the case with Martha, the four-year-old daughter of C. A. Jewett, for after he had offered thanks at dinner one evening recently, Martha unfolded her small hands, and looking up to mother with about as much of admiration and affection as a child's face could express, and plainly wishing to say something nice of daddy, made this rather unexpected comment: "Mother, isn't daddy a perfect little devil!"

One pair of heels is often worth two pairs of hands to some folks.

You know not what you can or cannot effect until you try.
